In fact, according to a recent study, almost half of all people have wondered this at some point in their lives. So, if you're looking for a way to figure out who has a crush on you, here are ten best ways to do it. 1. Look out for signs that someone might be interested in you. This might include sending you romantic messages, being overly affectionate, or pursuing you in a way that seems out of the ordinary. 2. Ask someone out. This might be the easiest way to figure out who has a crush on you, especially if the person is someone you know well. Just be sure to take things slow and be prepared for a response. 3. Watch for subtle clues. If someone repeatedly compliments you or pays attention to you in a way that seems too friendly, it might be a sign that they have a crush on you. 4. Be observant. If someone seems to be watching you or following you around, it might be a sign that they have a crush on you. 5. Check your social media profiles. If someone you know has been posting a lot of pictures or videos of you, it might be a sign that they have a crush on you. 6. Ask your friends. If they know who the person with a crush on you is, they might be able to give you a hint. 7. Pay attention to your feelings. If you're not sure whether the person with a crush on you is serious about them or not, it might be a good idea to take things slow. 8. Talk to a therapist. If you're not sure what to do or how to proceed, talking to a therapist might be a good idea. 9. Get a love reading. If you're feeling lost or unsure about what to do, getting a love reading might be a good solution. 10. Trust your gut. Your Child's First Crush - What It Means and How To Talk About It - Cynthia Malu 2012-03-04

ABOUT THE BOOK From the giggly four-year old who proclaims that he wants to marry his teacher to the pre-teen who gushes over the cute boy who sits next to her in class, your child's first crush is a new frontier, and its best to prepare yourself long before it happens. As a parent, you can take an active part in helping your child navigate his or her romantic feelings. To be a positive part of your child's first experience with puppy love, the most important thing you can do is help your child feel comfortable communicating with you. A crush is no more than an infatuation. Unlike a true romantic relationship, when two individuals acknowledge their deep feelings for one another, a crush is often a one-sided attraction. When children have a crush, they are not focused on loving the object of their affection as an entire person, flaws and all. Instead, they build up a fantasy of sorts in their minds, and spend time daydreaming about what it would be like to be together. EXCERPT FROM THE BOOK Try to find out how your child's crush is responding to him. Ask him if his crush talks to him at school. This will help you gauge the level of intensity and the direction things are headed. If his crush returns his feelings, he may be on the verge of a relationship. While you won't be able to change the eventual outcome of your son's crush, you can guide him as he navigates the unfamiliar waters of romantic feelings. The way you approach the subject will depend on your child's age. For a young child, be positive but truthful when you talk about the crush. Explain that it's normal to have strong feelings for people when you like their looks and behavior, but make sure your child knows that it's not necessary to act on those feelings. Guide him or her in making appropriate decisions. For instance, if your daughter wants to give a gift to a boy she likes on Valentine's Day, help her choose something that won't be overwhelming for either party. If the object of your young child's affection is an adult, don't be overly concerned. According to Dr. Laura Rucker, a pediatric physician, children often experience their first crush on a celebrity or an adult they find attractive. This behavior is normal, and as a child grows older, he or she will become interested in peers his or her own age... Buy a copy to keep reading! I just thought that he was a high-quality man, and I used to be satisfied to have the ability to talk to him. However, the more time I spent speaking to him, the greater I found out that I used to be interested in him. In the beginning, I tried to push it away because i didn't need to get hurt again. But, I found out that it was virtually vital to me to find someone who made me feel happy. So, I decided to take the hazard and go out with him. The outcomes had been splendid. I'm happier than I have ever been, and I think that it's due to the fact I'm sooner or later able to be myself around him. If you're feeling lost or do not know what to do subsequently, I advocate you strive to speak to a person you're drawn to. It won't be the perfect thing within the international. The 48 Laws of Power - Robert Greene 2000-09-01

Amoral, cunning, ruthless, and instructive, this multi-million-copy New York Times bestseller is the definitive manual for anyone interested in gaining, observing, or defending against ultimate control - from the author of The Laws of Human Nature. In the book that People magazine proclaimed "beguiling" and "fascinating," Robert Greene and Joost Elffers have distilled three thousand years of the history of power into 48 essential laws by drawing from the philosophies of Machiavelli, Sun Tzu, and Carl Von Clausewitz and also from the lives of figures ranging from Henry Kissinger to P.T. Barnum. Some laws teach the need for prudence ("Law 1: Never Outshine the Master"), others teach the value of confidence ("Law 28: Enter Action with Boldness"), and many recommend absolute self-preservation ("Law 15: Crush Your Enemy Totally"). Every law, though, has one thing in common: an interest in total domination. In a bold and arresting two-color package, The 48 Laws of Power is ideal whether your aim is conquest, self-defense, or simply to understand the rules of the game.
