LAW, CUSTOM AND PROPERTY RIGHTS AMONG THE ĀMA/NYIMAJ OF THE NUBA MOUNTAINS IN THE SUDAN Hunud Abia Kadouf 2013-06-13 This book is based on an extensive field work in which the author tried to study the customary law of property of an African agrarian tribal community of Ama - also known as Nyima? - of the Nuba Mountains in the northern Sudan. The writer has tried to explain the nature of property holding in the light of the people's philosophy evidenced in their social structure and their traditional beliefs. Special attention is paid to the traditional structure of political leadership in this highly segmented society that was prone not only to inter-tribal wars but was also in a constant 'fission and fusion' among themselves when not at war with other neighboring tribes. In discussing jurisdictional issues, and traditional settlement mechanisms based partly on law and custom, both adopted by this egalitarian society, the study is made currently relevant by keen observation on the effect of modernity on traditional ethics and morality of the Ama society that was once described by some authors as being 'impervious to foreign influence'. Furthermore, the reception and assimilation of the state law together with the Shari'ah laws in various areas such as that relating to property devolution, family institution, and burial rites is treated as being of great significance in the overall development of the tribal customary laws. Like any other Nuba tribe, the consciousness of the Ama people of their ethos of identity marks their ferociously guarded customs and traditions prevalent up-to-date. The book is not only a precious academic endeavor full of keen observations, in depth study and analysis of tribal customary laws of property; but is also a memoir for the author to commemorate formidable tribal group of the Ama people in the Nuba Mountains of the Sudan.

Biarritz Beach/Resurrection of a Divorced Woman Carolyn Scanze Giglio 2009-10-05 In the fifties, it took a lot of courage for a Catholic woman to get a divorce. That is what Julee Novak Chusack did. She divorced Stanley, the man who promised her everything. A good decent life and family. He cheated on her from the first year of their marriage. He never held a job long enough for her to feel secure that he would be able to support a family. Trying to forget the religious disgrace of being a divorced woman, Julee and her best friend, Ellen, who recently separated from a long term courtship, decided they needed to get away. What better place to forget the two poor excuses for men, than a vacation in Europe. A chance meeting with Ruby and her mother, Mrs. Romanoffski, a bona-fide gypsy, proved to be the high-light of their vacation plans. After a tea leaf reading, and two week's of fun, it was easy to change their scheduled plans. They soon found they loved Europe and the people. They also found, when their vacation time was up, it was difficult to leave. It was quite possible their new admirers could be the men in their future. They needed time to find out if the fascination was real. Long Island is a long way from Italy.

Divorce and Remarriage Among Muslims in India Imtiaz Ahmad 2003 Divorce is usually studied in terms of two distinct perspectives. One focuses on the procedure laid down for giving the seal of final authority to a divorce. The other explores the processes that are set in motion once the stability of a marriage is threatened. The latter perspective does not see divorce in isolation but treats it in the wider context of social structure. When divorce in Muslim communities is discussed, the tendency quite often is to place theology and law at the centre. This book recognizes that divorce in Muslim communities entails substantial theological and legal dimensions, but takes as its point of departure the view that it is only by placing divorce in the social and cultural context that meaningful conclusions can be arrived at. It examines, in the light of empirical evidence, the incidence of divorce and separation, the social and other causes due to which divorce and separation takes place, and the position of divorced women in society as well as their prospects of remarriage. In the process substantial methodological and theoretical questions relevant to the study of divorce as a social phenomenon are raised. The book has an immediate practical aim as well. Muslim law of divorce, particularly the provision of triple divorce, which vests a unilateral right in the husband to pronounce a summary divorce upon his wife, has been the subject of considerable controversy. Essentially, the papers brought together in this book are sociological analyses of divorce and remarriage among Muslims in India and the data thrown up as part of these analyses should clear some points in the controversy.

Divorce 2 Divorce Alok Kr 2011-08-24 DIVORCE 2 DIVORCE Your Heart in your Home As a human being, it is our right to use and enjoy every moment of our life on the Earth utilizing all the resources available with us. But, at the same time, rights are rights if we are always mindful of our duties ensuring the quality and quantity of life for ourselves and the upcoming generations. The book is a humble, humane and sincere attempt to share some of the thoughts and processes on the current state of affairs facing our human life on the mother Earth. It is not possible for the author to bring out all facts and aspects of human life here in this book. The book consists of the following chapters. CHAPTER 1 BREATHLESSNESS CHAPTER 2 HOME CHAPTER 3 DIVORCE CHAPTER 4 MARRIAGE CHAPTER 5 DECISION POINTS PREFACE has some feelings that are impossible to ignore and compelling to experience. I think our freshness, of mind, body and character, should be a necessary ingredient in our daily life as well. That will keep us committed, dedicated and motivated to whatever we do or are required to do. This is all the more needed in our marital life too. Freshness and Intensity in the beginning of our job or relationship endear us to people around. We will carry ourselves to the fruition of our endeavours if we are able to not only maintain but rather reinforce it during the course of our journey into that job or relationship. How do we do that? Inside each one of us, there is an invisible thing called FILTER and we need to discover and activate that. Women are another important creature that provides freshness in our human lives. Without them, I think, this world has no meaning. They are the elixir, rather the world itself, for a number of individuals and families. The most beautiful aspect of their life is they don't carry anything to their next birth or life. They pay back their debts to the Mother Earth by giving births and fulfill their debt burden. If we follow closely and properly, we are taught a number of lessons out of their existence. As males, we do not have this facility to pay back the debts that we owe to our Mother Earth. We can do that but only by doing something good and benignant to our Mother Earth by saving our (re)sources. Let us leave it to the choice of each of our brethren living with us. Right since my childhood I am carrying a belief that each one of us living here on the earth carries some purpose of life. I hope I am not wrong and am able to carry it to the last breathe of my life. That encourages me to not consider any individual disrespectfully and take him/her not only seriously but also evince proper interest to encourage achieving more and more in his/her life. I think that is what we try to address through our Individual or Corporate Social Responsibility and Inclusive Growth. So many people around us are always our sources of inspiration and help us learn and unlearn every single moment of our life. If we really want to improve the quality of our lives, we should have contagious desire to learn from the mistakes committed by others rather than committing the same mistake ourselves. Some important things key to our existence on the Mother Earth I am going to share now. 5 things external, present in our nature, and 5 things internal, inside our bodies, we must take care of to lead a durable life of satisfaction and achievement. Please do have a guess! What are they? ASFEW i.e. Air, Sky, Fire, Earth and Water are the 5 most important external things and THEEN i.e. Tongue, Hands, Eyes, Ears and Nose are the 5 most important internal things. Can anyone dispute the importance of these 10 elementary things? Probably not! It goes without saying that we must not only take care of these 10 things but also employ them judiciously and cost-effectively. BREATHLESSNESS "There will be plenty of time to sleep when you are dead. Life is for living. So wake up and perform". (Benjamin Franklin) This chapter throws open, boisterously, a number of issues that are dogging the humanity most today and crying for a humane approach, outlook and adoption to arrive at the positive exit doors to carve out a living which the human civilization is famous for, for countless centuries. How, through our approach, we can create illustrious personalities today, like in the past and continue showing the generations that nothing is impossible provided we possess an unending desire to bring about a benignant change. HOME This chapter puts light on the importance and meaning on our homes. What do they mean for us on this mother earth? Why is it so valuable? Why, all through our lives, do we crave for a home of our own? Why is it so necessary for us, our children and our relatives? What shall be our fate if we do not have a home consisting of four walls? Whether the home is only the four walls or something more? Who makes a home a home and how? DIVORCE This chapter helps us understand the true meaning and effects of separating or getting separated from our respective life partners in a simple and straightforward way. In our English dictionary, Divorce comes before Marriage but in our Human life, Divorce comes after Marriage. What can we do to avoid it and enjoy the fruits of togetherness and liveliness in our respective lives. MARRIAGE This chapter highlights the importance of marriage in our life and what it means for us. Why does everybody long for marriage in his or her life? If one is not married in ones life, what one is missing? What kind of license is marriage? Why does it make a man a man and a woman a woman? Why are we incomplete before marriage? Why did God create a culture called Marriage? Why have we been following this tradition without questioning it? To get answers to all these questions, my suggestion is to lay your hands on a copy of the book and go through it. DECISION POINTS "Be the change you want to see in the World". (Mahatma Gandhi) The only advice here will be to go through the book to be living Happy Advivum. Afterword says Home is where the Heart is! Additionally, it helps the book end on a promising and positive note that if we really care for ourselves, then nothing is going to deter us from achieving our goals that we keep near and dear to our heart and cherish for our children. It helps one go through some of the very simple facts, but all important ones, of life that we tend to forget. It says; The Almighty has provided us with 2 ears and 1 mouth. It means we should Think twice before we Speak, or Speak less and Listen more. Less said is always better than saying too much. That leaves the audience with unsaturated hunger and too many options to ponder over. This will inculcate in us a sense of Accountability that will not only allow us to perform our duties judiciously but also vests in us the much needed right to ask for a more purposeful well-being. I leave it to the wisdom of the readers of my book to evaluate, judge and then do the needful. The theory of Supply and Demand works everywhere, not only in Economics. Like it is said that for a market to sustain healthy and durable, there has to be a Seller and a Buyer. And both must take care of each other for the market to sustain forever. Similarly, if we know the mechanism of matching expectations, then we shall be the extremely successful people. How much should we expect from others and how much should we encourage others to expect from us? I think our common sense and prudence coupled with our education will play an important role here. Love, and to be loved, is what we die for. We grow up for the same. To be living with love is another great achievement in our life. In love alone, we do not come across any boundary. It enables us to live a complete and fruitful life. It teaches us great lessons of life that we, otherwise, may not be able to learn at all. It gives you shocks and after-shocks as well. It gives you floods, droughts, earthquakes, tsun

Divorced Girl Smiling Jackie Pilossoph 2013-11-23 Smile! It's not just the end of your marriage, it's the beginning of your second chance! Missy Benson has a two and a half carat diamond engagement ring with color grade H, VS2 clarity and a value of $36,000. It's absolutely gorgeous, practically flawless, and let's be honest, really big! But what the successful Chicago realtor doesn't have anymore is a husband. After 12 years of marriage, her husband, Paul, a handsome, wealthy attorney has devastated her by breaking up their marriage for Priscilla Sommerfeld, a young, personal trainer, who according to Missy's sassy assistant, J.J., looks more like a Las Vegas stripper than a fitness expert. Not sure what to do with her ring, and with no financial issues to worry about, Missy decides to put it up for sale on Craigslist. The price: 99 cents! The catch: She gets to pick the buyer. In essence, she's looking for the perfect guy, but not for herself. Her hope is to regain faith that good men do exist, and that marriages can last forever. Now referring to herself as "the divorced girl," Missy interviews dozens of young men who are vying for the huge ring. It's a contest that includes outrageous characters, hilarious and sentimental stories, and two finalists, both of whom Missy adores and who she must choose between. Then there's Parker Missoni, the sexiest contestant by far, who drives her crazy with his brutal honesty, and at the same time stops her heart with his deep brown eyes. Divorced Girl Smiling is the story of a woman's journey to do whatever it takes to heal herself from divorce. It's about acceptance, reflection, taking accountability for mistakes, and appreciating all of life's wonderful gifts. In other words, if you have the guts to put the past behind, admit your mistakes, embrace your future, and give love another chance, you will surely be a divorced girl smiling.

Dating After Divorce Liga Saltupe 2020-02-07 Dating After Divorce: A Woman's Guide to Finding Herself First This is your handbook for finding your inner self and changing your relationships pattern after divorce. It will help you see yourself as a worthy and lovable woman just as you already are. There are three chapters that cover: 10 emotions you might deal with when you're single and looking for love 10 types of men you'll meet while dating online 10 questions to ask yourself before starting a new, serious relationship Plus, there are more than 20 practical coaching exercises that will help you recover from pain and find love again. A break-up or divorce is like a fire that destroys everything in your house. Once the fire's out, now what do you do? How do you live on? Do you continue to live with the same standards and build the same house again? Or, do you recognize what went wrong and examine what you need to do differently in order to build a new, better house that won't burn down? Your first serious job after divorce is to heal your inner self and recreate yourself exactly as you want to be. The dating process can help you do that. Dating is like a shopping mall where you can buy it all. But what do you want to get? And what can you afford to buy? The main point of dating at this stage is to start seeing yourself as an adult and mature woman. The main point of dating after divorce is not to find a new partner. That shocks most people because they see dating as a way to find a new relationship. But it's absolutely clear that unless you change yourself as a person, you'll choose a partner and a relationship pattern that are exactly the same as the previous ones. Your second job after divorce is to recognize your existing paradigm of relationships, or the so-called "relationship model," and modify it according to your desires. Chapter 1 You'll read about the emotions that you may face while dating. Whatever these emotions are, you should learn how to recognize and manage them. Be aware of them the moment they appear, and learn to control yourself until they're gone. Chapter 2 These are the ten main types of men--or more precisely, male dating behaviors--that you may run into. The descriptions of these personas provide insight into a man's intentions toward you and what you can expect from him. Remember: There are no good or bad types of men. There are only men who are or are not suitable for you at certain stages of your life. Also, every man can behave differently with different women. Basically, it's the woman who determines how a man will treat her! Chapter 3 This chapter helps you with self-analysis. I hope you use it to see more clearly what your needs are right now, and what your nearest and most distant relationship goals are. Each section focuses on practical exercises that help you find out what areas need improvement before you can move toward a serious, long-term relationship. At the end, I want to emphasize that, no matter what the plot is, there's only one princess in every story! It's your story. It's my story. Let's make it the best one possible!

A Cougar's Guide to Getting Your Ass Back Out There Karen Poter 2015-06-09 This is an extremely important book for today's generation of women who are single, divorced or widowed, looking at the dating scene and asking themselves "What am I supposed to do now?" Poter's re-definition of the word "Cougar" as no longer being the predatory jungle animal some define the Cougar but as strong, unique and powerful creatures who can make their own choices about their lives that reflect who they are today. The author's personal history is very compelling and adds to the easy readability of this terrific book. Her insights are spot on and her advice is comprehensive and detailed even as she states what should be obvious but isn't always: "No married men" or "No texting while on a date." The book is also filled with real-life examples and clever sayings that bring it all home and put everything about the incredibly complex and confusing dating scene into something we can understand and relate to. In particular, check out the sections on "Lessons Learned" and "Red Flags." Learn the importance of changing yourself first before jumping into a new relationship.

Domestic Violence in Iran Zahra Tizro 2013-06-17 This book offers a new methodological and theoretical approach to the highly sensitive and complicated issue of violence against women in contemporary Iran. Challenging the widespread notion that secularisation and modernisation are the keys to emancipating women, the author instead posits that domestic violence is deeply rooted in society and situated in the fundament of current discourses. Investigating how orthodox jurisprudence as mainstream discourse, together with social, legal and public norms, help to perpetuate the production and reproduction of physical, psychological, sexual and economical violence against women, the author presents and reflects upon narratives, experiences and the social realities accounting for domestic violence against women. Drawing on qualitative empirical research, she theorises that the notion of secularization and modernisation helping to overcome such violence is to some extent represented by Islamic feminism, secular feminism, and religious intellectualism, all of which are methodologically examined in the analysis. Challenging conventional wisdom regarding women's place in Iran and in wider Islamic society, this book offers a new insight into violence against Muslim women and as such will be an important addition to the existing literature in the areas of gender studies, Middle Eastern and Islamic studies, and Iranian studies.
