Male Reluctant Breeding Erotica Francis Ashe 2013-12-08 On a long, rambling road trip to spread her wings after college, curvy and innocent Alyssa has just about given up on finding anyone who will love her for who she is. Little does she know that in a dusty town off the side of the road, Alyssa will walk straight into exactly the man she never expected. When Will Eckhart, sheriff and secret werewolf alpha, first lays eyes on Alyssa, he knows she's something special. Something about her eyes, her scent, and the way she walks puts a fire right in his belly. But, he knows that if he's going to mark her as his mate, she's going to have to survive the pack first. Wild passion, feral need, muscled werewolves and a towering, intensely powerful alpha fill these pages... and every desire Alyssa has ever had. This is an explicit read meant for audiences 18+ EXCERPT: "I... I need... you... can't stop thinking... scent," the man behind the door growls. I can hardly get my mind off of the sheriff, off those eyes and that smoldering gaze. I try my best to clear my head, but my best efforts just end with my muscles clenching slow, tight, between my legs. "If I let you in, what will happen?" A snorting sound meets my ears, and then a rumbling growl. "Let... me in... or I'll break... door..." "How do I know you're not going to hurt me? Or kill me? Or...?" The voice doesn't answer, but a pounding fist on the door does. I hear the wood rattling on the hinges, squeaking slightly under the insistent banging. Then, the noise all stops. For one brief moment, there's no sound, no breathing, no scratching. "Are you still there?" I ask, surprised at how hopeful my voice sounds. This is no fantasy, I know, there's actually someone out there wanting in, but... "hello?" I call again. The moment stretches into eternity. There's only silence. Then, just as I'm adjusting to the quiet, a growl, and what can only be a shoulder crashing into the door jolts me back to reality. He pulls away and the next second, smashes back into the door, this time bashing it

Though the room is dark - lit only by the moon's pale yellow glow, I think I can see two slightly different colored eyes peering at me through the blackness. "Sheriff?" I ask, "Is that you?"

Soon, you will take my... my seed. But first, my sons must induct you into the..." he turned his head, coughing wildly before he turned back. "To the pack. You will become one of us, your soul must be a wolf before you can hold my," he stopped just short of telling me exactly what he was going to do, but I had some kind of idea. "A test?" I asked as my fingers dropped away from him when he moved. My question made the alpha laugh a horrible, strained laugh. "If you can't handle them," he said, cocking his head. "Then why do you think you could handle me?" I sucked a breath deep into my lungs, inhaling his scent one last time before he was gone. "Now," he growled. "Prepare my mate. And don't try anything. Do you understand, Althar?" I turned my head to see which one he was talking to, but to my surprise, something absolutely unbelievable - even after all that - took place. The copper-colored wolf lay on his side, panting. He acknowledged what his father said, but then he wrenched from around, thrashing so hard I thought he'd break his back. Moments later, he stood on his hind legs as they filled with muscle and the fur seemed to recede into his skin. His body twisted, contorted, and before my eyes, he turned into something very similar to a man - a human man - but he was just slightly different. And way, way, bigger. Every part of him was huge. The muscles of his legs, his hard biceps, and his powerful chest were all more impressive and intimidating than any person I'd ever seen. And then, I looked down.

As soon as the moon..." his breathing was ragged. Rock, I was convinced, was dying right before my eyes. "The moon...it...full..." Suddenly, I saw what I thought was impossible. Rock pushed himself to his hands and knees and stumbled forward into a beam of moonlight. Hair? He's covered in hair? No way. No way is this happening. Not possible. And - what is that? Oh my God he is actually bent over like he's a... He howled again. And then he charged. "Run! Get away!" He screamed, even as he tore at my shirt. I twisted away from the enraged beast and slapped his hand, or his claw or whatever it was, and escaped with only a rip in my shirt. For a moment we stared at each other, but he lunged and I dodged underneath. Deeper into the woods I ran, looking back every so often to see Rock behind me, almost at my heels. "What are you?" I cried back, hoping he had enough sense to respond. "Rock! What's happened to you? I can't keep running forever." Just then my lungs started burning. The end of my little marathon was coming a lot quicker than I expected. "Car," he grunted. "Get...to...car..." I couldn't figure out what he meant, but then the keys in my pocket stuck me in the leg and I spun on my heel, running back in the other direction, avoided another of his clumsy lunges, and bee-lined for the Mini. As terrified as I admittedly was, that same bizarre feeling from earlier came back over me in between expert jukes of the grabs Rock attempted. The warmth that I felt when his skin sweltered under my palm, the scent he carried that made my legs feel a little tingly, and made my tits ache just a bit, it struck me full in the face whenever he thrashed at me and fell past my dodge, and his hair - or fur - brushed against my face.

I paid no attention to the words he said or the blush creeping up my throat. Then it dawned on me that he said something about the parade. "It was bad, but I took myself out of it. I forced myself to look at faces in the crowd and not think about what was happening to me." Shingo raised his hand and put it on the back of mine. That time I didn't jump. "How does the girl do it? So much sadness and crying and yelling here; there is so much pain and terror. How do you not weep for what you have lost?" His hand warmed mine. It sent little tingles down my wrist to my elbow, then to my shoulder and down my side. "And why is she not afraid of me? How does she keep smiling?" I blushed again when he spoke, but it was the sort that's deep inside. My skin felt warm when he touched my hand, but his words warmed me from the inside out. It took me a second to collect myself enough to respond. "I don't know that I'm doing anything special," I finally managed. "I'm just getting by however I can. It's not like I want to be here, but my father, he needed..." "A girl sold herself to a king out of love for her father?" "Yes, that's it, more or less." He stroked my hand with his fingertips, then gathered both of my hands in one of his, and pressed the whole bundle to my chest. Just like before, he radiated heat that sent curls of energy out from where our bodies met. "Shingo!" A cry came from off to the east, from one of the guards atop the wall. "What are you doing? If you're going to take her, do it and get on with your work. One of Morzan's purchases tried to escape and hurt herself somehow. Come set this wound!" "Ah. Quite sorry little princess." "Princess?" "Oh, not princess? Thought auctioneer said girl was a princess." "No," I giggled. "Most certainly not. Just the daughter of a lowly lord without enough money to buy crops for the next year." He nodded a grave, serious nod. "You are a special girl. Shingo will see you again." "When? I mean - do you work for Morzan?" "Ha! Does Shingo work for Morzan, she asks." "Well?" "Shingo and Morzan are very close. He trusts me to do things he trusts no one else to do. I will see you again. Shingo will be in Zor after the snowy season breaks." "But I thought Zor was a winter kingdom? I thought it snowed all the time there?" "No. Well, yes. For a part of the year, it snows a little less. Zoran call that time of year summer." "Oh," I said. "Is that when the sun shines?" "Yes, yes, every day the sun shines. For at least an hour."

Before I knew what he was doing, the tremendous creature had got me to push myself backward until I touched the wall and could go no further. "Good," he growled from deep in his chest. couldn't have been that sort of beast, at least, not a normal one. But through that slick, hard coat, a terrible fury seemed to burn so bright that I felt him against my skin, even inside me, burning outward from my core all the way to my fingertips. "You want me because you know there's no...no way you can get out. You want me because you feel how much I need you, and you want me because," he snorted again. His breath caught and he coughed. "You feel me against you and want to know what it's like to be with such a thing as me, to have an experience so awful and foreign and forbidden as to give in, and stop denying yourself."
