Between all the parties and random hook-ups, Fallon Carr is this close to flunking out of college. But her internship working with pediatric patients means the world to her--especially since, at the end of the summer, one lucky intern will be offered a paid position. Determined to leave her bad reputation behind, Fallon even takes a bet that she won't sleep with anyone from work. But there's one little catch. . . . Not only is Cade Ryan the hottest guy Fallon has ever laid eyes on, he's a therapy dog handler who volunteers his time to visit kids at the hospital. So when he starts pursuing her, Fallon can't believe her bad timing. The thing is, Cade is different. He's not like the college guys who see her as a one-night stand, or the high-school boyfriend who took a part of her she can never get back. Cade genuinely wants to spend time with her--and not just between the sheets. Fallon won't let her growing feelings for Cade get in the way of her dreams. Besides, no guy can break down the walls she put up long ago. So what's the harm in a little flirting? It's not like she's falling in love. But she may have seriously underestimated how complicated things can get when the perfect guy falls for her first. It's exciting to connect with someone and feel those sparks soar, and often a little flirting will help you get there. But flirting doesn't have to come naturally to all of us. You want to talk to your crush, but when you're drowning in your emotions and experiencing those high-flying sensations, you can feel awkward. You may be nervous about saying something embarrassing or not sure how to start a conversation. That's completely normal and doesn't mean you'll have to look at your partner from afar for the next four years. Flirting takes practice. But with a few flirting tips and a little bit of confidence, you'll impress your crush in no time.

Campus Flirt Jennifer Sucevic 2022-03-21 From USA Today bestselling author, Jennifer Sucevic, comes a sexy novella in the Campus Series. Know what the problem is with crushing on your best friend? That there's not a damn thing you can do about it. Especially if you don't want to blow up your entire relationship. Easton is the guy I turn to when I need...well, just about everything. And what I've learned over the years is that friendship is more difficult to come by than hookups and boyfriends. Plus, it's not like he sees me as anything other than his soccer playing gal pal. The one he used to sneak out of the house with when we were teenagers. But we're not kids any more. At the end of this year, we'll graduate and go our separate ways. Why that thought fills me with sadness, I don't know. Actually, I do. And that's the problem. So, when my roommate suggests going out with her hot, hockey playing cousin, it seems like the perfect opportunity to move on from this crush. According to her--and I quote--the best way to get over one guy is to get under--I'm pretty sure you know how the saying goes. Campus Flirt is a short novella (20,000 words) and was first released in the Let's Play anthology
