Love Match - Maire McKinney
2021-06-03

Serena McAllister is devastated to find her fiancé has cheated on her—again. When she learns her newspaper is outsourcing jobs to freelance writers, she's desperate to land the last remaining staff position.

Unfortunately, her rival Jane Childers wants the coveted spot as well, and she's just as determined. Vowing to do whatever it takes to get her life in order, Serena decides to join a modern-day harem and write a provocative article about the objectification of women across the world to land her dream job at the newspaper. When Serena arrives at the tiny tropical paradise known as Birin Island, she meets Prince Shailemon Sharma, who is dealing with his own issues of archaic customs in his homeland. As sparks begin to fly, they discover that attraction can lead to so much more—and that there are no barriers of culture or country when love is on the line.

The Color of Love - Cassandra Darden Bell 2002-05-31

After 30 years of marriage, Greg and Rebecca Weaver take a painful look back at life as an interracial couple during the plight and passion of the Civil Rights Movement. The courtship starts during a time when it would have been more popular to murder someone than cross the "color line". Greg searches deep within himself to relate to his feelings about race relations and being married to a black woman. Rebecca, on the other shoe, tells her side of the story with all the conviction and strength of a woman with great virtue and courage. In The Color of Love we learn of life's trials and tribulations—faith and perseverance— and that true love and change starts on the inside and works it's way out. Catalog of Copyright Entries - Library of Congress. Copyright Office 1962

McAllister's Baby - Trisha David 2011-07-15

BABY BOOM A rancher with a baby... Kern McAllister had admitted paternity of Toby, but he'd never expected to be alone with the baby on an Australian cattle station about to be isolated by floodwaters! He needed a nanny—fast. When Lucy Sefton turned up, just before the bridge collapsed, he gave her no choice. ...and a city lawyer in need of one. When Toby's mother had slapped a lawsuit on Kern, Lucy had handled his case. So when he demanded a lawyer Lucy was instructed to go to McAllister Point. For reasons of her own, she hadn't wanted to be around another baby, but how could she refuse delicious Toby? Helping Kern, however, was another matter entirely! BABY BOOM. Because two's company and three's a family!

The McAllister Chronicles -

Mark Blake 2004-07-01

Julia McAllister is the second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert McAllister of London, England. When the McAllister's successful shoe business is forced to close in 1894, the patriarch of the family makes a bold move by deciding to immigrate to the United States. There, they find that living conditions that they must now cope with are a leap down the socio-economic scale. Soon, the McAllister's triumphant spirit overcomes adversity and they become semi-wealthy and well-liked citizens. When a move to a new apartment is in order, the McAllister's make haste and find themselves in a posh new apartment. However, with this new apartment comes rambunctious neighbors making all kinds of din into the wee hours of the night--or so they think. Soon, they discover that the din is originating from one of their own--the eldest McAllister, Samantha. She reveals that she is falling in love with the other half of the rowdiness, the suave sophisticate, Christopher Joplin. This first meeting quickly turns into a romantic engagement. Soon, all of the McAllister's head to California to meet the Joplin family--and to prepare for the grand wedding. "The McAllister Chronicles" is sure to keep you turning the pages!

Miss Mc Allister's Ghost - Elizabeth Fensham 2011-05-14
You can't imagine how strange it is to realise that there is no one left living who knew you,' said Miss McAllister. 'It makes you wonder if you really are alive.' 'We know you,' I replied. When Cassandra and her brothers climb the garden wall hoping to spot the ghost in the old hollow-eyed house, they have no idea what awaits within. Suddenly, and then seductively, they are drawn into a world long lost, a world preserved by a woman whose memories have kept her trapped in time and place. But do the children really know the ghostly old lady as well as they think they do? Or is there something even more bizarre living under her roof? From the author of the CBCA award-winning Helicopter Man comes a story of unexpected surprises that asks us to re-examine what we think we know of ugliness and beauty.

Boyfrenemy - Catherine Rull
2020-04-21

All is fair in love and war, right? JESS HAUGEN has a big secret. And no, it's not just her X-rated website for curvy and obese women, nor her dysfunctional family growing up. It's that she envies her best friend, Isabella Harper's perfect life. On top of that, she's been secretly crushing on Isabella's ex-boyfriend, KEATS McALLISTER since primary school. When Jess becomes Isabella's maid of honour, it's her chance to finally spend some time to get to know the reluctant best man, Keats. But he has other plans for the wedding—to break up the happy couple and get Isabella back. And he wants Jess' help. After all, the frenemy of his frenemy seems like the perfect ally. Now it's up to Jess to save her frenemy's wedding by keeping an eye on Keats. It's a tough job but then again, she's had her eye on him for years.

The Loves of Mrs McAllister - Hannah McNiven 2020-09-08
 Would you risk losing everything for love? In 1936, eighteen-year-old Esther Muncie marries Scottish landowner Fraser McAllister, twenty-four years her senior. By 1946, Esther is the mother of two children, wife to an absent husband and is running the estate of Kirkmore. With her Scottish labourers still helping to rebuild Europe with the British Army, and desperately needing workers, Esther takes delivery of twenty German prisoners of war. Amongst these 'enemy aliens' the residents of Kirkmore find friends. They find craftsmen, farmers, ordinary men and boys. And Esther McAllister finds a German academic by the name of Michael Petersen.

Vendetta - Harry Carmichael
 2011-09-28

John Piper's diary for Saturday December 7th read: Fritz Haupmann. Call 2.30 re factory insurance cover with Cresset. When Piper arrived at the house and saw his client lounging in an armchair listening to Mozart, he had no reason to think that this was one day he would never forget. It was not Haupmann's premonitions of disaster that so impressed themselves on Piper, nor even the startling beauty of Gizelle Haupmann. . . . Disregarding the warnings Haupmann had been given at seances held by a London spiritualist association, Piper endorsed the additional insurance that Haupmann asked for. No sooner were the policies issued than it became apparent that something more tangible than ghostly spirits was bent on injuring Fritz Haupmann. Somebody hated him: somebody was prepared to conduct a ruthless vendetta against him and all he held dear. Harry Carmichael's

2014-06-11

When Danny McAllister loses his job and seeks to drown his sorrows in the local pub, his personal woes inadvertently start a chain of events that ignites trails in all directions; all of which will ultimately lead to the biggest of bonfires seen for a long time in sleepy Tetlow. The good, the bad and the ugly are all in town for an hilarious rollercoaster ride resulting in a breathtaking climax that will leave your head spinning

Love Sketches - David Appleby

Love Sketches explores the sensuality of romance and the varieties and vagaries of love..Former colleagues, almost lovers, meet to discuss literature only to discover a yearning that rekindles their lost romance; teenagers infused with the early flowering of romance struggle to maintain that romance against all odds; a young romantic learns a tragic lesson of love and redemption all too soon; an elderly professor devises a plan for one last try at romance; and amid an atmosphere rich in romance and sensuality two close friends reunite to reveal deep feelings they've held for one another, feelings which went unnourished for those years they had convinced one another they were just friends. Book Review The fourteen stories in this collection bring us up close and personal with the many faces of love. These are more than sketches; these stories cover love's waterfront. The characters are ordinary, innocent, worldly and they are stopped short when they're tripped up by and succumb to love. The settings are varied - run-down apartment buildings, city offices, motel rooms, sleekly designed suburban homes, but the message is the same- regardless of age or class or means, love is acutely and intensely felt. There is romance but these are not simple romantic stories. The characters are complex, their lives are often adverse and conflicted, filled with guilt, anxiety and crises of conscience and there are no easy answers and few resolutions. The reader is sometimes forced to think beyond stereotypes- of age and class; we are often surprised by the turn of events, by sudden acts of tenderness. But the charge of love is everywhere, and the sensuality and sensuousness of the language is what stands out. There is a grace and lightness in the writing where a look, a touch, a sigh, a gesture between lovers allows the reader to be party to the ache and intimacy of the characters. Much is gleaned in these small gestures and much is left unsaid. Nature too plays a part- lovers walk through city parks, shelter under an umbrella in a rain shower, gaze out at lush trees through a huge glass window. The stories are suffused with longing and in some an air of melancholy pervades. In 'Close Friends' two friends - 'almost lovers' once- meet again and realise that love has held up after many years. In 'Claire' a lonely wife prepares for a rendezvous with a man she doesn't even like in her desperate need for connection. This 'dirty realist' story is played out against a backdrop of strip malls and dollar shops, but it is Claire's inner dialogue and longing for union with her husband that leaves the greatest impression. In 'Bus Trip' and 'The Graveyard of Romance' the sparse conversations and the minutiae of the daily lives of married couples are closely observed, and despite a lifetime of shared experiences and much compassion there is a palpable loneliness at the heart of these relationships. The Dance of Romance is a witty poignant glimpse of a 70 year Eng Lit professor as he comes to terms with the loss of his attractiveness to girls and women. 'What I wanted was one last chance to push the pause button ...' In the perfectly paced story 'A Long

Romance' Dalton, a rich, middle- class, forty-something year old is captivated by Joleen, a young office girl. The reader is prepared to suspect his motives but for a while it is Joleen we mistrust. Their unlikely love is conveyed skilfully though Joleen's unique voice with her Southern dialect and colloquialisms and her utter honesty, and when the tears come they are killer tears. There is nothing precious or sentimental here, but it is achingly moving....`I can't believe somebody like you could happen to somebody like me.' The lovers in this collection are young, old, rich and poor, angry and vulnerable- love has indeed `many faces'. There are some happy endings but most of the characters are left to their uncertain lives, in sto
