THE TUDUNG ANTHOLOGY - Azalia Zaharuddin

THE TUDUNG ANTHOLOGY is a women-only anthology featuring essays, fiction and comics. This is a book about a piece of cloth, and how it is able to weave its way into the hearts of people, causing multiple and different chains of reactions. This book aims to shed light on the bigger picture, and the deeper meaning that comes with a person's choice to either keep it or discard it, giving us a different perspective to consider our side before making assumptions and drawing conclusions. Reengineering Local Knowledge : Current Issues and Practices (Penerbit USM) - Mohamad Rashidi Pakri

This book deals with local knowledge as a valuable source of practical solutions to enhance the sustainability of modern life. It is an eclectic collection of papers written in English that explores various aspects of indigenous, local knowledge in the Asia-Pacific region. Encompassing the gamut of human sciences: performance, dance, literature, arts and craft, architecture, local traditions, religious knowledge, teaching and learning, traditional conservation and healing practices. This book will add on to publication to make local knowledge, especially from the Malay world, accessible to a global non-specialist (read non-anthropologist) readership. The editors have intentionally chosen to classify the topics to embody the transdisciplinary nature of knowledge in this region.

Southeast Asian Independent Cinema - Tilman Baumgärtel 2012-01-01

The rise of independent cinema in Southeast Asia, following the emergence of a new generation of filmmakers there, is among the most significant recent developments in global cinema. The advent of affordable and easy access to digital technology has empowered startling new voices from a part of the world rarely heard or seen in international film circles. The appearance of fresh, sharply alternative, and often very personal voices has had a tremendous impact on local film production. This book documents these developments as a genuine outcome of the democratization and liberalization of film production. Contributions from respected scholars, interviews with filmmakers, personal accounts and primary sources by important directors and screenwriters collectively provide readers with a lively account of dynamic film developments in Southeast Asia. Interviewees include Lav Diaz, Amir Muhammad, Apichatpong Weerasethakul, Eric Khoo, Nia Dinata and others. Tilman Baumgärtel taught film and media studies in Germany, Austria and the Philippines before joining Royal University of Phnom Penh in 2009. He has curated international film series and art exhibitions, and has also published books on independent cinema, Internet art, computer games and the German director Harun Farocki. His blog can be found at <http://southeastasiancinema.wordpress.com>

Monsters in Chow Kit Road - Chet Jee Pi Tee 2023-02-23

A chapbook of prose, and Manglish verses by an Ah Beng, about all these mythical(?) creatures that haunt the thereabouts of Kuala Lumpur, and one area in that city in particular: Chow Kit Road. Let your mind be stupefied by fantastical creatures, like the ever ubiquitous vampire in any country, not just in Malaysia. And the succubus, to eat into your sleep. But this country has its own versions—the pontianak, for one. Then there are the other varieties of creatures of the night, such as hantu babi, hantu punggong, nu gui, mohini, toyol, hantu raya, pocong, nenek kebayan, and orange minyak.

Indonesian Houses - R. Schefold 2008-01-01

This collection aims to attract attention to the admirable achievements of indigenous builders in Indonesia and to contribute to a broader sense of commitment to the endangered architectural heritage in the region. It presents the second part of the results of a research project on vernacular architecture in western Indonesia, sponsored by the Royal Netherlands Academy of Sciences. The volume is intended to provide an introduction to all relevant vernacular architectural traditions and developments in western Indonesia.

The Mighty Mangrove - Ayesha Harben 2018-05-21

In a secret place in Alisha's garden lives the magical Bamboolahmoolah who tells wonderful stories. She and cousin Liam are drawn into the captivating tale of Kai the kampung girl, Tappalai the water keeper and their precious mangrove forest.

WHEN THE CHICKEN DIES, EVERYONE CRIES - Boonsiri Somchit 2016-11-25

The most compelling LEADERSHIP WISDOM can come from the most UNEXPECTED PLACE. In a corporate jungle obsessed with hype, office politics and the never-ending race for promotion and power, textbook leadership skills are failing to bridge the gap between management and their most precious commodity - people. From her humble roots growing up in a Malaysian village, Boonsiri Somchit shows what it takes to truly engage and lead from the heart. Taking inspiration from her childhood adventures with her rag-tag gang, Boonsiri brings her authentic insights to leadership, life and dealing with rogue chickens.

Saga - Abdul Talib bin Mohd. Hassan 2010

Writing Women - Sonia Randhawa 2022-07-21

This book examines how women journalists in Malaysia negotiated male power structures, in particular structures determined by the keystone party of the ruling coalition, the United Malays National Organisation. Through both oral histories and content analysis, it looks at how women journalists in the women's pages of the newspapers found spaces to advocate for their readers. It is thus the first work to look at the importance of the women's pages in the Malay-language newspapers, and how apparently monolithic institutions of the authoritarian state hid diverse contests for resources and prestige. In this contest, the concept of news values, the perception of the reader and the ways in which women constructed themselves as journalists all come into play, and are examined here. The book contributes to the field of feminist media studies by examining how gendered newsroom practices paradoxically allowed women journalists in the women's pages more editorial freedom than those in the malestream press.

Behind the Postcolonial - Abidin Kusno 2014-04-04

In Behind the Postcolonial Abidin Kusno shows how colonial representations have been revived and rearticulated in postcolonial Indonesia. The book shows how architecture and urban space can be seen, both historically and theoretically, as representations of political and cultural tendencies that characterize an emerging as well as a declining social order. It addresses the complex interactions between public memories of the present and past, between images of global urban cultures and the concrete historical meanings of the local. It shows how one might write a political history of postcolonial architecture and urban space that recognizes the political cultures of the present without neglecting the importance of the colonial past. In the process, it poses serious questions for the analysis and understanding of postcolonial states.

Biography Of The Early Malay Doctors 1900-1957 Malaya And Singapore - Faridah Abdul Rashid 2012

I really applaud your efforts. It's really difficult to do a book like that. - WAZIR Thanks again for your immense work, my family and I are indeed extremely grateful. - AZLAN Your effort in writing about the early Muslim doctors is very commendable and would be good for present and future generations to read about. - TAHIR You are doing valuable work by filling in the gaps in our history. I wish more of our retirees would impart their memories to repositories of knowledge such as the USM. - TAWFIK

Modern Times in Southeast Asia, 1920s-1970s - 2018-09-04

This book examines how Southeast Asians conceived of 'being modern' between the 1920s and 1970s. It investigates continuities and changes between colonial rule and independence, and in everyday spheres of life like sex, religion, art, film, literature, and urban space.

Reclaiming Adat - Gaik Cheng Khoo 2011-11-01

In the early 1990s, the animist and Hindu traces in adat, or Malay custom, became contentious for resurgent Islam in Malaysia. Reclaiming Adat focuses on the filmmakers, intellectuals, and writers who reclaimed adat to counter the homogenizing aspects of both Islamic discourse and globalization in this period. They practised their project of recuperation with an emphasis on sexuality and a return to archaic forms such as magic and traditional healing. Using close textual readings of literature and film, Khoo Gaik Cheng reveals the tensions between gender, modernity, and nation. Khoo weaves a wealth of cultural theory into a rare analysis of Malay cinema and the work of new Malaysian anglophone writers. Reclaiming Adat makes an essential contribution to our knowledge of the complexities embedded in modern Malaysian culture, politics, and identity.

Lieutenant Kurosawa's Errand Boy - Warran Kalasegaran
Epigram Books Fiction Prize 2016 Longlist
During the Japanese Occupation of Singapore, an eight-year-old Tamil boy is separated from his father, forced to work for the Kempeitai and renamed Nanban. From Lieutenant Kurosawa Takeshi, he learns their language and customs, studies their martial arts and prays to their Emperor. While watching the cruelty with which the Imperial Army rules Singapore, Nanban becomes just as ruthless to survive. Twenty years later, a young misfit strives to make a successful living as a seamstress. Papatti is swept up in her ambition, trying to drum up crowds and get featured in the national newspapers, when she meets a cunning politician and an eager dockworker who both try to win her attention. Then she is faced with a harrowing loss, and is forced to find her place in a new world. Over decades of tempestuous history, the lives of Nanban, Papatti and Lieutenant Kurosawa intertwine in surprising and powerful ways, and beg the question: how is reconciliation possible in the face of war and heartbreak?
