MenAlive Jed Diamond 2012 MenAlive is for everyone who wants to keep stress from shortening their lives and damaging their relationships. It is more than a book. MenAlive is a complete tool kit for relieving stress and bringing about lasting health. "80 percent of all illnesses are stress induced," says Woodson Merrell, M.D., Chairman of the Department of Integrative Medicine at Beth Israel Medical Center. Although stress impacts everyone, men are particularly vulnerable. According to social scientist Dr. Thomas Joiner, "Males experience higher mortality rates than females at all stages of life from conception to old age." Diamond, best-selling author of Surviving Male Menopause and the Irritable Male Syndrome, teaches men and women four simple, yet effective, practices that can be used to prevent stress-related problems all of us face in this fast-paced, often chaotic world. In Part I of the book, Diamond describes the hazards and blessings of being male, why perpetual stress is deadly, the science behind energy healing, and "the ultimate power tool" for guys who want their lives to work. In Part II, he details the four energy healing tools Diamond believes to be the most effective and scientifically sound: Earthing, Heart-Coherence, Attachment Love, and Emotional Freedom Techniques (EFT). In Part III, he applies the tools to the most pressing problems men face today including: Irritable Male Syndrome (IMS), male-type depression, chronic pain, sexual dysfunction and loss of desire, Andropause (male menopause) and age-related issues, and the stresses related to our economic and ecological transition. Both men and women will be interested in getting answers to the following questions: Is Irritable Male Syndrome (IMS) undermining your health and relationship? How can you treat depression without talk therapy or drugs? Which simple Energy Healing Tool can you use to relieve shoulder, neck, and back pain? What are the best tools for reducing inflammation and improving sleep? How can you keep Andropause (male menopause) from ruining your sex life? Could you and your partner be going through "double menopause?" Why do men frighten women and why do women shame men? Which tools should you use to best insure that a relationship lasts a lifetime? What are the most important things you can do when the economy hits the fan? How can you prepare for the global changes in 2012 and beyond?

The Self Under Siege Robert Firestone 2013 "This book will provide therapists with the tools necessary to help their clients differentiate themselves from their parents, families of origin, and other influences that have unconsciously dominated and predetermined their lives. The authors argue that most of us are unaware of the extent to which our lives have been predetermined and pre-empted by a parent whose thoughts, beliefs, and feelings can actually be antagonistic to our own goals and desires. An integrative theoretical approach to personality development and human behavior is introduced, providing the foundation for an innovative cognitive-affective-behavioral therapeutic process centered around Firestone's Voice Therapy technique"--

How to Quickly Fix Your Couple Relationship: A Brief DIY Handbook for Serious Lovers Jim Byrne 2019-02-15 This book has been specially designed to provide some quick relief up front. That means that, right at the start of the book, I share with you some of the most powerful insights into how to have a happy relationship. I then help you to complete a couple of exercises that take five minutes per day, and which will begin to change your relationship situation almost at once. In Part 1, you will find a self-study program which helps you, slowly, and in managed steps, to review a range of insights that will transform your ability to relate to your partner much more successfully. Every day, you will be asked to read just three of those insights. That means, three fairly brief descriptions of ways to be a happier couple. This should not take more than five or six minutes of your day. You are advised to then discuss those three insights with your partner. This might take a further ten minutes. Day by day, this DIY course - which you share with your partner - builds up, slowly but surely, into a seven week program which is designed to deliver a happy relationship for you and your partner, if you both work at it. Your time commitment to this program is likely to be less than half an hour each day. Is your relationship life worth an investment of less than thirty minutes per day? All you have to do to succeed is to follow the seven week program systematically! Diligently! At the end of seven weeks, you switch to Part 2. Part 2 teaches you how to change your relationship habits, which were probably mainly copied - and turned into habits - from watching your parents' marriage when you were too young to be emotionally intelligent enough to know what you were copying - (starting when you were below the age of five years, and up to about the age of ten years). This part of the program involves thinking back to your early childhood; how your parents treated you; how they related to each other; and how you felt about all of that. Out of this will come a quick and easy process for changing your 'relationship role model' and your 'relationship mate model'. The effect is that you will begin to behave in more constructive and loving ways with your partner, which will normally elicit new, more positive, more loving behaviours from your partner. Then, in Part 3, I present the conclusions of an extensive study that I published elsewhere; which is, essentially, a set of 17 guidelines for you to follow on how to be a more effective love-and-relationships partner. There is some (minimal) overlap between this part and Part 1. With this part, I ask you to review those 17 guidelines three times, to get them into long-term memory. (Anything that you read just once is likely to be forgotten within a day or two!) Finally, in Part 4, I teach you the most important things to know about your own personality, and your partner's personality, so that you can relate to each other from more rational, reasonable, adult parts of yourselves. I do this by teaching you the most important elements of Transactional Analysis (TA), which is a way to understand and change your own and your partner's way of communicating in your relationship - from unhelpful habits to effective ways of avoiding communications breakdowns. Additionally, I have added Appendix A, at the back of this book, for those readers who are too emotionally upset about their relationship problems to be able to work on Part 1. Appendix A is a form of my Six Windows Model, especially written for couples. This is a simple process that helps you to review the problem that is upsetting you, in six different ways, so that you can feel better about having that problem in your life. (Then the main body of the book will help you to get the problem out of your life, by preserving and improving your relationship; or ending it!) What you will get is a very happy relationship, with the person you love!

fixing his relationship. Fix My Relationship explores key elements that are vital to the success and growth of intimate relationships. This book addresses unrealistic expectations, baggage in the relationship, marriage, gender differences, the needs of each partner, communication, conflict resolution, a relationship with God, forgiveness, and commitment. What is clear is that couples tend to struggle with several issues in their relationships, especially when moving beyond the infatuation phase. During the infatuation phase, couples rarely focus on their differences, but rather on their similarities or what they have in common. Although couples should be infatuated with each other, it is necessary to understand that infatuation is only temporary and does not address the differences or the factors that contribute to the triumph of the relationship. At this point, couples begin to wonder how to make their relationships work. They ask, "What should I do now that I am no longer in the infatuation stage of my relationship?" They proclaim, "I have no idea how to make this relationship work." In the midst of such confusion, they exclaim, "Fix My Relationship!"
