Modalities of Change James Wilkerson 2012-10-30 While in some cases modernity may dominate 'traditional' forms of expression, in others, the modern is embraced as a welcome source of new ideas that can modify 'tradition' while still keeping it within its own bounds. Maintaining a strong and distinct cultural identity with the help of modernity helps representatives of that identity cope with the modern world more generally. By contrast, assimilation to a dominant culture marked as modern is clearly associated with not only the loss of a distinct identity, but also its specific forms of cultural expression. This book explores the consequences of the interface between modernity and tradition in selected societies in Taiwan, mainland China and Vietnam. The contributors examine how traditions are themselves exploiting modernity in creative ways, in the interests of their own further cultural developments, and to what extent this approach is likely to help a tradition survive.

The Peaceful Wife April Cassidy 2016-01-27 "This book walks each of us through the reality checks we need in order to have the marriage we want!" —Shaunti Feldhahn, social researcher and best-selling author of For Women Only In today's workplace, women are often rewarded for having type A personalities: driven, demanding, ambitious, and strong. Yet when it comes to their marriages, those same traits can backfire. After all, no one goes into marriage hoping for a promotion. What is a wife to do? April Cassidy knows this struggle firsthand. She thought she was a great Christian wife and begged God to make her passive husband into a more loving, involved, godly leader. Instead, God opened her eyes to changes that she needed to make, such as laying down her desire for control and offering genuine, unconditional respect—not just love—to her husband. Cassidy's conclusions may be as startling to readers as they were to her, but The Peaceful Wife shares how she and many others have learned to reorient their lives to biblical commands—resulting in healthier, happier marriages. In the end, you'll find The Peaceful Wife a powerful path to God's design for women to live in full submission to Christ as Lord.

Stuck Between Two Different Worlds E. L Discipline 2018-06-25 We have all come from a woman. We have all been nourished, carried and molded from/by a woman, and because of a woman. However, a males seed is the jumpstart to the circle of life. Strong men simply need women. A strong man needs a woman or women, who is or whom are truly his. At his feet. Being his backbone. Anything less is not a fulfillment to him. Weak men will never understand this. Weak women will never be able to grasp this concept. Monogamous... were we really created to be monogamous? Most men are afraid to even ask their lady for a threesome, knowing damn well, they would love to experience one. How do you know she doesn't want to experience the same? What keeps you from articulating this to your significant other? It is because of judgment, resentment, perhaps both? Are we really suppose to be monogamous? Society programs us where we are almost required to get married. Seventy percent of women do not love their husbands, they just have a desire to be married. Its like they are in love with marriage itself. They love love. Fifty percent of men, just love the chase, the conquer. What is society really making us believe? You will find your soulmate, truly love one woman or man forever? Yet again, no matter the gender, people cheat, they flirt (that's still cheating by the way), with their eyes. They flirt with their mouth. Their thoughts. Hearts. Emotions. They dream of others and think of others while engaging in sex with their partner. Who comes up with these rules? The rules of how its suppose to be? Is it society? Religions? Rulers of the free world? If one person is made for all of us, why are marriages failing, why are relationships not lasting as long as expected? She is unhappy. She feels she is not desired, appreciated, or loved enough. He desires more. She is limited. She cannot provide. She is not supportive enough. He could be wealthy, but he cannot provide that emotional connection. He might not be wealthy, but he can provide that mind blowing sex. He doesn't have money or mind blowing sex, but he can provide that mental or emotional connection. I'm just speaking hypothetically. We are all programmed growing up watching Disneys animated movies like Cinderella. Girls are like, "when I grow up, I want that! Relationship and marriage goals!" What can I say, most women, not all, but most are followers. The men do minimum to get their attention. And women do minimum to none to keep mens attention. Some men are pussy whipped. Some women are just clueless on what real men want. They alter their bodies, and their personalities to attract men. Looking for "the one", and men alter their character to get them. Everyone is living a lie, to obtain something so real. Now, what is really polygamy? Polyamorous? Perhaps it's not a fetish? Perhaps it's not cheating? Do you believe a man can love or have a strong deep connection with more than one woman? Do you believe a woman can have two soulmates? Are people nowadays falling out of love with their partners and falling more in love with what their partners provide or are willing to provide?
