Flirting With Fire (1Night Stand series) - Tara Quan 2014-10-24

Apprentice witch Catalina Gato is prohibited from assuming her human form in front of her new employer without his express permission. Since he doesn't know he's a warlock, he can't give it, leaving her in a familiar's limbo. To make matters worse, she's barred from leaving his house, and her attempts to enlighten him of his true nature results in burnt notes, charred walls, and exploding laptops. On All Hallows' Eve, she gets one night of freedom. Deciding some no-strings-attached sex might take the edge off the intense attraction she feels for her clueless boss, she signs up for Madame Eve's service. When she meets her masked mystery date at the Castillo Capital, she realizes she might have gotten much more than she bargained for. After being gifted a one-night stand from his annoying best friend, attorney Leo Difucoco reluctantly ventures to the Castillo Capital to celebrate Halloween. When he meets his oddly familiar green-eyed date in a Cat Woman costume, flames literally ignite, sparks magically fly, and life as he knows it changes forever.

Paradise Rush - Leo Barbel 2013-11

Barbel, a lifelong resident of the West Indies, takes you on a journey through the generations to a chain of tropical islands awash with sun-drenched days, exotic evenings, and late-night enchantments. Here you will meet captivating characters living in a paradise filled with adventure and intrigue. The heart of this multi-level tale revolves around Sasha Sassy' Mattavious. As an island girl coming of age during World War II, Sassy finds herself swept up in a series of dramatic events ranging from the murder trial of a young man she adores to a high stakes poker game that escalates to incalculable odds. At that gambling table sits an assortment of colorful players including internationally celebrated photographer Zane Wagoner, devoted churchgoer Armand Cologne, a well-heeled Frenchman from St. Barths, two savvy Puerto Rican businessmen, and a hard-edged Philadelphia street thug as well as the honorable Judge Harland Jacobs. Their passion for poker aside, these men have one other thing in common: a singular fascination for the stunningly beautiful Anika Vandenberg. Despite her status as a married woman, the femme fatale enjoys flirting shamelessly with the hearts she holds in the palm of her hand. Inexplicably, one of the players disappears suddenly and is never heard from again. Decades later, Sassy's grandson Matt, an investigative reporter from Manhattan, finds his way back home to the land of his ancestors. In his travels, he stumbles upon a 70-year-old cold case that pulls him into the past. In the process of unraveling the history and mystery of his own roots, Matt discovers more than he ever bargained for about life, love, and family.

Screening a Lynching - Matthew Bernstein 2009

The Leo Frank case of 1913 was one of the most sensational trials of the early twentieth century, capturing international attention. Frank, a northern Jewish factory supervisor in Atlanta, was convicted for the murder of Mary Phagan, a young laborer native to the South, largely on the perjured testimony of an African American janitor. The trial was both a murder mystery and a courtroom drama marked by lurid sexual speculation and overt racism. The subsequent lynching of Frank in 1915 by an angry mob only made the story more irresistible to historians, playwrights, novelists, musicians, and filmmakers for decades to come. Matthew H. Bernstein is the first scholar to examine the feature films and television programs produced in response to the trial and lynching of Leo Frank. He considers the four major surviving American texts: Oscar Micheaux's film Murder in Harlem (1936), Mervyn LeRoy's film They Won't Forget (1937), the Profiles in Courage television episode "John M. Slaton" (1964), and the two-part NBC miniseries The Murder of Mary Phagan (1988). Bernstein explains that complex issues like racism, anti-Semitism, class resentment, and sectionalism were at once irresistibly compelling and painfully difficult to portray in the mass media. Exploring the cultural and industrial contexts in which the works were produced, Bernstein considers how they succeeded or failed in representing the case's many facets. Film and television shows can provide worthy interpretations of history, Bernstein argues, even when they depart from the historical record. Screening a lynching is an engrossing meditation on how film and television represented a traumatic and tragic episode in American history—one that continues to fascinate people to this day.

Bucked: A Blue Collar Bad Boys Book - Brill Harper 2018-01-17

Save a horse... Ruby Grant is dead-broke when she wins an all-inclusive vacation to Paradise Hotel in Wyoming. She can't wait to sip expensive champagne while lounging in a bathtub full of bubbles. To her horror, she discovers "Paradise" is actually Pair-A-Dice Ranch and nothing like the brochure. She's ready to hop on the next plane back to LA, but sexy cowboy Dusty Cassidy offers her an irresistible deal if she'll stay. This may not be the vacation she envisioned, but Dusty is just the man for her needs—whether he knows it or not, he's going to be her first lover. Ride a cowboy... Dusty can't decide if Ruby is an angel in white or the daughter of the devil. Her curves are so dangerously sexy they should be outlawed. All his time and energy belongs to the ranch, so he definitely doesn't need a pretty little city girl tempting him away from his chores. Fortunately, she'll only be on the ranch for a week, so he won't have to worry about any expectations. But when her vacation comes to an end, will he be able to let her go? Author's confession: Yeehaw! You know by now that I love my tropes. If you love cowboys, Dusty is going to steal your freaking heart faster than he steals Ruby's virginity. If you're tired of billionaires and want a real man hero, this book is for you. It doesn't hurt that, like all my bad boy heroes, he's really a gooey alphamallow on the inside. (If you're one of my "safe read" lovers, you can rest easy. No other woman drama here.)

How to Seduce Women - Harry LEO 2021-07-07

Over the course of the book, you will learn things that you need to start doing right now to make yourself appear better in the eyes of the women that you want to be with. After all, they aren't going to want someone who is slovenly and unkempt and who doesn't seem to have it together. This is true whether you are looking for a relationship or just a one-night stand with her. You will learn how to approach women the right way, how to start up and have a conversation, and even how to make an emotional connection when you meet a woman. You will learn how to make the physical connection that can start to put her mind in the right place. You will also learn why it is so important not to seem needy, along with some other tips and tricks that will help to ensure you come across as a prize, not just some schmuck who is terrible at flirting. Best of all, you will discover that learning and implementing these techniques into your life are not as difficult as some might lead you to believe. It's not a magic trick that helps guys get the girls. Most of the time, it's just learning to look good, learning how to talk to and listen to women, and learning how to take things to the next level. Let's get started, so you can seriously bump up your success rate. Flirting With His Forbidden Lady \(Mills & Boon Historical\) \(The Ashburton Reunion, Book 1\) -

The Literary Monster on Film - Abigail Burnham Bloom 2014-01-10

Many monsters in Victorian British novels were intimately connected with the protagonists, and representative of both the personal failings of a character and the failings of the society in which he or she lived. By contrast, more recent film adaptations of these novels depict the creatures as arbitrarily engaging in senseless violence, and suggest a modern fear of the uncontrollable. This work analyzes the dichotomy through examinations of Shelley's Frankenstein, Stoker's Dracula, H. Rider Haggard's She, Stevenson's Strange Case of Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde and
