My Way Vs God's Way Abraham Smith 2019-08-14 Struggling with a dating, engagement, or marriage relationship? Wanting God's best for you and the other person? This book is a must read for you to learn from my mistakes, listen to God's voice and obey His ways. How far would you go to keep a promise? How much would you sacrifice to save your marriage? Even if you feel that your marriage was not in God's will, and your marriage is now going through hell, do you believe that you have done everything you can and sacrificed all to do what God wants? If you are planning to marry, are you certain that both you and your future mate love God, are seeking His will for your lives, and are willing to surrender totally to His ways? Before I married, I desperately wanted a wife. I thought I had found just the right person for me, but other people and God kept asking questions I didn't want to answer. Warning signs started to appear that I ignored or pushed aside. I made many mistakes both before marriage and during the first years of my marriage. I wanted my way instead of God's ways; I did not listen to the wise counsel of others or to God's voice. I felt committed to the promises and vows I had made in marriage. So, when my marriage started falling apart, I did everything I could to fix my mistakes. Again, my efforts were often focused on what I wanted, not what God wanted. So I did many foolish things. My marriage failed. I take responsibility for my mistakes in that relationship. After this failure, I started to listen to God and godly wisdom from others. I began learning a lot about myself, building a healthy and holy relationship with others, and starting over again. God restored me and gave me a fresh start in life. I pray that you will learn much about yourself, marriage, relationships, and God's grace in this book.

Growing Up, Revised and Updated Robby Gallaty 2022-05-17 If you are serious about being a disciple of Jesus Christ, a discipleship group can help you achieve that goal. Jesus established this model by forming and leading the first discipleship group—and it worked. The men who emerged from that group took the gospel to the world, and ultimately laid down their lives for Christ. Growing Up: How to Be a Disciple Who Makes Disciples offers a manual for making disciples, addressing the what, why, where, and how of discipleship. Robby Gallaty, pastor of Long Hollow Baptist Church and founder and president of Replicate Ministries, teaches you how to utilize D-Groups to grow your relationship with God, how to defend your faith, and how to guide others in their relationships with God.

From Tree to Tree Albert Rushing 2023-09-07 To open up a whole new approach for you to use your Christian beliefs to engage with your friends, relatives and yes strangers, hence making your world growing, contented and full of joy. To teach an approach to communicate love, respect and honor to everyone in your circle and those on the edges of our community and to the world. Why not! I started with the idea of just communicating love, respect and honor to everyone. I have traveled extensively globally during my thirty-year career. One day after retiring, it occurred to me that I never talk about God or religion to anyone—anywhere. I can talk to people at my place of worship with no problems, but I rarely speak of my faith elsewhere. I wondered why. The purpose of this book is to engage quickly and spread the ideas of love and Jesus. If a new conversion experience happens, there is a path to maturity, growth, and a newfound faith in God. A complete and thorough approach of introducing someone to Jesus and a Christian lifestyle. Then mentoring them to a life long Christian journey.

Making the Connection J. John 2014-02

I'd Like You More If You Were More like Me John Ortberg 2017-10-03 I'd Like You More If You Were More like Me takes on one of life's most important questions: How can I get closer to God and other people? We were created for deep connections. When people have deep connections, says John Ortberg, they win in life. When they don't have deep connections, they cannot win in life. I'd Like You More if You Were More like Me offers help in overcoming one of the biggest obstacles to making deep connections: the fact that we're so different. Different from God and different from each other. The good news is that connectedness is not based on similarity, but on shared experiences. When one person invites another to share an experience, they're connected. It can be sharing a beautiful sunset or a meal, having a great conversation over cup of coffee, going for walk, or even teasing somebody. And when we share those same experiences with God, we get closer to him, too. God wants to connect with us—so much that he sent his son to live as a human being. God took on flesh and shared every human experience. So we don't have to wonder what a close relationship with God looks like anymore. An intimate relationship with God and other people doesn't have to be a cliché, it can be a daily way of life.

Disciple Making among Hindus Timothy Shultz 2016-09-19 Drawing on thirty years' experience among Hindus, Timothy Shultz writes this book as a testimony of the kingdom of God growing in a non-Christian environment. Disciple Making among Hindus: Making Authentic Relationships Grow describes how Hindu people experience and respond to Jesus Christ. What are the core values and rhythms of their cultural world? What are the patterns of community and discipleship that help them draw closer to Jesus? Through moving personal stories, biblical reflection, and practical wisdom, Shultz introduces us to the centrality of family, the covenantal relationships that make up Hindu social life, and the yearning for authentic spiritual experience. While this book will benefit anyone wanting to make disciples among Hindus, it is far more than a strategy of contextualization or a blueprint for successful evangelism. Read it to discover the beauty of Hindus as Jesus sees them—and the beauty of Jesus through Hindu eyes.

Becoming a Face of Grace Edward Khouri 2019-05-17 Rediscovering Grace-based Relational Discipleship and Transformation. This is a beta copy for test groups. Understood for all its fullness, grace is nothing, if not relational. It's rarely experienced when combing the dusty shelves of theological libraries compiled over centuries by Post-Reformation scholars. In its most profound form, grace is a relational truth experienced (or not) in the context of our face-to-face interactions with others. That's why finding grace reflected to us in the faces of other people and becoming a face of grace to those around us are primary themes of this book. Expressed face-to-face, grace defines the relationship we have with God, as well as the relationship we have with others. If grace is to be more than a theological vocabulary word, you and I must get off of the island of our individualistic, Western mentality. To get back home, we will need a GPS—one guided by grace-based attachment that grows our God-given identity and transforms all of life. While Grace makes healthy relationships last, fear makes unhealthy behaviors and relationships hopelessly tangled. In this book, we'll also expose the roots of addiction, including Codependency, and trace a pathway back to wholeness. After every chapter, you will find a section called, "Making it Stick." More than just for drill, these pieces have been designed to expand your understanding through practice and personal application. Each "Making it Stick" section includes the following elements: A Face of Grace. Grace is not an abstract theological concept—it is a relational reality that can be shared when people interact, face-to-face and in an ongoing relationship. Each Face of Grace tells the story of my relationship with people who demonstrated grace toward me; something in their faces told me that I was special to them. (Many of them are about people who shared grace with me before I even understood what it was.) As you read stories about my Faces of Grace, I hope it will help you remember and recognize those important people that God has placed in your own life. And, as you do, my prayer is that your face will increasingly reflect that same grace to others you meet along the way. To do this is to become like Jesus Brain Moment. Advances in neuroscience confirm what Scripture teaches: we are designed for relationships rooted in grace. In each Brain Moment section, I'm thrilled to share ever-expanding brain research findings to provide insight into the chapter subject. These are meant to enhance what you and I already understand about Biblical truth. Daily Confession. Every chapter includes a Daily Confession. Perhaps you are familiar with the concept. For our purposes, each confession is not about our sinful guilt or innocence on a topic. Here, we use it to acknowledge a biblical truth that relates to our identity; each is designed to affirm and help us recognize how key truths in Scripture's apply to us. Scripture Reflection. If we want to grow to be more like Christ, we must engage with Scripture. Research indicates that it is non-negotiable--spiritual maturity just can't happen otherwise. With that in mind, every chapter contains a passage of Scripture for you to engage with God, prayerfully. Journaling and/or Discussion Questions. These questions are designed to help you go deeper to apply the themes of this chapter and your Scripture Reflection exercise in your life. Homework. Unlike school work, these homework assignments are created to be refreshing. Each is set up to help you continue to apply this week's lesson, engage with God, prepare for the next chapter, pay attention and pray for others--especially those around you who need God's grace.

Discipleship that Fits Bobby Harrington 2016-02-09 For far too long, the church has tried to make disciples using a one-size-fits-all approach. Some churches advocate 1-on-1 discipling, others try getting everyone into a small group, while still others training through mission trips or service projects. Yet others focus all their efforts on attracting people to a large group gathering to hear biblical teaching and preaching. But does one size really fit everyone? Based on careful biblical study and years of experience making disciples in the local church, Bobby Harrington and Alex Absalom have identified five key relationships where discipleship happens in our lives. In each relational context we need to understand how discipleship occurs and we need to set appropriate expectations for each context. Discipleship That Fits shows you the five key ways discipleship occurs. It looks at how Jesus made disciples and how disciples were formed in the early church. Each of the contexts is necessary at different times and in different ways as a person grows toward maturity in Christ: Public Relationships: The church gathering corporately for worship Social Relationships: Networks of smaller relationships where we engage in mission and live out our faith in community Personal Relationships: Small groups of six to sixteen people where we challenge and encourage one another on a regular basis Transparent Relationships: Close relationships of three to four where we share intimate details of our lives for accountability The Divine Relationship: Our relationship with Jesus Christ where we grow through the empowering presence of the Holy Spirit Filled with examples and stories, Alex and Bobby show you how to develop discipleship practices in each relational context by sharing how Jesus did it, how the early church practiced it, and how churches are discipling people today.

Friendship with God (eBook) Trevor Hudson 2015-05-01 Are you open to re-imagining your relationship with God as a friendship? Do you want to be transformed into the person God wants you to be? Friendship with God transforms us. As we learn to trust God as our Divine Friend, it has a transforming effect on our whole lives. It affects how we pray, our relationships with each other and the way we understand our everyday lives. It changes the way we think and feel, what we desire and long for, the way we see each other and how we seek to live our lives in the world. We could say our friendship with God creates the climate in which you and I become the people God wants us to be. In his latest book, Friendship with God, Trevor Hudson digs into these two interwoven themes of friendship and personal transformation. He explains that friendship is a helpful analogy for the intimate kind of relationship God wants with us. Put very simply, the gospel invites you and me into friendship with God. When we become friends with Jesus, we are drawn into God's greater dream for the world. This indeed is the purpose of our lives on earth. We are created to become friends of God and to partner with God in making his dream a greater reality in the world around us. Topics that are addressed include: Living Beyond Loneliness God's Passionate Longing for Friendship Getting to Know Our Friend Understanding Prayer as Deepening Friendship Looking Outward Together Exploring Our Friend's Address Book Discerning What Our Friend Wants Us to Do Blessing Others as Our Friend Has Blessed Us Facing Our Fears with Our Friend Asking Our Friend the Hardest Question The creator God who loves us and set the whole universe into existence, and who sustains our lives in the immediacy of each moment, wants our intimate friendship. As you explore this good news you will be encouraged to see your faith and your life in a totally new way.

Not Yet Married Marshall Segal 2017-06-20 Life Is Never Mainly About Love and Marriage. So Learn to Live and Date for More. Many of you grew up assuming that marriage would meet all of your needs and unlock God's purposes for you. But God has far more planned for you than your future marriage. Not Yet Married is not about waiting quietly in the corner of the world for God to bring you "the one," but about inspiring you to live and date for more now. If you follow Jesus, the search for a spouse is no longer a pursuit of the perfect person, but a pursuit of more of God. He will likely write a love story for you different than the one you would write for yourself, but that's because he loves you and knows how to write a better story. This book was written to help you find real hope, happiness, and purpose in your not-yet-married life.

Thirty Seven Biblical Strategies For Making Marriage Joyful Dr Howard Eyrich 2023-09-12 About the Book Here are proven strategies embedded in the Scriptures with which to unlock the joy and lock out the disappointment and disillusionment that lead to a hurtful, and eventually fractured, marriage relationship. By setting time aside each week, you will better understand and apply biblical solutions to issues in your relationship and direct your energies toward defeating the problem, not each other. Since God's plan of creation and redemption features marriage—Adam and Eve at the beginning, and Christ with the Church at the end—a stable and joyful marriage not only brings God glory, it provides an example for future generations to build on and copy. Use this book as a marriage enrichment tool as a couple, a group study book to work through with other couples, or as a resource to use with a counselor. In doing so you will stimulate the growth and development of your relationship with God and each other, experience greater joy in your marriage, and ultimately bring Him glory. Throughout you will find: - Key Scriptures applied to marriage - Nuggets of wisdom from a biblical counselor who is himself long-married - Questions to consider and answer - Practical homework to help you put what you've read into action - Dedicated space to write notes, prayers, or important ideas you want to remember About the Author Howard has been married to Pamela for

This, my friend, is where rubber meets this biblical 'Route 37' and a way of loving and cherishing one another as God intended from the outset of His creation. The "One Another's" of Scripture will take on a whole different meaning as we travel along this route: 37 ways to apply God's principles for love and marriage into a holy and happy relationship which will declare the glory and love of God and His wisdom to a world who has gotten lost with a GPS that's no longer pointing us to the right road. Reclaiming Purity Laura C. Mayer 2018-11-29 It took Brian, my husband, and me some time to grasp the idea of purity while we were dating. After reading our story, you'll see that making the commitment to purity was just the beginning. We had tasted the forbidden fruit for a number of years. Then I got to know Jesus in a new and powerful way as I recovered from an eating disorder. Brian eventually followed, and we knew things had to change. We had the difficult task of trying to figure out how to have a Christian dating relationship, living in the Garden of Eden, so to speak, right next to the tree but resisting the habit and compulsion of reaching for that fruit. How close to the forbidden tree can you get? Can you actually hold the apple in your hand but not taste it? There is no hard-and-fast rule I can give you for where to draw the line. However, I will share with you some lessons that I learned to show you how to build your relationship together through Christian dating. I will describe some strategies to keep the pilot light of your passion lit but under God's gentle control. Then, how does it work to take two imperfect people, joined under God to become one in a loving marriage?

From This Day Forward Ted Haggard 2006 Every aspect of the wedding ceremony, from the candles to the vows, reflects God's incredible love relationship with His people—and His ideal design for marriage. Yet amid all the planning and preparations, we often miss the underlying meaning and beauty of the ceremony. To help you more fully enter into the exquisite wonder of the wedding day, From This Day Forward offers a unique look at the truths symbolized by each element of the traditional marriage ceremony, including ·the lighting of the unity candle ·the entrance of the groom and his men ·the presentation of the rings and flowers ·the giving away of the bride ·the exchanging of vows ·the presence of witnesses From This Day Forward will open your eyes to the spiritual importance of the wedding ceremony as a beautiful expression of God's love—and of His divine design for marriage. The wedding ceremony signifies so much more than a commitment between two individuals; it's a living portrait of God's love for His people. The whole drama of God's love and plan for all of us is represented in the rites of the traditional wedding ceremony and the daily experience of marriage. God designed marriage to reveal His love relationship with His people, His bride. When others look at an excellent marriage they see a husband gladly setting aside his own desires to care for his beloved, just as Christ abandoned His life for all of us. And they see a wife who, having taken on her husband's name and calling, loves to please him and spend time in his presence, just as believers in Christ respond eagerly to God. When your eyes are open to these realities, your marriage—and your relationship with God—will shine with the wonder of this divine romance. From This Day Forward beckons you into a joyful celebration of the wedding ceremony and marriage relationship as you embark on the everyday adventure of love as God designed it to be. Ted Haggard is senior pastor of the 11,000-member New Life Church in Colorado Springs, which he founded in 1985. The author of ten books, he is a well-respected leader who currently serves as president of the National Association for Evangelicals and as a spokesperson for the Presidential Prayer Team. Ted and his wife, Gayle, have been married for twenty-seven years and are the parents of five children.

Building Better Relationships Bobbie Yagel 1998-10-13 Everyone wants satisfying, intimate relationships, but not everyone agrees on the best way to achieve them. In Building Better Relationships, readers go to the source of truth about making relationships thrive: the Bible. This interactive study, ideal for individuals or small groups, starts with the premise that fulfilling relationships with people begins with a right relationship with God. As readers discover, accept and believe who they are in God's eyes, the Beloved, they are empowered and secure to build relationships that flow out of God's love for them. Building Better Relationships includes eight weeks of study. Topics include "Loving Our Neighbors," "Honoring One Another," "Handling Confrontation," "Learning to Listen" and much more. Each week's study examines a particular challenge of relationships, digs into Scripture to find out what God's Word has to say about that challenge, offers readers the opportunity to reflect on their own relationships and suggests practical action steps to help readers apply what they have learned.

God, Relationships, and Evil Loren Meierding 2000-10 As an undergraduate the author was influenced strongly by Bertrand Russell's rejection of Christianity due to the amount of evil in the world. After years of reading and reflecting on this topic, this book was written in the hope of providing better insight on this issue. The book's first part offers an analysis of the two primary historical approaches to theodicy—the free-will theodicy originated by Augustine and the "soul-making" or character development theodicy elaborated by John Hick. But the great value of human free will and character development does not seem adequately to justify all the evil we perceive. The second part shows why development of relationships among God and human beings requires considerable evil. Important non-relationship oriented explanations are taken into account. Justifications for permitting horrific evils including holocausts and world wars are given. The final part provides an analysis of the argument from evil including forms of the argument which have appeared in recent years in philosophical journals. Although evidence restricted to some evils or evil alone may have some weight, when good is included as well as evil, theists are justified in claiming the evidence supports their position far better than atheism.

Relatable Bible Study Guide Louie Giglio 2016-06-14 A look at relationships the way God intended them to be. No one is better at relationships than God. His very being—as one God in three persons—is relationship. And he created us so that we could be in relationship with him and with each other. From the moment we're born, relationships shape who we are and how we engage with the world around us. Beginning with how we see ourselves, we develop a view of God and others that impacts the way we relate to our parents, navigate friendships, dating relationships and marriage. In this six-session video Bible study (DVD/digital video sold separately), Louie Giglio explores—from a pastoral and biblical perspective—the fundamental question of what makes us relatable to others. He shows how God can: Change our perspective on relationships. Give us greater purpose in dating and marriage. Bring us peace in the midst of relational conflict. Help us restore relationships that seem broken beyond repair. Because God has gone to extraordinary lengths to relate to us, we have the potential to build incredible relationships with one another. Embracing God's love and receiving His grace changes the way we relate to him, our family, our friends, and ourselves. The Relat(able) Study Guide includes video discussion questions, Bible exploration, and personal study and reflection materials for in between sessions. Sessions include: The Shovel and the Spoon The Man/Woman in the Mirror A God to Call Father The Friend Everyone Longs for Becoming Someone vs. Finding Someone Handshake of Peace Bonus: Why Date? (perfect for study groups comprised primarily of singles who are dating or considering dating) Bonus: Marriage with a Mission (perfect for groups comprised mainly of married couples) Designed for use with the Relat(able) Video Study (sold separately).

Tragedy in the Making Mzwandile P Ntsonta 2012-07 The book is entitled Tragedy In The Making. It's written after he the (author) experienced suffering, pain, struggle, and poverty for a very long time in his life because of wrong beliefs he subscribed to, wrong decisions and choices he have made. The truth is that people are overwhelmed by what they are going through in their daily living. People are trying so hard to make life work, and no matter how hard they try, they keep on failing. Because they are living their lives outside the parameters of God's will for their lives. Tragedy in the Making is trying to live the life we have designed for ourselves versus failing to live the life that God has designed for us. When you keep doing things in your own way, instead of God's way, you won't be able to manage your life—that is a promise. The source of the suffering in this book is the result of men not comprehending the purpose and the plan of God for creating them. When I observe and look around in the world today, I see a lot of ongoing suffering, pain, struggle, and poverty in God's people as well. I believe you can agree with me when I say, "Some of the things we see daily in this world are heartbreaking." Most leaders are responsible for the suffering and struggle that we see in people's lives. Whether be the heads of states, heads of institutions, or heads of families. Somehow, we are where we are today because someone has led us there. The solution in your suffering, sorrow, pain, and struggle can only be found in one only, and his name is Jesus Christ. He came to reconcile us with the Father. He came to restore us into our original state and mend a broken relationship between us and God our creator.
