Jupiter's Travels Ted Simon 2007-01-25 Jupiter's Travels -Ted Simon's astonishing 4 year motorbike journey around the world The book that inspired Ewan McGregor's Long Way Round In the late 1970s Ted Simon set off on a Triumph and rode 63,000 miles over four years through fifty-four countries in a journey that took him around the world. Through breakdowns, prison, war, revolutions, disasters and a Californian commune, he travelled into the depths of fear and reached the heights of euphoria. He met astonishing people and was treated as a spy, a welcome stranger and even a god. For Simon the trip became a journey into his own soul, and for many others - including bikers Charley Boorman and Ewan McGregor - it provides an inspiration they will never forget. This classic text, which has informed a whole genre of travel writing in the thirty years since it was first published, will never be bettered for sheer adventure, passion, humour and honesty. Brought up in England by a German mother and a Romanian father, Ted Simon found himself impelled by an insatiable desire to explore the world. It led him to abandon an early scientific career in favour of journalism, and he has worked for several newspapers and magazines on Fleet Street and elsewhere. Ted Simon is also the author of Riding Home and The Gypsy in Me.

Many years later, the girl—now all grown up—spots the dress in a thrift store window. As the two are finally reunited, the memories of their times together come flooding back. While the girl can no longer wear the dress, it's now perfect for her own daughter—and the new journey of a girl and her dress begins. The Perfect Vehicle: What It Is About Motorcycles Melissa Holbrook Pierson 2011-01-12 "This book, a polished, winding meditation on the theory and fractiousness of motorcycles, celebrates both their eccentric history and the wary pleasures of touring."—The New Yorker In a book that is "a must for anyone who has loved a motorcycle" (Oliver Sacks), Melissa Pierson captures in vivid, writerly prose the mysterious attractions of motorcycling. She sifts through myth and hyperbole: misrepresentations about danger, about the type of people who ride and why they do so. The Perfect Vehicle is not a mere recitation of facts, nor is it a polemic or apologia. Its vivid historical accounts—the beginnings of the machine, the often hidden tradition of women who ride, the tale of the defiant ones who taunt death on the racetrack—are intertwined with Pierson's own story, which, in itself, shows that although you may think you know what kind of person rides a motorcycle, you probably don't.

Motor-cycling for Women 1928 Nancy Debenham 1928 Betty and Nancy Debenham were a pair of young adventurous lady motorcyclists who entered trials competitions on equal terms with men in the 1920's. Although they were serious motorcyclists they never let this get in the way of their tremendous sense of fun. Their spirit shines through in 'Motor Cycling for Women'. A practical and yet at times eccentric and quirky book from a bygone era that will make you smile.

Ubuntu Heather Ellis 2016-04-18 As you travel Africa, you will find the way of ubuntu - the universal bond that connects all of humanity as one. At the age of twenty-eight, while sitting in a friend's backyard in the remote mining township of Jabiru, Heather Ellis has a light-bulb moment: she is going to ride a motorcycle across Africa. The idea just feels right - no matter that she's never done any long-distance motorcycle travelling before, and has never even set foot on the African continent. Twelve months later, Heather unloads her Yamaha TT600 at the docks in Durban, South Africa, and her adventure begins. Her travels take her to the dizzying heights of Mt Kilimanjaro and the Rwenzori Mountains, to the deserts of northern Kenya where she is befriended by armed bandits and rescued by Turkana fishermen, to a stand-off with four Ugandan men intent on harm, and to a voyage on a 'floating village' on the mighty Zaire River. Everywhere she goes Heather is aided by locals and travellers alike, who take her into their homes and hearts, helping her to truly understand the spirit of ubuntu - a Bantu word meaning 'I am because you are'. Ubuntu is the extraordinary story of a young woman who, alone and against all odds, rode a motorcycle to some of the world's most remote, beautiful and dangerous places.

Tales from South America Eglė Gerulaitytė 2019-04-11 Tales from South America is a book of adventure, connection, and a lonely personal journey to the ends of the world. Egle, a 28-year old woman from Lithuania, sets out on a 30,000-mile solo motorcycle ride from Peru to Patagonia and back, exploring South America on two wheels. Along the way, as she journeys to the far South, she connects with local people, discovers a different South America and, in the end, a different self. Tales from South America is filled with stories about the everyday life, the weird and wonderful legends, and the extraordinary people of Peru, Bolivia, Argentina, Chile, Ecuador, and Colombia. It's also, in a way, an account of a young woman's coming of age, a glimpse into what it was like to be growing up in post-Soviet Lithuania, and a tale of a lone motorcycle adventure across one of the most magical continents on Earth.

Lois on the Loose Lois Pryce 2009-07-28 Young and beautiful, Lois Pryce was a rising star at the BBC. Unbeknownst to her co-workers, Lois lived a parallel life as a biker babe with an overwhelming sense of wanderlust. So she packed in her career to ride her motorcycle on her own from the northernmost tip of Alaska to the southernmost tip of South America. Alone. Armed only with the Spanish words for 'caution' and 'cheese', Lois was rather under-prepared for multiple bear sightings, bribing her way through borders, spending a night in a Mexican brothel and crashing her bike in the wilds of Patagonia. She most certainly got the adventure she craved, and her pulse-pounding, soul-searching adventure has already attracted fans worldwide - a weblog that she kept whilst on her travels was receiving more than two-thousand hits a day. Her hilarious, brilliantly written travelog will appeal to anyone who's ever dreamt of jacking-it-all-in and running away to see the world.

This is the story of how she threw in the day job and followed her dream of escaping. But she didn't escape just a LITTLE bit. She rode her motorcycle from the northernmost corner of Alaska to the southernmost tip of South America - alone. Armed only with the Spanish words for 'caution' and 'cheese', Lois was rather under-prepared for multiple bear sightings, bribing her way through borders, spending a night in a Mexican brothel and crashing her bike in the wilds of Patagonia. Revolutionary Ride Lois Pryce 2017-01-12 'Warm, funny . . . It's had my whole family howling with laughter and shedding a few tears' - Shappi Khorsandi, Guardian 'A proper travelogue - a joyful, moving and stereotype-busting tale' - National Geographic Traveller, Books of the Year In 2011, at the height of tension between the British and Iranian governments, travel writer Lois Pryce found a note left on her motorcycle outside the Iranian Embassy in London: ... I wish that you will visit Iran so you will see for yourself about my country. WE ARE NOT TERRORISTS!!! Please come to my city, Shiraz. It is very famous as the friendliest city in Iran, it is the city of poetry and gardens and wine!!! Your Persian friend, Habib Intrigued, Lois decides to ignore the official warnings against travel (and the warnings of her friends and family) and sets off alone on a 3,000 mile ride from Tabriz to Shiraz, to try to uncover the heart of this most complex and incongruous country. Along the way, she meets carpet sellers and drug addicts, war veterans and housewives, doctors and teachers - people living ordinary lives under the rule of an extraordinarily strict Islamic government.

Revolutionary Ride is the story of a people and a country. Religious and hedonistic, practical and poetic, modern and rooted in tradition - and with a wild sense of humour and appreciation of beauty despite the comparative lack of freedom - this is real contemporary Iran. Shortlisted for the Adventure Travel Book of the Year Award 'Within a few pages I'd recognised a kindred spirit' - Dervla Murphy, author of Full Tilt

Peppermint Patti Patti Sexton 2021-09-14 The Ballad of a female motorcycle drag racer by "Peppermint Patti" is the crazy story of her life. She begins: I had as normal of childhood as everyone else. I was spoiled and spanked, praised and brow beaten. I was restless and high spirited. Chicago was a hard place to grow up in the 1960's. My dad and grandfather were all city workers. My grandfather, Patrick, was a fireman and a hero in the great Chicago Fire. I am his namesake. My granddad was William P. Sexton. He was the head of the South-side water District and ran the Crib in Lake Michigan. My dad, William A. Sexton, was a Chief Building Inspector in Chicago. He had the downtown district when he died on the job. I had a really good father. I was lucky but, it did not save me from beatings I probably deserved. I can remember having an imaginary twin sister named "Penny". Patti and Penny. Penny was the perfect child. She did everything right. She was mom and dad's favorite. On the other hand, I couldn't do anything right. I was always scolded and always in trouble. I remember hiding under the grand piano with a big stuffed animal crying my eyes out. I was 5 or 6 years old. Normal... In my teenage years I had many friends. I never hung around with one group. I had groups of friends in a dozen neighborhoods all over the city. I hung out on a lot of corners that my dad told me not to. I also attended four different High Schools, which contributed to having so many friends. I also had many enemies. I was a very tough little girl also. If they got too out of hand, I would just beat them up...this was Chicago before guns took over. It was either 'beat' or be 'beaten'. I was beat up so bad in eighth grade and I vowed it would never happen again. So, I started working out with weights in the basement with my older brother, Billy. Billy and I were very, very close. We did many things together. He was the best brother anyone could have.. I had to go to summer school at Morgan Park High School in my Junior year for English. My teacher, a Nun at Mount Assisi, said that my short story assignment could not have been written by me. It was written by me! And I had four re-writes to show her. Sister Mary Dorothy still flunked me. That's when I knew I must be a good writer. Going to summer school in a mixed neighborhood in 1965-6 was very dangerous. Besides racial tensions, whites were divided into two groups. The Socialites and the Greasers. Undoubtedly, I was a "Greaser". We hung out at the Chatter Box Restaurant, near the school. We had many fun-filled days there. This is where I met my first love, Dennis Smagac.and now you will need to buy the book.
