Unscripted Love - Farah Andrea Smith 2014-04
 Love. A word we all hear all the time. It's become as popular as saying "good morning." Yet, have you ever wondered how such a simple four letter word, could have such a strong impact and so many different interpretations and meanings? It seems so easy and effortless to love material things, but when we apply the same concept to loving people or "being in love" with someone, the word love begins to get distorted and takes on a whole new form. So let's take a journey through "Unscripted Love" where you will discover what true love should look and feel like, embrace forgiveness, and experience emotional healing as you draw near to the heart of God. "Your beauty is flawless, there is none that compares to you. As the rain dews from the heavens, and refreshes the earth, so does the radiance of your presence, as it emanates light upon even the very darkest of places. You are resilient. You are strong. You have been crushed but never broken, for You know what it's like to experience Unscripted Love."

The Homecoming (Poems & Illustrations) -

Ray Bussard 2019-01-08

In, The Homecoming (Poems & Illustrations), the author takes us on a epic journey through the perils of lost love, despair, loneliness, and heartache, to the healing of his wounds through love and compassion. From the desire for a greater and more fulfilling kind of life the hero-protagonist finally arrives in a blissful state of universal love at the golden flower-strewn shores of paradise. Through wonderful poems and illustrations that explore the healing power of love and of the natural world, the reader comes to understand the process a person goes through in healing themselves and becoming whole. Philosophical, spiritual, and poetic, it is a story that will indelibly imprint itself on your heart and mind.

Secrets of an Organized Mom - Barbara Reich

Mom's Choice Awards Gold Award Recipient Professional organizer Barbara Reich offers a life-changing program—focused on decluttering and streamlining your home—that helps families live simpler, less chaotic lives: "Everyone should Barbarafy," raves The New York Times. Mothers can feel like life is one never-ending loop. Just when one problem or responsibility is overcome, another one trips us up. But help is on the way: Barbara Reich has all the strategies for staying ahead of the curve—and she's wrapped them up into four easy steps that can be applied to any organizing project: purge, design, organize, and maintain. The keys to Barbara's success are simplicity and consistency. Room by room, she goes through the most problematic areas in the home—from the tornado-struck play area to the packed basement or storage unit—and approaches organizing in manageable bites. In addition to cleaning and organizing tips, she talks about how to avoid social overload, preaching the power of "No"—for example, when Combining the humor of a sympathetic friend and the no-nonsense advice of a true type-A personality, Reich offers clever, appealing solutions that are genuinely achievable for everyone.

It's My Turn Now - Fritz-Gerald Delice 2007-05
 It's My Turn Now is a contemporary poetry book packed with inspirations and thoughts so well papered that one can easily feel the Lords' intervention in the writings. The different styles and moods used by the writer are enough to transform one's cogitation into reality. No matter who the readers are, it is guaranteed; one will find a poem that can speak to his/her heart. This is a no nonsense poesy tome, that will revitalize the souls, empower the weak and the feeble, and provide hope to those who had traveled certain paths. If one is been struggling with negative feelings and reflections that crumble the core, It's My Turn Now, will serve as a booster to lift you up, in time of despairs, confusions and uncertainties. Go ahead; tell someone, "It's My Turn Now." Fritz-Gerald Delice is the Award-winning author of the well acclaimed Inspirational poetry book "Just Let It Flow," published in 2006. Twenty five years ago, a young boy, from Port-au-Prince Haiti, the poorest country in the western hemisphere, came to the United States just like other determined enthusiasts; seeking a better span, superior than what his own could possibly offers. With a well-disposed mind, Delice applied himself accordingly. Through the years, balancing church, work, and schools, while relying solely on Gods' infinite grace for provisions. He's earned an associate degree in Accounting, a Baccalaureate and Magna Cum Laude Master's in Business Administration. Fritz-Gerald has written a host of articles for various magazines, including The Gwinnett Life; featured # 1 in three different anthologies. His

"I've always said that the best teachers are storytellers, and Jamie George is one of the best storytellers I know. I've been blessed by hearing him tell his stories in person for years. Now it's your turn!" Dave Ramsey, New York Times bestselling author and nationally syndicated radio show host "Jamie has invited us into his life through this book. Love Well is a peek into a preferred future. You will be drawn in and challenged to live life in a way that glorifies God and brings you deep joy." Darrin Patrick, lead pastor of The Journey, vice president of Acts 29, and author of The Dude's Guide to Manhood "When I heard Jamie was writing this book, my first thought was, at last! He's been one of my favorite storytellers for years, and as soon as you read Love Well, he'll be one of yours too." Jon

Acuff, New York Times bestselling author of Start and Stuff Christians Like "In Love Well, George offers us a spiritual harvest of connection—with God, ourselves, and others—so we can wade through our stuck places and start moving again. The poignant story of his marriage will move you. His superb writing will inspire you. His insights will challenge you." Mark Batterson, New York Times bestselling author of The Circle Maker Do you feel like you're stuck? Do you feel alone? Do you live in fear that your struggles might push others away? Do you wonder if your faith is a fraud because of the emptiness in your soul? Are you weary of trying to play by the rules and pretend that everything is okay? In Love Well, Jamie George confronts the popular heresy that God's children are meant to live a life absent of pain, sorrow, or conflict. On the contrary, Jamie passionately describes brokenness as a divine gift and a necessary God-ordained path to experiencing true joy and genuine redemption.

Made-Up - Daphné B. 2021-10-19

A nuanced, feminist, and deeply personal take on beauty culture and YouTube consumerism, in the tradition of Maggie Nelson's Bluets As Daphné B. obsessively watches YouTube makeup tutorials and haunts Sephora's website, she's increasingly troubled by the ways in which this obsession contradicts her anti-capitalist and intersectional feminist politics. In this poetic treatise, she rejects the false binaries of traditional beauty standards and delves into the celebrities and influencers, from Kylie to Grimes, and the poets and philosophers, from Anne Boyer to Audre Lorde, who have shaped the reflection she sees in the mirror. At once confessional and essayistic, Made-Up is a meditation on the makeup that colours, that obscures, that highlights who we are and who we wish we could be. The original French-language edition was a cult hit in Quebec. Translated by Alex Manley—like Daphné, a Montreal poet and essayist—the book’s English-language text crackles with life, retaining the flair and verve of the original, and ensuring that a book on beauty is no less beautiful than its subject matter. “The most radical book of 2020 talks about makeup. Radical in the intransigence with which Daphne B hunts down the parts of her imagination that capitalism has phagocytized. Radical also in its rejection of false binaries (the authentic and the fake, the futile and the essential) through the lens of which such a subject is generally considered. With the help of a heady combination of pop cultural criticism and autobiography, a poet scrutinizes her contradictions. They are also ours.” —Dominic Tardif, Le Devoir “[Made-Up] is a delight. I read it in one go. And when, out of necessity, I had to put it down, it was with regret and with the feeling that I was giving up what could save me from a catastrophe.” —Laurence Fournier, Lettres Québécoises, five stars “Made-Up is a radiant, shimmering blend of memoir and cultural criticism that uses beauty culture as an entry point to interrogating the ugly contradictions of late capitalism. In short, urgent chapters laced with humor and wide-ranging references, Daphné B. plumbs the depths of a rich topic that’s typically dismissed as shallow. I imagine her writing it in eye pencil, using makeup to tell the story of her life, as so many women do.” —Amy Berkowitz, author of Tender Points “A companion through the thicket of late stage capitalism, a lucid and poetic mirror for anyone whose image exists on a screen.” —Rachel Kauder Nalebuff “Made-Up is anything but—committed to the grit of our current realities, Daphné B directs her piercing eye on capitalism in an intimate portrayal of what it means to love, and how to paint ourselves in the process. Alex Manley has gifted English audiences with a nuanced translation of a critical feminist text, exploring love and make-up as a transformative social tool." —Sruti Islam "The book will leave you both laughing in recognition and wincing at the reality of the beauty world's impact on our collective psyche." —Chatelaine "[Made-Up] examines the intersection of beauty culture and consumer culture... Aided by the work of writers like Anne Carson, Anne Boyer, Amanda Hess, and Arabelle Sicardi... B. makes sharp observations about the ideologies behind both beauty [...] and consumerism." —Bitch Media "Made-Up: A True Story of Beauty Culture under Late Capitalism is well worth reading." —Literary Review of Canada "[Made-Up], newly translated by writer/poet Alex Manley from its original French, puts an intersectional, feminist lens on the author's personal fascination with the makeup industry; it also reckons with the cultural dominance of this fascination as she aims to square anti-capitalist principles with beauty-product obsession." —BitchReads: 11 Books Feminists Should Read in September

Undefended Love - Jett Psaris 2000-10-12

This book precisely maps a unique journey that turns the problems and conflicts that inevitably arise in relationships into opportunities for deeper connection. Illuminating case studies, guided self-inquiries, and challenging exercises help you discover how to engage your partner in a deeper dialogue and find ways of expressing the most profound and untamed aspects of your nature.

Documentary Film: A Very Short Introduction - Patricia Aufderheide 2007-11-28

Vertov's artful Soviet propaganda piece Man with a Movie Camera to Luc Jacquet's heart-tugging wildlife epic March of the Penguins. In this concise, crisply written guide, Patricia Aufderheide takes readers along the diverse paths of documentary history and charts the lively, often fierce debates among filmmakers and scholars about the best ways to represent reality and to tell the truths worth telling. Beginning with an overview of the central issues of documentary filmmaking--its definitions and purposes, its forms and founders--Aufderheide focuses on several of its key subgenres, including public affairs films, government propaganda (particularly the works produced during World War II), historical documentaries, and nature films. Her thematic approach allows readers to enter the subject matter through the kinds of films that first attracted them to documentaries, and it permits her to make connections between eras, as well as revealing the ongoing nature of documentary's core controversies involving objectivity, advocacy, and bias. Interwoven throughout are discussions of the ethical and practical considerations that arise with every aspect of documentary production. A particularly useful feature of the book is an appended list of "100 great documentaries" that anyone with a serious interest in the genre should see. Drawing on the author's four decades of experience as a film scholar and critic, this book is the perfect introduction not just for teachers and students but also for all thoughtful filmgoers and for those who aspire to make documentaries themselves. About the Series: Combining authority with wit, accessibility, and style, Very Short Introductions offer an introduction to some of life's most interesting topics. Written by experts for the newcomer, they demonstrate the finest contemporary thinking about the central problems and issues in hundreds of key topics, from philosophy to Freud, quantum theory to Islam.

Enlightenment in the Colony - Aamir R. Mufti

Enlightenment in the Colony opens up the history of the "Jewish question" for the first time to a broader discussion--one of the social exclusion of religious and cultural minorities in modern times, and in particular the crisis of Muslim identity in modern India. Aamir Mufti identifies the Hindu-Muslim conflict in India as a colonial variation of what he calls "the exemplary crisis of minority"--Jewishness in Europe. He shows how the emergence of this conflict in the late nineteenth century represented an early instance of the reinscription of the "Jewish question" in a non-Western society undergoing modernization under colonial rule. In so doing, he charts one particular route by which this European phenomenon linked to nation-states takes on a global significance. Mufti examines the literary dimensions of this crisis of identity through close readings of canonical texts of modern Western-- mostly British-literature, as well as major works of modern Indian literature in Urdu and English. He argues that the one characteristic shared by all emerging national cultures since the nineteenth century is the minoritization of some social and cultural fragment of the population, and that national belonging and minority separatism go hand in hand with modernization. Enlightenment in the Colony calls for the adoption of secular, minority, and exilic perspectives in criticism and intellectual life as a means to critique the very forms of marginalization that give rise to the uniquely powerful minority voice in world literatures.

Essays in Love - Alain De Botton 2006

"Essays in Love will appeal to anyone who has ever been in a relationship or confused about love. emotions we've all felt before but have perhaps never understood so well: it includes a chapter on the anxieties of when and how to say 'I love you' and another on the challenges of disagreeing with someone else's taste in shoes. While gripping the reader with the talent of a great novelist, de Botton brings a philosopher's sensibility to his analyses of the emotions of love, resulting in a genre-breaking book that is at once touching and thought-provoking."-- Publisher's website.

Beyond Crisis - Naveeda Khan 2012-04-27
Through the essays in this volume, we see how the failure of the state becomes a moment to ruminate on the artificiality of this most modern construct, the failure of nationalism, an opportunity to dream of alternative modes of association, and the failure of sovereignty to consider the threats and possibilities of the realm of foreignness within the nation-state as within the self. The ambition of this volume is not only to complicate standing representations of Pakistan. It is take Pakistan out of the status of exceptionalism that its multiple crises have endowed upon it. By now, many scholars have written of how exile, migrancy, refugeedom, and other modes of displacement constitute modern subjectivities. The arguments made in the book say that Pakistan is no stranger to this condition of human immigrancy and therefore, can be pressed into service in helping us to understand our present condition.

Polyamorous Love Song - Jacob Wren 2014
Fiction. From interdisciplinary writer and performer Jacob Wren comes POLYAMOROUS LOVE SONG, a novel of intertwined narratives concerning the relationship between artists and the world. Shot through with unexpected moments of sex and violence, readers will become acquainted with a world that is at once the same and opposite from the one in which they live. With a diverse palette of vivid characters--from people who wear furry mascot costumes at all times, to a group of 'new filmmakers' that devises increasingly unexpected sexual scenarios with complete strangers, to a secret society that concocts a virus that only infects those on the political right--Wren's avant-garde POLYAMOROUS LOVE SONG (finalist for the 2013 Fence Modern Prize in prose) will appeal to readers with an interest in the visual arts, theatre, and performance of all types.
