Love Signals David Givens 2006-01-10 A world renowned anthropologist explores the nonverbal signs, signals, and cues human beings exchange to attract and keep their mates. As a medium of communication, Love's silent language predates speech by millions of years. Today, we still express emotions and feelings largely apart from words. The postures, gestures, and facial cues of attraction are universal, in all societies and cultures. According to Dr. Givens, courtship moves slowly through five distinct phases: attracting attention, recognition phase, conversation phase, touching phase, making love. Since potential mates "test" each other before uniting as one, courtship is a choreographed give and take of signs granting physical and emotional closeness. Love Signals is part ethnography and part how-to. Dr. Givens documents the little courting rituals witnessed in elevators, on subways, and in the workplace. He examines the essential role the face plays in courtship and how it can be optimally displayed. He decodes the body to find silent messages given off by shoulders, neck, arms, hands, waist, calves, ankles, feet, and toes. Dr. Givens analyzes expressive shapes, colors, and markings encoded in arm wear, shoulder wear, leg wear, and shoes. He deciphers the background messages of spaces, places and interiors to learn how environs help or hinder in the meeting process. Chemical cues emanating from aromas, tastes, steroids, sterols, and hormones strongly shape a partner's feelings, so they are explored as well. The book suggests ways to gaze, ways to read eyes across a room, and ways to sit, stand, align, walk dress, and lift a drink to participate in the fascinating adventure of finding, winning, and keeping a mate. Knowing the unspoken vocabulary of love signals will give readers an edge. What this means for courtship is that the reader becomes able to read unspoken motives, emotions, and feelings with great clarity and precision. The more readers know about the nonverbal idiom of attraction, the more likely they will find a loving, lasting partner.

BODY LANGUAGE & BEHAVIOR CUSTOMS East & West Arnaud van der Veere 2021-03-12 Most communication is non-verbal. The way we walk, move and look is an expression of who we are and what we think. Our body is constantly signing the world who we are and what we want. It is a constant interaction with our environment. We are constantly reading other people and unconsciously try to understand their signs. When confronted with another culture we face the "translation" problem. We are not able to grasp the right meaning in the context of the moment. There is no possibility to mirror the movements as they are different of our own. There is a communication gap which can create problems. When cultures are vastly different the gap is even larger. How can we bridge this to create understanding and come to results? This book is focused on informing the reader about the Chinese / Western gaps, the differences, and similarities. The reason why we focus on this population in Asia is that their influence stretches over thousands of years and through emigration they did influence many other countries in Asia. In total worldwide it is considered there are over 2.3 billion Chinese at the moment and still growing. Hereby we look at different generations. Sometimes we show the past, the current time and what is expected to happen in the future. Through different levels of communications, the world is slowly moving in a common public direction. But the situation changes in a more private setting for business meetings, personal contacts and in a relationship.

The Poetics of Grace: Christian Ethics as Theodicy Jeph Holloway 2013-04-09 What is God doing about a world marked by conflict and division? What about a world in which our technologies promise great good but also threaten our existence? What is God doing in a world where the demands for accumulation and acquisition create division and despair? Can Christians hope to be of positive influence in a world that does not always support, reflect, or even understand Christian commitments? Christian ethics often raises such questions as these, and the possible answers vary widely. Paul's Letter to the Ephesians is a tremendous resource for exploring a faithful response to perhaps the toughest question of all: what is God doing about evil? The role of Christian ethics is to take seriously the challenge that, whatever God is doing, God calls us to participate in a distinctive task that embraces our own commitments and labors within the divine purpose. Ephesians says that God has taken the initiative to pursue that purpose and, remarkably, offers that we ourselves are part of the answer to the question, what is God doing about evil?

United in Love Nicholas Wolterstorff 2023-01-01 Nicholas Wolterstorff's distinguished career in philosophical theology continues to bear fruit, and here he shares his insight on the concepts of justice, art and liturgy. Although often discussed in isolation, as Wolterstorff masterfully demonstrates, they are bound together by divine love, and follow a common logical framework. Whether oriented towards the dignity of the other, the desire for creative engagement, or the infinite goodness of the creator, in every case unitive love is at their core. Wolterstorff explores all of this with consummate elegance, ultimately showing how each of the three topics find their fulfilment in the worship of God and in the affirmation of the image of God in each of us.
