As Long as We Both Shall Love - Karen M. Dunak 2013-08-30

In As Long as We Both Shall Love, Karen M. Dunak provides a nuanced history of the American wedding and its celebrants. Blending an analysis of film, fiction, advertising, and prescriptive literature with personal views from letters, diaries, essays, and oral histories, Dunak demonstrates the ways in which the modern wedding epitomizes a diverse and consumerist culture and aims to reveal an ongoing debate about the power of peer culture, media, and the marketplace in America. A Woman's Life-work - Laura Smith Haviland 1881

Canadian-born Laura Haviland (1808-1898) was an evangelically-minded Quaker and later (for a time) a Wesleyan Methodist, active in education and social justice issues throughout her life. A Woman's Life Work is, above all, a religious autobiography chronicling her conversion experience and her desire to express faith through benevolent social action. She was brought up in New York State but moved to Raisin, Lenawee County, Michigan, following her marriage at sixteen. In 1837, influenced by the example of Oberlin College, she and her husband founded the Raisin Institute, an academy open to "all of good moral character" regardless of race. After her husband's death, she became increasingly involved with the underground railroad, traveling frequently to the South and enacting elaborate plans to help slaves escape. When the Civil War broke out, she organized relief efforts for wounded or imprisoned soldiers as well as for former slaves, refugees, and those who were illegally still held in bondage, working with the Freedman's Relief Association and the American Missionary Association, with which she established an orphanage primarily devoted to black children. Although she lectured, lobbied, and ministered, Haviland's forte was grassroots activism--organizing, protesting, lobbying, or demonstrating against the specific injustices she encountered. Her book is filled with individual stories of black-white relationships under slavery and includes a slave narrative from a man called "Uncle Philip," transcribed in his own words. Haviland writes graphic descriptions of the punishments meted out to slaves and gives the reader eyewitness accounts of war-time prisons, hospitals, soup kitchens and refugee camps. She provides extensive information about the subtle relationships between the Society of Friends and evangelical Christianity. Though Haviland became a Wesleyan Methodist for the most active period of her life, she returned to her Quaker origins shortly before her death.

Asperger Syndrome - Stephan Ehlers 2006
What is Asperger syndrome? How do children with Asperger syndrome change as they get older? How can people with Asperger syndrome be helped? Written by two experts in the field, this book offers an introduction to Asperger syndrome, and attempts to answer these questions. It is aimed at parents of children diagnosed with Asperger syndrome.

Lynes 2022-03-01 She doesn't know I'm there, watching her in the mirror. She slides her hand under her blouse. And then I see something impossible. She isn't pregnant... She bursts into my life like a storm, and nothing is the same again. She seems so perfect, with her lilting laugh and her beautiful face. One by one, I watch as my friends fall under her spell. Only I seem to suspect something. Only I see that her smiles don't reach her cold, furious eyes. And when I'm accused of things I didn't do, when my home is vandalized, I know she's behind it. But she only lets her mask

Clean - James Hamblin 2020-08-06

SOAP SAVES LIVES. But did you know that excessive use of soap and skin-care products is harming our health and the environment? Apart from in hand-washing there is no need to use soap on our bodies at all? Doctor and preventative medicine expert James Hamblin gave up showering five years ago and only ever uses soap on his hands. In Clean, he takes us on an irreverent and entertaining journey through our complex relationship with our bodies and cleanliness. Drawing on the latest science, he introduces a new way to think about cleanliness - one that is cheaper, simpler and better for our skin, our immunity and the world in which we live. * With a new afterword by the author * 'Fun, interesting and credible' New York Times 'Persuasive... If you have ever been a young twenty-three year woman than you know that your hormones can get the best of you especially if you don't have a boyfriend. You begin to think there is something wrong with you, you begin to think you're not pretty like the other girls you see and you begin to compare yourself to other girls and with depression and comparison mixed together it can become a dangerous combination. You start to notice that you aren't really happy with your life as you see other couples walking in the park holding hands laughing and hugging and kissing as you sit all alone on the sidelines. You feel like you're on the outside of a room looking in at all the happy people and even though you are physically there you feel as if you're not. People will tell you that you're beautiful and have a great smile but with a lot of girls including me that smile hid all my loneliness and pain built up inside me. It wasn't until I met Jimmy when all that changed he lifted me up and changed my world around and then once again I was crushed by the man I loved. Why can't a girl get a break
