Never Look Back (Romantic Comedy, Contemporary Romance, Humor) Donna McDonald 2018-09-20 Her real life is no fairy tale and she's no Cinderella. After what her ex-husband did to her, heiress Henna Colombo is a man-hater, not a dater. And the thing she hates most of all is the fairytale of falling in love. Why do her father and her new wicked stepmother insist she keeps looking for her prince? And why at The Perfect Date? Only the most pathetic losers use a dating service. She's fine being single. As far as Henna's concerned, the love god can take his diaper-wrapped butt and arrows elsewhere. Cupid can also shove those arrows where the sun doesn't shine if he thinks for one second that someone like Vassal Milano is her perfect man. Vassal's perfect alright—perfect at sneaking around behind her back. Just like her ex, she caught him kissing someone else. No... she didn't confront Vassal about it. Why would she put herself through all that heartache and torture again? Outside of a few unforgettable kisses, she and Vassal were only friends anyway. Cupid's arrow missed her that time—thankfully. As for the whole dating thing and looking for any sort of honorable Prince Charming? Forget it. No such man exists. Luckily, Henna doesn't care.

Father Figure Aiden Bates 2017-02 Oliver has worked in the lab for three years, and he's been in love with Detective Sam Nenci for almost every second of those three years. When Nenci's boss pairs them up on a complicated case, he finally has a chance to get closer to the alpha of his dreams. When the dream and the reality fail to match up, will there be anything left for either of them to cling to? Oliver Wesson is a hotshot analyst with the State Police Crime Lab. He believes in two things in this world: Science, and saving himself for his alpha. Getting paired up on a case with Detective Nenci is both a dream and a nightmare for him - he has a chance to show off his skills, but Nenci's aversion to omegas in the field is well known. When he finds himself unable to resist his attraction for the older detective, his entire sense of self comes into question. Sam Nenci is the official troll of the Cold Case Squad. He's had some rough experiences in life, and they've left him a little bitter. The one thing he's not bitter about, though, is Oliver Wesson. He's stayed away from the beautiful and brilliant omega, however, because he believes he's too old for Oliver. Sam soon finds that keeping a professional distance between them isn't as easy as it sounds. Every time he thinks he has a chance to make things right with Oliver, he finds himself making a worse mess of things than he had before. Can Sam stop himself from destroying a relationship three years in the making?

Graphic novelist Shane Larson's focus is on his next book release. When that is finished, he plans to complete his doctorate. Just like he told his nagging father and gloating brother, he had definitely not been looking for a serious relationship when a one-night stand ended up being the woman of his dreams. Weeks later he's almost given up hope when helping a friend accidentally leads him to the mysterious "Anne's" front door. Book 7 - Never Look Back Her real life is no fairy tale and she's no Cinderella. After what her ex-husband did to her, heiress Henna Colombo is a man-hater, not a dater. And the thing she hates most of all is the fairytale of falling in love. Why do her father and her new wicked stepmother insist she keeps looking for her prince? She's fine being single. Book 9 - Never Too Old To Date Her business is wildly successful, but the rest of her life is just wild. Sixty may be the new forty, but not for the Honorable Eleanor J. Skyler. She's retiring from the law firm she spent her entire career building. What's wrong with wanting to wear yoga clothes every day and go zip-lining whenever the adventurous mood strikes? Nothing, that's what. She's got no time for dating and drama. She certainly has no time to deal with her senior law partner, Andrew Carson, who has for reasons she can't fathom, decided she's his perfect woman. Why is Andrew suddenly looking at her legs and telling her she's beautiful? He's barely over fifty. He has the tiny sports car. Why can't Andrew chase a twenty-year-old like every other man having a mid-life crisis?

Carved In Stone Donna McDonald 2011-05-28 They say you marry a person and not a family, but tell that to a Larson bride. A year has passed since his ex-wife remarried and 53 yr old Will Larson's adult sons have decided he needs their help to start dating again. Never Can Tell Donna McDonald 2023-01-30 Claire loves a good adventure, but dating at her age might be too much of one. Getting the makeover for her video felt traumatizing rather than adventurous. Sure, it was only hair and one day it would grow back, but the shock of her shorter style had yet to fade. Luckily, Claire was a survivor. She would survive seeing a stranger when she looked in the mirror. Like every other challenge of her life, she'd eventually figure this one out as well. A failed first marriage and terrible divorce hadn't broken her. Neither had becoming a widow when she'd allowed herself to try marriage again. However, signing up at The Perfect Date might be the one decision that ruins her love life permanently. Or maybe it's because she's dating for revenge. DATING A PRO (Book 7) Her tendency to buck convention as much as Harrison did definitely made Doris worthy of a tumble. She wasn't his first older woman so the decade difference in their ages didn't bother him a bit. After all, it wasn't like he was going to marry the woman. All he wanted was to share her lonely divorcee bed and maybe stir things up at the club with a few mix-gender golf games. He and Doris would both have some fun. The last thing Harrison expected was to find himself falling for the most inappropriate female he'd ever met.

Covered In Paint Donna McDonald 2015-01-20 Artists see things differently. In his 42 years of living, Drake Barrymore had seen the best and worst life had to offer. He had loved and lost a wife. He had managed to raise his son alone. But now all he can think about is a woman who is way too young for him. Dr. Brooke Daniels has an enticing body, a kiss-me mouth, and a sharp gaze that questions all the excuses he tries to make. On his canvasses Drake can often cover the truth with paint, but he knows all too well that strategy doesn't work in real life with its real problems. Yet all he can see without Brooke in his life is more loneliness than he's already known. Regardless of the challenges, he has to take a chance on loving her, no matter what the future brings.

Saving Santa (Holiday Romance, Romantic Suspense) Donna McDonald 2014-12-01 Her Marine training hadn't quite prepared her for saving St. Nick. Like all bad deeds, her nickname for Nicolas North had finally come back to bite her on the butt. The too nice man she admired was determined to play Santa for the local Christmas parade while some shooting stalker was out there after him. Megan Lynx had promised her brother to guard his best friend, but who was going to guard her from a childhood crush that had obviously not gone away? For a geek, the man could nearly kiss the hard-ass Marine right out of her. Only she couldn't let him. At least not until she'd managed to save Santa.

Never Stop Believing Donna McDonald 2020-12-17 The Holidays Can't Get Much More Perfect! Singer, Natalie Bright, sings for her supper, and for her grandmother's supper too. With bills to pay and her grandmother's illness to fight, life takes all the energy she has and then some. Love is something she tried once in her twenties and it didn't work out. Natalie's never stopped believing in Santa, but she's not very hopeful when it comes to finding love. Several years ago Dr. Jet Rahman lost the love of his life who was also his best friend. Now his work fills the empty space inside him, and what's left goes to his five-year-old daughter. Does he believe he can find love again? He certainly believes starting over is possible when you find someone who's a good match for you. He and Natalie though? Well, they're not a totally brilliant idea, but kissing her makes him more hopeful than he's been in a very long time.

The Perfect Date Collection 1, Books 1-3 Donna McDonald 2017-06-25 They're older. They're wiser. So why aren't they finding Mr. Right? The feisty heroines of The Perfect Date series are seasoned about life and romance, but not necessarily wiser about love. The stories in this collection are romantic comedies with attitude. Book 1 - NEVER IS A VERY LONG TIME Cupid she's not—but she's pretty darn close. Nothing in the world feels better to Dr. Mariah Bates than finding her clients the perfect date. Of course finding one for herself might be nice, but creative bill paying is for college students—not for accomplished doctors in their forties. Satisfied customers keep the electricity on. With her cop ex-husband doing everything he can to ruin her business, she's at her wit's end. Throw in another cop who makes her believe in love at first sight—or at least lust—and life is a mess. Book 2 - NEVER SAY NEVER Dating's one thing, but what's love got to do with it? Nothing. At least not for Ann Lynx. She's fifty-three for goodness sake. She's had love. All she's in the market for these days is some fun companionship—no strings attached. Right? Wrong. Thanks to her pain-in-the-rear-end best friend, Georgia, she's now back on the dating scene. Add Georgia's matchmaking daughter Mariah to the mix and Ann is officially in a world of trouble—or dates—to be more accurate. Book 3 - NEVER A DULL MOMENT What could she possibly have in common with a man whose watch costs more than her car? Georgia may be slowing down a bit at sixty, but she isn't stupid yet. The idea of her genuinely dating Dr. Brentwood Colombo, aka Hollywood... well, that's just totally insane. How did she let her snickering friends dare her into giving him a chance? A fair chance at what? Breaking her heart? No, thank you. Her dignity will not be trampled under Hollywood's expensive shoes. Now if he'd just stop talking about her perfect, perfect breasts, she might forget about him completely.  NOTE ABOUT THE SERIES HEAT LEVEL: Not being a fan of the word "clean" when applied to romance, I will instead say the heat level in this new series is in the 1-2 range, rather than 3-4 like some of my others. The focus is on sensuality and I've packed a lot into these stories.

Never Too Old To Date Donna McDonald 2020-02-27 Her business is wildly successful, but the rest of her life is just wild. Sixty may be the new forty, but not for the Honorable Eleanor J. Skyler. She's retiring from the law firm she spent her entire career building. What's wrong with wanting to wear yoga clothes every day and go zip-lining whenever the adventurous mood strikes? Nothing, that's what. She's got no time for dating and drama. She certainly has no time to deal with her senior law partner, Andrew Carson, who has for reasons she can't fathom, decided she's his perfect woman. To say she's confused in an understatement. They've known each other for over twenty years. They knew each other's spouses before they died. Why is Andrew suddenly looking at her legs and telling her she's beautiful? He's barely over fifty. He has the tiny sports car. Why can't Andrew chase a twenty-year-old like every other man having a mid-life crisis?

COVERED IN PAINT - In 42 years of living, Drake has seen the best and worst life has to offer. He has loved and lost a wife. He has managed to raise his son alone. But now all he can think about is a woman who is way too young for him. Dr. Brooke Daniels has an enticing body, a kiss-me mouth, and a sharp gaze that questions all the excuses he tries to make. CARVED IN WOOD -- He's obsessed with his art and with a woman who doesn't want to love him. Maybe he should be grateful. Without the constant frustration, Joseph McEldowney figures he might never have answered any artistic urge to express his emotions. Now carving life from wood is all that soothes him. Too bad he can't carve out a place in this world where nothing matters except the heaven-sent pull he and Jillian Lansing have towards each other.

Never Try To Explain Donna McDonald 2018-01-26 All she wants is a friend. What's wrong with that? Sure Jellica felt a smidge guilty for the money Greg Skyler spent on their date, but what did a man who wears sweater vests expect from a woman who wears crystals, burns sage, and teaches yoga? The two of them are never going to be the romance of the century. In fact, they have absolutely nothing in common. So why is Greg acting so surprised and hurt to hear she wants only to be friends? Before her mind can sort it out, Greg's sister is stalking her, his mother becomes her lawyer, and Greg starts bossing her around in the nicest way possible. Plus he's still trying to kiss her. And he's a really good kisser. Talk about confusing... Sometimes nice guys—and girls—do finish first. And being friends and lovers is as perfect as you can get.

Next Game I Play Donna McDonald 2021-11-25 A new contemporary romance about dating over 40 from USA Today Bestselling Author Donna McDonald. Dating at age 40 is the hardest game Taylor has ever played. Despite injured Hockey player Maximillian Wade's charm, masculine appeal, and having an amazing brother engaged to her best friend, Taylor was keeping her distance. Her no-dating-jocks resolution went double for dating "Wicked Wade" whose womanizing past was a matter of public record. Even though he's barely over 30, Max insists he's a reformed man, but how can she believe him? At her age, she no longer believes the promises the men she's known only pretended to keep. Just like her two best friends, Taylor learned her hardest lessons about love long before she turned 40. Her ex-husband divorced her when her sports-centered career almost went bankrupt to marry a rich woman. Good riddance, right? Yes, but until then, she hadn't even known he was that kind of person. Once Pink Link Sports became solvent again times ten, Taylor hadn't seen any reason to attach herself to a man. Dating became optional. That decision, though, was ironic given her business provided her with a veritable banquet of dating opportunities on a daily basis. The men who used her high-profile gym were talented, good-looking, and rich enough to afford her rates. Unfortunately, most also believed they deserved to date whoever they wanted whenever they wanted without worrying about Taylor daring to use the "c" word around them. Taylor saw herself as having been there, done that, and gotten too many consolation gifts to prove temporary relationships weren't for her. Instead, she learned to accept that pretending to commit to one woman was merely a romantic ploy famous athletes used to get into a woman's bed for a short while. Taylor wants a real home, maybe a family, and someone who'd cook for her occasionally. Those tiny dreams are all that's survived her disappointing love life. When Vance left her for a younger woman, their divorce felt like death to her. Now the only man she'd ever loved is dead for real and she's so mad at him she could scream. Not that Grace had been pining for Vance the entire decade that had passed because she hasn't been. She married twice after him... and divorced twice too. Yes, Vance's death had stunned her. The video he left stunned her too. How could Vance ask her to help the other discarded women in his life get over him? Two members of his harem were young enough to be her daughters. It was utterly selfish of him to ask such a thing and to make their inheritance her problem. She didn't need his millions. Grace felt like digging Vance up and shaking him until he died again. Her plan to get revenge is currently circling the drain as well. Dating the so-called "grief expert" his estate hired was supposed to be a joke where she got the last laugh.
