The Christian God of Love - Jordan Scott Wessling 2012
A work of analytic theology, this thesis offers an account of the nature of God's love and the way it orients the divine psychology towards the world. To that end, I (i) defend analyses of the essence, grounding and scope of God's love, (ii) advocate passibilism as a feature of divine love, (iii) explicate a relation between God's love and justice, and (iv) argue that God creates human persons out of love.

The Nature of God's Divine Redemption - John R.

Matthew 2014-08-18

The book was born out of a desire to lift your spirit. As we look around us today, we see a lot of pain and sorrow and misery. The concept of "The Nature of God's Divine Redemption" is a deliberate intention to encourage you and to lift your hope, to put your mind on something better and a superior way. The book tells you, "If the son of man set you free, you are free indeed" (John 8: 36, King James Bible). That is what is "The Nature of God's Redemption" is about. We are told that whatsoever a man thinks in his heart so is he. The idea behind the book is to help you to think good thoughts and to lift your minds from horizontal things to vertical things. God's love is the most amazing thing. The book tells that faith is also amazing. "It takes far more faith to believe in the intellectually chic and fashionable evolutionary myth than it does to believe in the existence of God." Moreover, it says, "Evolution is based entirely on faith because no facts or proof have ever been found to support it!" Faith does play a primary role in the life of a Christian. For the person who truly wants to seek God and learn to please Him, Hebrews 11:6 tells us that: "But without faith it is impossible to please God: for him that cometh to God must believe that He is and that He is a rewarded of them that diligently seek Him" Faith is vital to a Christian. In fact, without it, no one can please God. Notice this verse says that those seeking God "must believe that He is." Also the book articulates that "a deep belief in God, who 'rewards' all who 'diligently seek Him, requires proof of His existence." It says it is "After proof has been established, then—and only then can one have faith—absolute confidence that what man does is being recorded in God's mind, to be remembered when he receives his reward." If you are uncertain that God exists because proof of that existence has not been firmly established, then, under fire, your faith will wane or disappear. But when you truly believe in what Jesus Christ did on the Cross of Calvary, God's Divine love will redeem you and set you free from the heavy load of sin.

Love, Human and Divine -

Edward Collins Vacek, SJ
1994-04-01

Although the two great commandments to love God and to love our neighbors as ourselves are central to Christianity, few theologians or spiritual writers have undertaken an extensive account of the meaning and forms of these loves. Most accounts, in fact, make love of God and love of self either impossible or immoral.

Integrating these two commandments, Edward Vacek, SJ, develops an original account of love as the theological foundation for Christian ethics. Vacek criticizes common understandings of agape, eros, and philia, examining the arguments of Aquinas, Nygren, Outka, Rahner, Scheler, and other theologians and philosophers. He defines love as an emotional, affirmative participation in the beloved's real and ideal goodness, and he extends this definition to the love between God and self. Vacek proposes that the heart of Christian moral life is loving cooperation with God in a mutually perfecting friendship.

Duns Scotus on Divine Love - A. Vos 2017-09-08

The medieval philosopher and theologian John Duns Scotus (1266-1308) was one of the great thinkers of Western intellectual culture, exerting a considerable influence over many centuries. He had a genius for original and subtle philosophical analysis, with the motive behind his philosophical method being his faith. His texts are famous not only for their complexity, but also for their brilliance, their systematic precision, and the profound faith revealed. The texts presented in this new commentary show that Scotus' thought is not moved by a love for the abstract or technical, but that a high level of abstraction and technicality was needed for his precise conceptual analysis of Christian faith. Presenting a selection of nine fundamental theological texts of Duns Scotus, some translated into English for the first time, this book provides detailed commentary on each text to reveal Scotus' conception of divine goodness and the nature of the human response to that goodness. Following an introduction which includes an overview of Scotus' life and works, the editors highlight Scotus' theological insights, many of which are explored here for the first time, and shed new light on topics which were, and still are, hotly discussed. Scotus is seen to be the first theologian in the history of Christian thought who succeeds in developing a consistent conceptual framework for the conviction that both God and human beings are essentially free. Offering unique insights into Scotus' theological writings and faith, and a particular contribution to contemporary debate on Scotus' ethics, this book contributes to a clearer understanding of the whole of Scotus' thought.
