On Art and Literature ... White Oak Flats Richard Hood 2021-08-23 Old-Time Mountain Song There's a place in Tennessee, just across the line, No one ever goes up there, it's too rough a climb, You won't find the name or place wrote on any map, Folks down here 'round Shelton's Trace calls it White Oak Flats. Hazel Taylor was my wife, and I loved her so, We was married on Shelton's Trace, fifteen years ago, Now I lie here all alone, wonderin' on the past, Wonderin' why she left our home to go to White Oak Flats. I don't know how he looked at her, I don't know what he said, I don't know what he could have done, to turn poor Hazel's head, Never in her darkest hour, could she imagine that, She'd agree to go with him, up to White Oak Flats. I can see the rocky trail up the mountain side, I can see poor Hazel, now, lying by his side, Folks down here still talks about how it come to pass, Nothing but the silence now, up on White Oak Flats. Hazel Tighrow is a woman born far back in the Appalachian Mountains, in the early decades of the Twentieth Century, who explodes all the stereotypes. Where she "should" be an unlettered drudge, ready to marry young, and produce ten children, she is, instead, a reflective, self-taught, well-read, and sensitive young woman, who desperately wants the freedom to grow into herself. Still, because she is so aware, she knows whence she comes, and tries to fit-in as best she can. She eventually marries a caring young man, George Taylor, and does what she can to settle-in to the life of the mountains. Listen to the author's recording of the White Oak Flats song played on a fretless gourd-banjo, in the old two-finger style on YouTube.

Irresistible Masculine Sexappeal Caeden Connor 2018-05-09 To be irresistibly attractive to women. That would be rad, wouldn't it? You see other men working their magic, and you wonder just how they know just what to do. Well, I'll tell you one thing for certain: they weren't born with it. Attraction, believe it or not, is more of a skill than a born personality trait, and you can acquire it, too. The secret lies in understanding exactly what a woman wants, and learning how to give it to her. We have all been taught wrong since we were children about what females find attractive.

It's impossible to make them want you when you have no idea what you want. But advice from someone who has plenty of experience attracting women could change everything for you, teaching you what to do in order to make yourself irresistible. I am a man that women naturally find attractive, and I have seduced many women over the years, learning many tricks along the way. I know how their minds work, what makes them tick. I know what they want and what they don't want, and I am willing to share that information with you. Finally, you will know what you've been doing wrong. You will know what things you need to start doing, and which habits you need to kick. Prepare yourself to be the most attractive man in any room, no matter what you look like. The subtleties of what a woman finds attractive is enough information to fill a book-which is exactly what I've done. But this is no ordinary book. This book compiles years of built knowledge on female attraction, both from my own experience and from my observations, and contains everything you should have been taught as a young boy but never were. Say goodbye to stumbling over your sentences and worrying about your appearance, and wondering why she wandered away after you said hello. After reading this book, you will be so confident in your own ability to sweep a lady off your feet that you won't ever have to ask those kinds of questions again. And that confidence will carry over into all areas of your life, bolstering your self-assurance and your charm in the workplace and social situations. Can it really be that simple? Yes, and no. Don't be fooled-it will take hard study and a lot of practice. But you can learn the subtleties of female attraction just as easily as you can learn anything else. So, yes, female attraction is complex. But just a few secrets will unlock a whole new world for you-a world of irresistible attraction. So, what are you waiting for? Quit being the schmuck standing in the corner, baffled as to why women won't give him a second glance, and be the one who has women coming to him, like bees to honey. The power is right there in

David Heller 2014-09-11 People Go Crazy over Romance like Bees Go Wild over Honey is a hilarious and memorable look at children's views of romance, dating, and kissing. Directly from the spontaneous comments of four- to thirteen-year-olds, the reader is taken on a lively and outrageous journey through the nature of attraction, how to make yourself more attractive, courtship etiquette, adult dating habits, how to create a relationship, how the genders are different, the children's tips for romantically challenged grown-ups, and what happens if, by some chance, two people actually fall in love. Unlike their predecessors, this cohort of youngsters understands that the Internet is a common vehicle for meeting new people. Thus, they welcome with alacrity the opportunity to write their own dating site biographies and describe in detail what photos they would post. They also share with us, without self-consciousness, what they themselves would text on the next day after a first date—both if they hit it off with someone and if the date falls short of expectations. The resulting missives are as poignant as they are funny, and they say so much about the human predicament of wanting relationships so earnestly and yet finding them so elusive. Here is a sample of typical choice offerings: "In the beginning, you didn't have much of a choice because the only choice was the big dumb caveman in the next cave over" (Samantha, age 11). "Poets have been curious about love because to this very day, nobody at all understands women" (Robert, age 10). "Being romantic means you give a girl a kiss and a diamond ring, and she says: "That's very romantic. Can I have another?" (Javier, age 8). "I like girls because they are elegant and they always carry tissues with them when you need one" (Efrem, age 7). "If I fibbed on a dating profile, I would say I was top-rated in my class for being hot!" (Eli, age 9). "On Christmas, if you kiss under the mistletoe, you are supposed to get married. But if it happens by accident, God might let you off the hook" (Sandy, age 9). "For lovers, Valentine's Day is the day you kiss and kiss until

Making Marriage Work Lynn Toler 2012-08-07 "Solid advice for newlyweds, golden anniversary celebrants and everybody in-between" from the Marriage Boot Camp and former Divorce Court star (The Augusta Chronicle). As the judge starring on two hit television shows, Lynn Toler has witnessed, en masse, the thematic mistakes made in American marriages. She herself has also been wed for more than 30 years and has seen both the highs and lows of matrimony in her own marriage as well as the marriages of those close to her. Drawing from both her professional career and personal life, Toler sees that the biggest impediment to marriage these days is that couples decide to take the plunge based almost entirely on the most irrational criteria: falling in love. Making Marriage Work doesn't suggest that love has nothing to do with marriage at all; rather, Toler says that love by itself is simply not enough to make marriages survive.
Marriage, Toler says, is a job, and it needs to be treated like one.
This updated manual suggests specific procedures that should be put in place to bridge the gap between head over heels and happily ever after. It explains how to phrase things in order to span the great hormonal divide men and women often fall into when trying to talk to one another. It also discusses the very new and real challenges to marriage created in a culture often overwhelmed by the emphasis on (and ability to attain) instant

The Nature of Honey Melissa Calais Lewis 2015-01-07 This is a loving, powerful tribute to women everywhere. A lovely response to the negative images the media tends to portray women as. I love the analogy of the bee and woman. What a creative way to explain our complicated life journey! Wendy Matthews, educator. The author cleverly uses the origin of bees to illustrate the nuggets of truth as God would have women to be. This is illustrated in Proverbs 31. A wise woman will heed these words, for a woman who fears the Lord; she shall be praised. Dr. Patricia R. Williams, retired educator, and author of Hurting & Healing; Husbands, For Wives Only, and The Perfect Womans Flaw. She is part of a plan to bring gifts and preserve nature, assist in the production of something good, and to put forth a life-sustaining, life-altering substance. ~ Chapter One True beauty comes from within. It has distinct qualities that make the womans outer vessel even more beautiful. ~ Chapter Fourteen

..... What if there were only a few moments left on your life journey? Would you say your life has been meaningful and significant? Did you contribute to humanity and accomplish your life mission? In The Nature of Honey, the woman receives an invitation to return to nature in simplicity, positivity, and wisdom. There, she will find strength and beautygifts and hopeand realize her life mission. When she follows her true path, she sets out on a more spiritual journey.

At the core of men, you'll find a sensitive, emotional being that needs to feel loved, respected and needed. Men are very protective of their core. It's this protective behavior that keeps men from openly sharing their feelings with women.
