Relationship Red Flags You Shouldn't Ignore - Sandra Carney 2021-05-24

RELATIONSHIP RED FLAGS YOU SHOULDN'T IGNORE When someone is head over heels in love with somebody, they always ignore the red flags that could cause them to pause and reconsider before continuing down the road to a romance. Their mates, bless their hearts, are typically the first to see the warning signs. They know a 38-year-old online dating match who is "only staying with their parents for the time being" isn't a keeper. Infatuation, on the other hand, has a strange way of blinding people to clear signs that something is wrong with their future love interest, that is why in RELATIONSHIP RED FLAGS YOU SHOULDN'T IGNORE I am going to make you see these red flags early so you do not fall for them. The red flags are usually present from the start, but we fail to notice them for two reasons. One, an emotional abuser hides his or her manipulation behind charm and charisma, making red flags difficult to spot. Two, we have a void in our hearts that we are so willing to fill that we accept lesser than we are really deserving. A bad relationship can ruin your happiness and self-esteem, and you are much more than that I can't bear it anymore as a dating coach for women. You are deserving of more that is why I made this book, it is AMAZING and you will be learning a lot. In this book you will learn: Red flags in relationship and the way they may appear, Twelve signs that It's time to end a relationship, When is taking a break in a relationship a good idea and when isn't? Dangerous Relationships - Noelle C. Nelson

Dangerous Relationships: How to Stop Domestic Violence before It Stops You takes a preventative approach to domestic violence by answering the question "What can I do to avoid getting into a violent domestic relationship?," yet will also be helpful for those already in the midst of a violent relationship. Domestic violence does not suddenly appear out of a void. The majority of domestic violence incidents emerges from certain types of recognizable relationships. Dr. Noelle Nelson, a noted clinical psychologist and therapist, has helped many clients identify the common characteristics that run through most violent relationships, and thus avoid potentially dangerous heterosexual or same-sex relationships. Knowing what to look for and how to uncover a potentially abusive relationship before it ever gets to the physically violent stage greatly diminishes your chances of becoming a victim of domestic violence. The author clearly describes the seven warning signs attributed to these types of relationships, and advises how to proceed once you recognize such warning signs. Dr. Nelson systematically tracks and defines the characteristics of the potentially abusive domestic relationship through the development of four very different real-life scenarios: heterosexual lovers, husband and wife, homosexual lovers, and platonic female roommates. The situations discussed are composites of real events and real people, and they represent the most common relationships involving domestic violence. As different as these relationships may appear on the surface, Dr. Nelson shows they are actually very similar in their underlying dynamics. Dangerous Relationships ultimately points out that domestic violence can happen to anyone at any time regardless of age, gender, or sexual orientation. The author's sole purpose is to help stop domestic violence between adults before it has a chance to start - and before the hurting begins.

Controlling Relationship Red Flags - Liv Jesson

You feel anxious, worried and stressed out because you feel like you've upset your partner by meeting up with an old friend, or they've found a text they don't like on your phone. You feel apprehensive and fearful that they might end the relationship because you haven't abided by their expectations, however arbitrary they may seem. You feel like you can never confront them about their treatment of you because they'll dismiss you as crazy or disregard your questions altogether. You're afraid to tell them something because of how they'll react. You are belittled and made to feel small. Do these apply to you? These are all signs of a controlling relationship. These things once applied to me, so I know the hurt, pain, and inner turmoil a controlling spouse causes. I've written this book to help you decide if you're with a controlling partner because I know from experience the signs can be subtle, and if you have nobody close to you to talk to, getting validation and affirmation can be challenging.
