You can use YouTube to market your business, product, or services. However, you need a good video in order to draw traffic and make people want to visit your website after they have finished watching. So what goes into the perfect YouTube marketing video? Creativity always counts, of course, as does professionalism. Still, there are other things to take into consideration as well. The following is a list of tips that will get you started. Make your video creative. With all of the videos out there, yours needs to stand out in the crowd. Use fun music, great shots, and try to find an angle that hasn't already been done. People generally turn on to YouTube to be entertained and your video needs to be able to do this. Give some tips or solutions to common problems that are associated with your particular product, business, or services. This is an informational type of video and the audience will like the fact that they are learning something. Try to make the tips unique enough that most people can use them but haven't necessarily heard of them before. Make your video educational. People like to learn things when they watch video. Your perfect YouTube marketing video doesn't have to be all about how to find your website and what the cost of your product is. For example, if you are advertising your mechanical business then why not give a demonstration on how to change a tire? People will watch your video, learn something, and then visit your website. These how-to videos are a lot less threatening than standard commercials or advertisement that you see on television. Plus, they are entertaining. Add some realism or "behind the scenes" in your video. You can do this by introducing your staff introducing some customers, or even giving the audience a "behind the scenes" tour of the office, factory, or place of work. People appreciate this and it gives your product or business some authenticity. Add closed-captions to your video. Keep in mind that not everyone is able to hear and that those audience members might be the very ones that want to order your product. It's very thoughtful to keep the hearing impaired in mind when creating a video, even a marketing video, because most people rarely do.

How to Shoot Video That Doesn't Suck Steve Stockman 2011-06-02 Newly updated and revised, How to Shoot Video That Doesn't Suck is a quick and easy guide that will make your video better instantly—whether you read it cover to cover or just skim a few chapters. It's about the language of video and how to think like a director, regardless of equipment (amateurs think about the camera, pros think about communication). It's about the rules developed over a century of movie-making—which work just as well when shooting a two-year-old's birthday party on your phone. Written by Steve Stockman, the director of the award-winning feature Two Weeks, plus TV shows, music videos, and hundreds of commercials, How to Shoot Video That Doesn't Suck explains in 74 short, pithy, insightful chapters how to tell a story and entertain your audience. In other words, how to shoot video people will want to watch. Here's how to think in shots—how to move-point-shoot-stop-repeat, instead of planting yourself in one spot and pressing "Record" for five minutes. Why never to shoot until you see the whites of your subject's eyes. Why to "zoom" with your feet and not the lens. How to create intrigue on camera. The book covers the basics of video production: framing, lighting, sound (use an external mic), editing, special effects (turn them off!), and gives advice on shooting a variety of specific situations: sporting events, parties and family gatherings, graduations and performances. Plus, how to make instructional and promotional videos, how to make a music video, how to capture stunts, and much more. At the end of every chapter is a suggestion of how to immediately put what you've learned into practice, so the next time you're shooting you'll have begun to master the skill. Steve's website (stevestockman.com) provides video examples to illustrate different production ideas, techniques, and situations, and his latest thoughts on all things video.

The Viral Video Phenomenon. What makes videos go viral? Katja Grasberger 2016-05-19 Seminar paper from the year 2014 in the subject Communications - Multimedia, Internet, New Technologies, grade: 2,0, University of Bonn (Anglistik), course: Digital Cultures, language: English, abstract: It will probably shock you that the original version of "Gangnam Style" by the Korean singer PSY (standing for psycho) is the most watched video on YouTube of all time counting over 800 million views since it has been uploaded in 2010. What it features is a song that will stick to your head, and dance moves everyone will try to imitate - it had what it took to go "viral", to spread around the world like a sickness. This phenomena is not bound to one specific video genre, in this case a music video, but can be found in other genres as well, for example in comics, animal or amateur videos. Everyone can become famous on the internet by the day after tomorrow if his or her video got what it takes to become viral. But what does it take? A lot of viral videos do not feature informative content that helps us in any way or is important for our lives, nor does the content make any sense at all sometimes. It even appears that the videos with no content are even more popular. Although there are many viral videos of very different genres, they all share to some degree certain qualities, however can their success in the digital Internet age not be boiled down to a simple set of rules, neither can it be predicted, because these qualities are only features that can help as it has also a lot to do with luck and timing. By looking at the videos "Charlie bit my finger - again!", "The Sneezing Baby Panda" and "Dramatic Chipmunk", "David After Dentist" we will see that although they are very different and feature different content they have qualities that are similar and that some have qualities that the others will not have, demonstrating that there are no general or universal rules one can use and then have viral success.

Youtube Mastery Marketing Robert Grow 2020-10-16 Many people have discovered creative methods to earn money using the internet. A "money-making" technique that is currently popular today is the monetization of YouTube channels. Whether you are a musician who wants to get some attention from music fans all over the world or a business owner who is establishing a video library for the products that you are selling, monetizing your YouTube account is a great way to build a reliable income, provided you do it correctly. There is a lot of misconception about YouTube as a social media platform. Because of the ease with which users can update and create their own content, it often seems like less of a social media network and more of a personal page. But just because you can use Facebook, Twitter and the like to promote your video, doesn't mean that YouTube isn't a viable social media platform. In fact, YouTube can be seen as the heart of the social media platforms as its content is widely distributed throughout the other platforms. In fact, 400 tweets per minute contain a YouTube link, and YouTube's search bar is the second only after Google. YouTube has the benefit of having one of the most engaged audiences out of the social media platforms. With tweets flooding Twitter news feeds, and posts cluttering Facebook feeds, it's harder than ever to reach followers on platforms. However, 85% of YouTube subscribers consider themselves "regular" YouTube users. It's recommended that if you do pursue creating a YouTube channel that you have a professional team of producers and creators as the content uploaded should maintain a high standard. However, a lot of big Youtubers have started with just their mobile phone and a personality. Now, video content and a strong YouTube presence can be significantly harder to establish than say Twitter, Facebook or Instagram. But if video content were right for your brand, it would be well worth the extra step. As YouTube is free to set up (and easy - all you need is your Gmail address, and you're set), the company makes its massive profits from ads. While they are reserved for those top budget players, YouTube still has certain issues with the ads as they are considered a form of interruption messaging, i.e. not organic content that is so highly favored on other social media platforms. Essentially, the paid ads are disrupting viewers from what they are doing on the site. And with the ease of the "Skip Now" button, the ads have a high chance of not being viewed if they are not properly targeted. This guide will focus on the following: Features and impact of YouTube YouTube tools to help you target viewers Creating great YouTube content How the YouTube algorithm works How to get more YouTube subscribers Making your videos Bringing in the traffic Picking a profitable niche and keyword research SEO YouTube channel goals you can control... AND MORE!

YouTube Master Joseph Greene 2022-10-25 YouTube Master Are you new into YouTubing and wish to increase your youtube views and subscribers? I understand how it feels to be in that state, that's why I compiled this book to guide you through. Newcomers like TikTok are having a big impact on social media right now, but one video-sharing platform still reigns supreme: Youtube. With over 2.1 billion users worldwide, it is the second most-visited website on the internet. If you want to maximize the platform's potential, you must learn how to promote your channel. High-Ranking Keywords A great YouTube channel begins with excellent SEO. And great SEO begins with knowing what users are looking for. People do not only look for videos on YouTube; they also use Google. In addition, for many searches, Google now prioritizes video over other content. There is no hard and fast rule for determining which keywords will help your YouTube video rank well. However, a little reverse engineering can go a long way. Here's how to find a video-friendly keyword on Google: Identify possible keywords with a tool like the Google Ads Keyword Planner. Google one of your options. Analyze the Search Engine Results Page (SERP) for each keyword. Are the top-ranking results videos or written content? Tweak your keyword and try again. Try adding words like "How to" or "Tutorial" if you're having trouble finding keywords with video results. Choose a keyword that prioritizes video and suits your content. For example, "Photoshop Tutorial" shows video results first, while "Photoshop Tips" first directs Google users to a web page. Custom Thumbnails are important, perhaps even more so than titles. This is due to the fact that our brains are hardwired to notice visuals first. According to one MIT study, we process them in less than 13 milliseconds. YouTube generates thumbnails for all videos automatically, but they can be blurry or out of focus. Create an eye-catching custom thumbnail for each video you post to increase views. Your Profile Details Many YouTubers skip the profile section entirely and instead focus on content creation. A compelling profile, on the other hand, is one of the simplest ways to promote your YouTube channel and boost your SEO. Here are some best practices for developing a successful YouTube profile: Be consistent. Use a similar color palette, writing style, and layout as you do on your website and other social channels. Optimize your YouTube channel description. This is a great place to add keywords. YouTube penalizes Tag Stuffing" but including a couple of keywords can go a long way. This YouTube book also covers: How to create a high quality video How to edit your video before publishing Promotional tips for your video How to increase the number of your video views And many more. If you just started out on youtube or knows someone who does, this book is for you to enhance your knowledge of channel visibility and quality video production.

YouTube is the top social network to place your videos and grow your business. It's no wonder so many creators upload their content to YouTube. In any given minute, there's over 500 hours of video getting uploaded to YouTube. Businesses invest a lot of time determining who their target demographic is, and for good reason. one group finds engaging and interesting, another may not. So it's important for businesses to understand what demographic they are targeting so they get the marketing just right for them. But, businesses don't have to go to such trouble when they're using video marketing because video marketing reaches every demographic and is interesting to every demographic. And this is because men and women, and people of every age, love video. As long as it's interesting and creative, people will like a video regardless of their background or history. This can be a bonus for businesses that know who their demographic is, simply because more people will share it and like it, even if they don't make up part of the business' demographic. But it's also especially good news for businesses with a shifting demographic, or for those that don't know how makes up their demographic. That happens sometimes when a business changes directions or changes their product or service slightly, and then they have to start back at square one with their marketing efforts. But when a business has already created videos as part of their marketing plan, they don't have to change a thing because those videos will already be suitable for every demographic. Imagine one type of marketing that appeals to every single demographic. It seems too good to be true, but it's not. That type of marketing is video marketing, and reaching every demographic is just one very good reason why every business should be investing in it.
