Chuck's confession takes their marriage and sex life to a whole new level - one that is rip-roaring, at the same time, a walk on thin ice for their marriage. Hot Romance Erotica SAMPLE 1: At the party, I made sure that I punched all of Chuck's buttons. I was wearing one of the outfits that he had given me and CFMs with five-inch heels. I danced with anyone who asked and I allowed hands to go where ever they wanted. My ass was squeezed, my pussy was rubbed through my skirt and I just knew I was going to have bruises on my breasts when I got home. I let myself get maneuvered into dark corners, let myself be kissed and even gave some tongue to a couple of guys. I did all of that with one eye on Chuck to see how he was taking it. He wasn't smiling, but I didn't see anger either so I took it to the next level. When my next dance partner, a tall, handsome black man named Mark, suggested we step outside for some air, I said okay and three minutes later we were swapping tongues. He worked his hand down the inside of my skirt and panties and I rubbed the bulge in his pants with my hand. When his hand reached my pussy I unzipped him and reached inside, grasped his erection and pulled it out to where I could stroke it. I looked down at it and saw that it wasn't all that big, just a bit fatter than Chuck's, but no longer. "Let's go to my car," Mark whispered.

Mountain Cabin A.J. Mayes 2021-07-05 DESCRIPTION: Raised as an independent Montana girl, Alex loves the freedom she feels when she hikes alone through wilderness. While hiking a mountain, she falls and unable to walk, she waits. A wolf howl sparks dread, then out of the rain-drenched night, Clay comes to save her. Can these two souls find love on their own, or do they need the help of her husky, and his wolf? EXCERPT: Alex swung the flashlight over the terrain, then saw a gray wolf, his amber eyes looking down at her. Oh, hell. He's huge. Yukon will try, but she can't protect me from a predator like that. Gut-wrenching dread consumed her while the wolf eyed her. The wolf made no sound, and she held her breath while his glowing eyes penetrated her soul. Yukon moved between her and the wolf, her growls low. The wolf continued his stare, and Alex sensed he was thinking things over. She wondered if this was the night death came for her, and her heart galloped wildly in her chest. The cold rain turned torrential, and the wolf slowly turned, then loped up the mountain. Alex exhaled sharply, gulped in air, and, calling Yukon to her, hugged her. "That was close, girl. Thanks for protecting me." The husky licked her face. "I love you, too." She rested her back against the boulder. "We're okay, now. The wolf went to hunt other prey." Time passed. Suddenly, Yukon leapt to her feet, growled, and took off. As the husky disappeared into the darkness, Alex struggled to control her utter fear. Oh my God, I'm alone! Where'd she go? Is the gray wolf back? She took a breath and waited for death to come once more. Her heart soared when Yukon ran to her and wagged her tail, then relief surged through her body. From nowhere, a tall man in full rain gear, his head covered by a fur hood, walked towards her. Blinded by the man's flashlight, her breath caught in her throat when she heard his deep masculine voice. "Looks like you need some help. Did you fall?" "Yes. I made a stupid mistake." She shielded her eyes and tried to get a look at the man. "I hurt my right ankle pretty bad. I'm afraid it's broken." "Name's Clay Williams. Mind if I take a look?" "Please. I'm Alexandra Morgan. Call me Alex." Clay knelt beside her, ran his hands over her ankle, and rotated her foot. She winced and gritted her teeth as sharp pain radiated from her ankle. He gently set the foot down and squeezed her leg. "It's just a severe sprain. You'll be good as new in a week or two." "I hope so." His fingers burned her skin, and she felt tingles inside. "How did you find me, Clay?" "That can wait. The rain will turn to snow soon and you're wearing shorts. Let's get you out of the cold. I have a cabin not far from here." "You live on the mountain?" "Yep. With your ankle, I'll have to carry you." "I know. Keep your eyes open. There's a huge gray wolf hunting near here. He scared the shit outta me and Yukon half an hour before you showed up." "This is his territory, but he's no danger to humans. The wolf was just curious." "Yeah. I think he wanted to know if I taste good." "Can't blame him, Alex ... I'm wondering the same thing." She laughed. "Seriously? I'm a damsel in distress and you're hitting on me?"

BESTSELLING BOOK! Mike Majlak was a seventeen-year-old from a loving, middle-class family in Milford, Connecticut, when he got caught up in the opioid epidemic that swept the nation. For close to a decade thereafter, his life was a wasteland of darkness and despair. While his peers were graduating from college, buying homes, getting married, having kids, and leading normal lives, Mike was snorting OxyContin, climbing out of cars at gunpoint, and burying his childhood friends. Unable to escape the noose of addiction, he eventually lost the trust and support of everyone who had ever loved him. Alone, with nothing but drugs to keep him company, darkness closed in, and the light inside him--the last flicker of hope--began to dim. His dreams, potential, and future were all being devoured by a relentless addiction too powerful to fight. Despair filled him as he realized he wasn't going to survive. Somehow, he did... HE NOT ONLY SURVIVED, HE THRIVED. Now he's a social media personality with millions of followers, and an entrepreneur, marketer, podcaster, YouTuber, and author who hopes to use his voice to shine a light for those whose own lights have grown dim. Company for Three: MMF Menage Romance Zoey Thames 2019-07-29 Two billionaire rivals and the woman who stands between them... Cara Ross is the manager of a non-profit ranch specializing in horse rescues. When she attends a fancy New York fundraiser, she meets the sexy James Lebray and the handsome Deacon Frost. Both men are interested in becoming donors, so Cara invites them to the ranch for a tour, and things only heat up from there. But Cara's self-doubt haunts her. She's not rich, not famous, and she certainly can't fit into any of those size-zero dresses that the New York models wear. So why would two scorching-hot billionaires be interested in a plus-sized girl more comfortable wearing jeans and rescuing horses? And why does she suddenly feel like a prize they're battling each other to win—and she's cheering for them both? Deacon Frost has been wildly successful since leaving the military and starting his company years ago. These days, the biggest thorn in his side is billionaire James Lebray, a competitor who's as driven to win as he is handsome. James Lebray is a man who smiles too much and looks too good doing it—and he's a problem. Not only is James locked in a bidding war with Deacon for a company they each want for very different reasons, but he's also moving in on the fascinating Cara Ross. And Deacon isn't going to let her go without a fight. James always plays to win. Cara's a pretty puzzle that immediately fascinates him, but his biggest rival, Deacon Frost, is clearly interested in the curvy woman too. Normally, James would be confident in his chances to win Cara's heart, but he's always had a thing for Deacon. The man is drop-dead gorgeous, and that alpha military bearing of his has sparked many a fantasy. Clearly, the only thing a sane man can do is kiss the guy and see what happens. He intends to win both Cara and Deacon. But emotions run hot and competition runs deep, threatening any chance the three of them have at happiness. Can enemies truly become lovers? Cara might be the one who bound them together, but will she be the thing that forever drives them apart? But after the two men take her cruising on their sailboat for her birthday, one thing leads to another, and a kiss in the heat of the moment might end up costing her the job... After their last ménage relationship ended badly, Max believes John is the only person worth trusting with his heart. The last woman in their threesome conned them, stole their money, and escaped with their yacht. But the new chambermaid already has him second-guessing himself. She's exactly their type—a woman with a million-dollar smile, all the right curves, and a guileless charm they can't resist. Too bad she's part of his staff and strictly off limits. When a sudden kiss complicates everything, he decides their growing desire can no longer be denied. He's left with only one option to get what he wants. In order to have Avery, he must first fire her. But will John forgive him, even if he's doing what he believes is right? Or will a woman be the cause of their heartache once again?
