When Love Glows - Victor Akinrinmade 2012-03-13

This is a love poetry by the award winning author, Victor Akinrinmade. Regarding the emotional freight contained in the poems, the overriding impression is one of sentiment blended with intimate emotional realism. These are no slushy, sentimental verses for doe-eyed lovers. They are by turns passionate, wisful and forceful. They convey the many facet of love: sexual attraction; dependency; fear of loss; aesthetic appreciation of the loved one; protectiveness; possessiveness; and so on.

How to Improve Your Relationship More - Elizabeth Law 2023-01-14

You might like having a life partner once the novelty of a new relationship has worn off. As you draw nearer, the sparkles get smaller. Some couples don't keep their promises. Rekindling the romance and expressing your affection for the person you're with is never too late. What traits should a good husband possess? Is it vital to stay with a life partner who is devoted, successful, and financially secure? The intended readership for this book consists of single women looking for love, married women aiming to support their husbands' personal development, single men looking for the woman of their dreams, and married men hoping to better provide for their families. Many women wonder why incredibly devastating romantic relationships with men come to an end. A common misconception among women is that unsuitable men would change if they choose them for marriage or committed partnerships. These terrifying possibilities contain both elements we want and those we don't. It can be challenging to balance needs and wants in romantic relationships. You would anticipate a tall, gorgeous, likable, and powerful business executive. Despite all of his successes, he can have character flaws that prevent him from being a good match for you. Usually, when two people in a relationship disagree, we assume there must be a problem. When in fact it happens spontaneously. Spending so much time with someone makes it unavoidable, especially if you decide to get engaged. There are positives to consider despite the fact that it's unpleasant and occasionally harmful. Love is the most wonderful and joyful thing in the world. Love could actually hurt your rear. It's hard to be in relationships. Older people are nodding, while younger people are presumably placing their fingers in their ears and saying their favorite sayings, I was aware of this. Relationships take work. They don't necessarily quickly become affluent. They need constant care and attention. It will fade and vanish if you don't strengthen it. The pair must be able to handle its ups and downs if they want to maintain a healthy, happy relationship. Relationships can be like worn-out shoes that we continue to wear even if they are no longer cozy. However, ease is not always a reflection of a life that has been well-lived. Grab your copy now to read and enjoy the significance of this book in detail.

Sensory Environmental Relationships: Between Memories of the Past and Imaginings of the Future - Blaž Bajič 2023-09-26

Sensory environmental relationships - understood as dynamic, embodied, and emplaced affective sensory perceptions in (and of) the environment - invite us to remember the past, infuse our experiences of the present, and entice us to imagine the future. Ethnographically specific, socially and culturally nuanced approaches to environmental relationships require considerable conceptual and practical flexibility and inventiveness. Reflecting this commitment, 'Sensory Environmental Relationships' aims to offer a new anthropological understanding of how, in our individual and collective lives, senses, places, and temporalities intersect. While anthropologists have been studying the sensory environmental relationships in connection to people's pasts and presents, futures remain conspicuously absent. By bringing different timeframes into the foreground of the analysis, this volume contributes to filling in the gap in our understanding of the human experience. The volume's ethnographically based contributions address the questions of how embodied and emplaced practices of sensing, while moving or staying in place in diverse environments, engender, inform, and affect the processes of remembering (and forgetting) the past, experiencing the present, and imagining the future. Drawing on the fields of environmental anthropology, sensory studies, studies of movement and mobility, memory studies, and other related (sub)disciplines, as well as diverse, epistemologically and methodologically experimental approaches, the volume explores the ways in which sensory environmental relationships “touch” upon our pasts, presents, and futures.
