subjects anything that might emerge and shape and color a friendship. The young philosophers and humorists expound on these and numerous other topics: what were the world's first friendships like, how do most contemporary friendships begin, what type of person should you select, how do you build a friendship, how are female friendships different than male friendships, what every true friendship must possess, how friends are different than relatives, and what are some of the most colorful reasons that friends sometimes argue. In response to such intriguing topics, the youngest do indeed say some of the darndest things about friendship and their friends. Here are a few choice morsels of wisdom: "Friendship is a 'ship' that can have two people on it, and it can float good without the people having to steer too much." (Maurice, age 11) "Friends are like two pennies because they just seem to make sense together." (Kera, age 9) "To get someone to be your friend, buy them a friendship card and show them it cost you a lot by drawing a red circle around the price." (Ryan, age 9) "Every good friendship needs to have enough shared toys to get through the rough times." (Mitch, age 7) "In friendship, you share things like cookies. In love, you might share bigger stuff like children." (Chung, age 10) "Remember that you don't ever buy friendship with money or gold, you earn it with respect." (Rodney, age 9) "A friend in need is a friend who hands you a tissue when your nose is running." (Marie, age 6)

Big Friendship - Aminatou Sow 2020-07-14

A close friendship is one of the most influential and important relationships a human life can contain. Anyone will tell you that! But for all the rosy sentiments surrounding friendship, most people don't talk much about what it really takes to stay close for the long haul. Now two friends, Aminatou Sow and Ann Friedman, tell the story of their equally messy and life-affirming Big Friendship in this honest and hilarious book that chronicles their first decade in one another's lives. As the hosts of the hit podcast Call Your Girlfriend, they've become known for frank and intimate conversations. In this book, they bring that energy to their own friendship—its joys and its pitfalls. Aminatou and Ann define Big Friendship as a strong, significant bond that transcends life phases, geographical locations, and emotional shifts. And they should know: the two have had moments of charmed bliss and deep frustration, of profound connection and gut-wrenching alienation. They have weathered life-threatening health scares, getting fired from their dream jobs, and one unfortunate Thanksgiving dinner eaten in a car in a parking lot in Rancho Cucamonga. Through interviews with friends and experts, they have come to understand that their struggles are not unique. And that the most important part of a Big Friendship is making the decision to invest in one another again and again. An inspiring and entertaining testament to the power of society's most underappreciated relationship, Big Friendship will invite you to think about how your own bonds are formed, challenged, and preserved. It is a call to value your friendships in all of their complexity. Actively choose them. And, sometimes, fight for them.

From Wall Street Journal and USA Today

propositions and proposals. Stay-cation, that's my kind of vacation. Only this year, my brother isn't having it. He has this great idea that we should all take a family vacation together. Not any vacation, no, we were embarking on a week long cruise. An all expenses paid trip for us all. A vacation that has one stipulation: bring a plus one. What do I do when I find myself minus a significant other? I lie, of course. One lie led to another, and suddenly the only answer is him. Mason, the man, the myth, the legend. Okay maybe not to everyone but he certainly has taken center stage in more than one of my fantasies. This whole thing is absurd, he works in my building. This could end so very badly for us both with the no fraternization policy. Yet, here we are sailing away. Maybe it's the alcohol, or too much sun, either way I find myself getting lost in my simple proposition. The problem is we will soon return to shore. When the anchor drops where will things settle for us both?
