I Can't Relate - Jo Lynn Sudenly 2011-09-29

Have you ever had a friend that told you some horrific news about themselves or their loved ones? You were possibly struck by their frankness and caught off guard as to how to respond. Did you know how important your response was to them, and that it could cause permanent damage to them and your relationship if it were handled badly? This book is the story of a large blended family and a little girl who never felt quite right. Something was missing and the secrets that went along with that feeling left her dangling in mystery and mayhem. Jo Lynn spent a lifetime of wondering about the puzzle until it came to a startling and shocking end. She was left with the choice of picking up the pieces letting it go and moving on, or listen to the nagging voice in her head that spoke of how much easier the alternative of giving up would be. Food, Drink, and the Female Sleuth - Patricia Lunneborg 2001

From the author of books about women police officers and a retired editor who's now a volunteer cop in small town America, Food, Drink, and the Female Sleuth gathers together the best food scenes in mainstream detective fiction. Over 140 flavorful contributors, over 250 slurpy excerpts, 23 rich chapters with titles like "Undercover Grub and Stakeout Takeout," "Junk Food on the Run," "A Dozen Ways to Feed Your Lover," "Bribing with Food," and "The Last Bite." Like us, PIs, cops, and amateur sleuths ARE what they eat. Also they are known by how they eat, where they eat, why they eat, and by who does the cooking. What better way to flesh out a sleuth's work partner than "Let's Have A Drink," or spell out social class with humor in "Upper and Lower Crusts"? What better way to get a plot underway than breakfast? Or stir in suspense and foreshadow events in "Let's Do Lunch"? This book is for anyone whose shelves are stacked with really good detective novels and really good food. Face it, if you like to eat, put Food, Drink on your table.

Jane Fonda - Patricia Bosworth 2011-08-30

"The definitive portrait of a woman conflicted, torn between ferocious ambition, family, and feminist causes" (Gail Sheehy, author of Passages). Jane Fonda emerged from a heartbreaking Hollywood family drama to become a '60s onscreen ingénue and then an Oscar-winning actress. At the top of her game she risked it all, speaking out against the Vietnam War and shocking the world with a trip to Hanoi. One of Hollywood's most committed feminists, she financed her husband Tom Hayden's political career in the '80s with a series of exercise videos that sparked a nationwide fitness craze. Even more surprising was Fonda's next turn, as a Stepford Wife of the Gulfstream set, marrying Ted Turner and seemingly walking away from her ideals and her career. Patricia Bosworth goes behind the image of an American superwoman, revealing the real Jane Fonda—more powerful and vulnerable than we ever expected—whose struggles for high achievement, love, and motherhood mirror the conflicts of an entire generation of women. In the hands of this seasoned, tenacious biographer, the evolution of one of the world's most controversial and successful women becomes nothing less than a great, enthralling American life. "A book that gets unusually close to its subject. It sees what Ms. Fonda cannot see about herself." —The New York Times "Bosworth's thorough account of this wild, uniquely twentieth-century Hollywood life makes Jane Fonda the actress even more intriguing." —San Francisco Chronicle

But Aideen's own life is a mess - her mam's drinking again, her BFF Holly is avoiding her and she's skipping school.
