

1000 YEARS HENCE

THE TIC

Homo sapiens accisionemembrum

Medical technology has developed "soft" forms of the back-ups that keep alive the weakening human form. Replacement organs, grown synthetically, are grafted onto the body. Eyes, ears, mouth and nose still function. The fingers work only as organs of touch. Lifting or handling is left to arms grown artificially. Fashion plays a part in such surgery.

Generic engineering is not so far advanced that something grown artificially can match the complexity of 3500 million years of evolution. Grafted organs are single not multifunctional.

The Dawn of Everything David Graeber, David Wengrow, 2021-10-19 THE NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLER AND SUNDAY TIMES OBSERVER AND BBC HISTORY BOOK OF THE YEAR FINALIST FOR THE ORWELL PRIZE FOR POLITICAL WRITING 2022 Pacey and potentially revolutionary Sunday Times Iconoclastic and irreverent an exhilarating read The Guardian For generations our remote ancestors have been cast as primitive and childlike either free and equal or thuggish and warlike Civilization we are told could be achieved only by sacrificing those original freedoms or alternatively by taming our baser instincts David Graeber and David Wengrow show how such theories first emerged in the eighteenth century as a reaction to indigenous critiques of European society and why they are wrong In doing so they overturn our view of human history including the origins of farming property cities democracy slavery and civilization itself Drawing on path breaking research in archaeology and anthropology the authors show how history becomes a far more interesting place once we begin to see what's really there If humans did not spend 95 per cent of their evolutionary past in tiny bands of hunter gatherers what were they doing all that time If agriculture and cities did not mean a plunge into hierarchy and domination then what kinds of social and economic organization did they lead to The answers are often unexpected and suggest that the course of history may be less set in stone and more full of playful possibilities than we tend to assume The Dawn of Everything fundamentally transforms our understanding of the human past and offers a path toward imagining new forms of freedom new ways of organizing society This is a monumental book of formidable intellectual range animated by curiosity moral vision and faith in the power of direct action This is not a book This is an intellectual feast Nassim Nicholas Taleb The most profound and exciting book I've read in thirty years Robin D G Kelley

The Third Chimpanzee Jared M. Diamond, 2006-01-03 The Development of an Extraordinary Species We human beings share 98 percent of our genes with chimpanzees Yet humans are the dominant species on the planet having founded civilizations and religions developed intricate and diverse forms of communication learned science built cities and created breathtaking works of art while chimps remain animals concerned primarily with the basic necessities of survival What is it about that two percent difference in DNA that has created such a divergence between evolutionary cousins In this fascinating provocative passionate funny endlessly entertaining work renowned Pulitzer Prize winning author and scientist Jared Diamond explores how the extraordinary human animal in a remarkably short time developed the capacity to rule the world and the means to irrevocably destroy it
