engagement ring with color grade H, VS2 clarity and a value of $36,000. It's absolutely gorgeous, practically flawless, and let's be honest, really big! But what the successful Chicago realtor doesn't have anymore is a husband. After 12 years of marriage, her husband, Paul, a handsome, wealthy attorney has devastated her by breaking up their marriage for Priscilla Sommerfeld, a young, personal trainer, who according to Missy's sassy assistant, J.J., looks more like a Las Vegas stripper than a fitness expert. Not sure what to do with her ring, and with no financial issues to worry about, Missy decides to put it up for sale on Craigslist. The price: 99 cents! The catch: She gets to pick the buyer. In essence, she's looking for the perfect guy, but not for herself. Her hope is to regain faith that good men do exist, and that marriages can last forever. Now referring to herself as "the divorced girl," Missy interviews dozens of young men who are vying for the huge ring. It's a contest that includes outrageous characters, hilarious and sentimental stories, and two finalists, both of whom Missy adores and who she must choose between. Then there's Parker Missoni, the sexiest contestant by far, who drives her crazy with his brutal honesty, and at the same time stops her heart with his deep brown eyes. Divorced Girl Smiling is the story of a woman's journey to do whatever it takes to heal herself from divorce. It's about acceptance, reflection, taking accountability for mistakes, and appreciating all of life's wonderful gifts. In other words, if you have the guts to put the past behind, admit your mistakes, embrace your future, and give love another chance, you will surely be a divorced girl smiling.

2014-09-24 If you are looking for how to get laid on the first date, that's easy, take her to a bar, get her drinking, but not to the point of throwing up. After she's pretty intoxicated, giggling at everything you say, try a few advances, touching her arm, or shoulder, and see if she responds. Dance with her, and do a little grinding, and see if she grinds back. If the answers to these are yes, then offer her, since she can't drive, to come back to your place. Once she's at your place, continue with just a little more alcohol for the nerves. Don't mix alcohol. If she was doing shots at the bar, don't give her beer or wine coolers at your place, or she'll be spending the night with your toilet, not you. Give her just a few more shots, and then do the final move with a kiss. The kiss will tell it all. If she pushes you away, and doesn't take your advances, don't get discouraged, you still have a chance. Offer her to put a movie on, get a pillow and a blanket, if you have a pull out couch, great, or one big enough for you two to snuggle on. If not, let her lay back to watch the movie. Let her put her feet on your lap. I don't know many woman who would turn down a foot massage. Massaging is a great way to lead to sex. After both feet, work your way up to her calves. Hint: use lotion. It makes her feel more like it's a massage, not you just trying to grope her up. If when you get to her calves, and she's still allowing you to massage, continue on, and then get the thighs. I'm pretty sure you know where to go from there.

Get Over Yourself! Patti Novak 2008-12-30 True love doesn't just happen, notes professional matchmaker Patti Novak. You have to work for it—and want it. Forget eight-minute speed dates or online dating sites with twenty-page questionnaires that promise a scientifically calculated perfect match. The fact that you both like golf, stamp collecting, and pizza with anchovies is great, but it won't mean a thing if you don't feel that zing. But before there can be sparks, there have to be dates. And before the first date, you need to get over yourself! Taking a tough-love approach, and in her signature straight-shooting style, Patti will show you how to fix what needs to be fixed, reach your core, and identify who you are and what you want in a partner. She uses a three-part common-sense formula: • Getting Over What? Assess your dating weaknesses, recognize what's not working, and adjust your expectations. Delve into your personal history and past relationships, and pinpoint the issues that have been holding you back. • Almost Over It Fine-tune your attitude, your look, and your behavior to maximize your dating chances. Novak lays out strategies to help you deal with the brutal dating monsters you find along the way. • Over It Learn the do's and don'ts of the first date, the second date, and beyond. Remember, it's not a job interview or therapy session. Pretend you're meeting a new friend, not a prospective husband or wife. Finding your one and only isn't about having the right shoes or a flat stomach. It's about being true to yourself, being vulnerable, and being ready for love. Whether you're new to the dating scene, divorced and looking, or just trying to reach that second date, Get Over Yourself! will help you get the love you've always wanted and deserve.

Conversational Style Deborah Tannen 2005-07-21 This revised edition of Deborah Tannen's first discourse analysis book, Conversational Style--first published in 1984--presents an approach to analyzing conversation that later became the hallmark and foundation of her extensive body of work in discourse analysis, including the monograph Talking Voices, as well as her well-known popular books You Just Don't Understand, That's Not What I Meant!, and Talking from 9 to 5, among others. Carefully examining the discourse of six speakers over the course of a two-and-a-half hour Thanksgiving dinner conversation, Tannen analyzes the features that make up the speakers' conversational styles, and in particular how aspects of what she calls a 'high-involvement style' have a positive effect when used with others who share the style, but a negative effect with those whose styles differ. This revised edition includes a new preface and an afterword in which Tannen discusses the book's place in the evolution of her work. Conversational Style is written in an accessible and non-technical style that should appeal to scholars and students of discourse analysis (in fields like linguistics, anthropology, communication, sociology, and psychology) as well as general readers fascinated by Tannen's popular work. This book is an ideal text for use in introductory classes in linguistics and discourse analysis.

The Guyde Howie Reith 2016-11-19 The Guyde is the most comprehensive men's dating and self-improvement book ever written, designed to be everything you need to transform into the most confident version of yourself. There are no lines or routines; instead you'll find exercises and information to improve your self-esteem, social skills, and other elements integral to social success. Everything in these pages is backed with scientific evidence, and when I say scientific evidence, I mean cited peer-reviewed literature, not pop evolutionary psychology or the "law of attraction." You won't be reading anecdotes telling you about my "successes" or opinions; you'll be learning the practical steps necessary for the specific changes you want to manifest in your life. The Guyde is divided into four sections: Part I - Psychology Part I focuses on the internal elements of social interaction. How do you overcome your toxic self-limiting beliefs that keep you from being authentic with people? How do you overcome your fears? How can you stay motivated to make your changes? You will learn clinically effective approaches to all of these and more. Part II - Social Skills For many men, the biggest barrier between themselves and social success is a lack of social skills and awareness. In Part II, you'll learn how to shore up this weakness. You will learn how to listen, banter, share stories, and assert yourself with others. You'll learn how to improve your body language and vocal tonality to project confidence and charisma. Part III - Physical Attractiveness Part III will teach you how to improve your physical features. The first two chapters detail the most clinically effective approaches to diet and exercise. We'll also discuss the basics of fashion and how to dress to impress. Master Part III, and when you go out, you will turn heads. Part IV - Dating The final portion of The Guyde deals with dating, in this version, in a heterosexual male context. You'll learn the best places to meet potential dates, how to flirt, and how to ask someone out. You'll learn how to plan brag-worthy romantic evenings and how to address problems like rude cancellations and "ghosting." You'll learn how to interact physically while being sensitive to your date's wishes, as well as how to perform better in bed. You'll learn why relationships fail and how to avoid the pitfalls most couples fall into, and you'll come to understand a bit about what it's like to date from a woman's perspective, including many of the cultural factors they face that most men don't understand. The Guyde is a labor of love. I wrote it to be everything I wish I'd known when I was younger, the sorts of things that turned my life around for the better. I hope it does the same for you.

The Whispers of the Streets J. Earl Loving Jr. 2009-02-19
FROM CHAPTER 1. THE PROMISE ... Even the very sun who had been his friend back in Georgia now seemed to hate him. It proved it by shooting its hot, angry breath through his bedroom window of this place, these stinking projects, this prison, this hell with his newly found mama, Dora. Hurt, brokenhearted, and disgusted, he slammed his eyes shut! His eyes were shut so tight that only a solitary shattered tear was able to get through. Yes, thirteen-year-old Chris could not think of one reason to open his eyes in this place, this big, stinking city, this hell. He knew that this would just be another day of boredom, dread and despair in this place where he was now forced to live. In this hell, there was no rooster to nobly announce the beginning of a brand-new day! There were no chicks and chickens clucking loudly and no ducks honking. Here there were no grunts of the hogs and pigs impatiently waiting for him to feed and water them. He smiled as he thought of the old dog restlessly waiting for him to get to pet, water, and feed. God knows that he had never fully appreciated life in the country until he was forced to live in this place, this hell, this city! Another solitary tear flowed gently down his light cream and coffee complexioned cheek as he reminded himself again that his grandmother was dead and gone forever. Never again would his grandmother be there for him making coffee, baking biscuits, cooking grits, frying bacon, ham, and eggs! No one was there to hug him asking how he had slept, and no one to say morning prayers with before completing his morning chores. He missed singing All is Well with MY SOUL for his grandmother before he merrily went out into the happy Georgia fresh air and sunshine. He could not figure out what these people did as they just seemed to just hang around waiting. In their windows, on their steps, and on the corners, they waited. Like the crows and the vultures back home, they waited. They waited for the mailman, the dope man, the police, and the ambulance. Except the man next door, they did not even sweep their fronts and trash was everywhere. These people unwrapped their food, their candy, their cigarettes and stuff, and threw the wrappers on the ground. There was so much trash on the ground that it looked like some strange crops growing. Once he saw some men in bright yellow uniforms sweeping the stuff up. But soon like the weeds back home, the trash returned, seemingly all by itself. Although, Dora never asked as she really did not care, Chris took pride in sweeping both the front and back of the low rise development in which they lived. He hoped that she would notice and tell him how proud she was of him for doing it. She kept the inside very clean, but she did not live outside. So, that was that. She was a very happy, amusing, and a witty woman when her friends were around. She really put it on if her guest was a man! However, when it came to Chris, she made it quite clear that he was on his own. EXCERPT: CHAPTER 6. HOPE ... But we loved that old ROOSEVELT and when he signed that Order 8802 a whole bunch of us got in the service. But you see I didn't trust them too much, and there was a lot of money to be made with all the work that the war caused. We were living the life with a lot more money than we knew what to do with at the time. I just met this old girl that came up here from New Orleans, because, well, I thought that she was dirt poor and came up to make some money and find a husband. She was the prettiest thing that we ever seen around here, and we started courting almost as soon as she got off the bus ( he chuckled to himself). Her name was Antoinette. She had the softest light real near white skin that I had ever seen even on white folks, long Black shining hair, and a very pretty smile, you see. She loved to laugh, and I did as much as I could to make her laugh. If she wanted a clown, I sure damned was going to be one. She always spoke in a near whisper in that half French way that they speak down there in the French Quarter down there, and sometimes we didn't know what the hell she was talking about. But she was so damned pretty that I really didn't care since she was my girl. Hell, after a couple of weeks of being together, she started talking that talk to me and whatever she was saying sounded so good to me that I was agreeing all over myself! She got so excited that we didn't go to see the show like we was suppose to and spent the night together. We made good music that night, if you know what I mean? That was the summer of forty-three, and I was so happy that I didn't know what to do with myself. The next morning she told me that she had to send her Mama a telegram to let her know that we was coming down so she could meet me and show me off to her family. That's when I realized that the woman was talking about marriage! Well, I tell you that I was scared to death, because I never thought about marrying her or anybody else at the time, you see! But she was such a pretty thing that I said to myself BOY, AS UGLY AS YOU ARE, YOU AIN't GOING TO DO MUCH BETTER.
