Management of Headache and Headache Medications - Lawrence D. Robbins 2012-12-06

The art of treating headache patients is a complex one, and there are a myriad of medication possibilities. Dr. Robbins has managed to present a clear and practical approach to headache medicines. He brings us through standard first line therapies into more complex "end of the line" medication treatments. This book presents a cohesive, single-authored approach that is unique. Illustrative case histories and "Quick Reference Guides" are extremely useful, and Dr. Robbins has inserted thousands of practical tips on headache management, advice that is impossible to find in other sources. Preventive and abortive medication for migraine, tension, and cluster headache are completely discussed. Hormonal aspects, such as treatment of menstrual and menopausal headache, are presented at length. There is an extensive section on children's headaches, and a separate discussion on headache in adolescents. These sections present a very clear and effective approach to headache management in children and adolescents. Dr. Robbins effectively tackles such important subjects as post-traumatic headache, lumbar

Chronic Pain - Dawn Marcus 2007-11-06

Patients with chronic pain present a unique set of challenges to the primary care clinician. In Chronic Pain: A Primary Care Guide to Practical Management, leading pain specialist Dawn A. Marcus, MD, offers practical, clear, and succinct evidence-based approaches to the diagnosis and treatment of the myriad of painful conditions clinicians see in their offices every day, such as headache, back pain, arthritis, fibromyalgia, and abdominal pain. Using an engaging case-based approach, the author simplifies the often complex care of patients with chronic pain by providing practical strategies for targeting important symptoms, establishing realistic treatment goals, and efficiently and effectively managing patients. Clinic-friendly instructional sheets (questionnaires, diaries, and chart documentation tools) can be copied directly from the book and used for both education and the monitoring of therapeutic compliance and response. Importantly, Dr. Marcus offers all of these practical applications in the context of the busy office practice. The author also presents invaluable guidelines for prescribing medications and nonmedicative therapies, and provides descriptions, illustrations, and diagnostic criteria to help identify specific, commonly occurring syndromes that produce chronic pain. Additional features include sections on opioid therapy and on chronic pain in special patient groups such as children and adolescents, pregnant women, and geriatrics. Also included is a value-added compact disk containing a companion ebook version of the book for downloading and use in the reader's computer or PDA, and continuing medical education (CME) questions that provide the opportunity to acquire 5 AMA/PRA category 1 CME credits from the American Society of Contemporary Medicine and Surgery. Comprehensive and case-oriented, Chronic Pain: A Primary Care Guide to Practical Management offers busy health care providers a practice-friendly approach to assessing and managing the often complex and time-consuming problems of chronic pain.

book's clinical topics. The clinical scenarios all concern members of the Nelson family- a multigenerational extended family whose members visit the family physician with a variety of health concerns and whose dynamics evolve from chapter to chapter. The discussion questions allow the group to consider both the biomedical and psychosocial aspects of problems such as headache, obstructive airway disease, diabetes mellitus, athletic injuries, domestic violence, care of the dying patient, and the family physicians's role in dealing with terrorist events. The book is intended to be a reference source for the care of diseases family physicians are likely to see and as the course textbook for medical students in family medicine clerkships in medical school. The Nine Month Pregnancy Diary - Olessia Medvedeff 2017-11-15

THE FIRST MONTH MOM: The fertilized egg implants itself in your uterus wall. You'll be suffering from nausea, vomiting, mood fluctuations, spotting, breast tenderness and fatigue. BABY: the egg continues to grow and differentiate. The yolk sac will supply the embryo with nourishment. The embryo produces the human chorionic gonadotrophin (hCG) hormone. DO: Take a prenatal vitamin containing folic acid, eat more fruits, vegetables and protein and drink 2L of water daily. DON'T: refrain from eating raw or undercooked meat or eggs. Avoid alcohol, drugs, radiation, and smoking. THE SECOND MONTH MOM: Your uterus continues to expand while hormone levels increase daily. The volume of blood in your circulation increases. Symptoms of dizziness, nausea, vomiting, fatigue, frequent urination and mood swings continue. BABY: many cells are being formed and differentiated into major organs. The most important milestone this month is the beginning of the heartbeat, the limb buds and facial features begin to take shape. DO: Have a balanced diet and engage in some mild form of exercise. DON'T: go more than 2 to 3 hours without eating. Avoid caffeinated beverages. THIRD MONTH MOM: Expect to have gained some weight. Your energy levels will improve, but you'll have feelings of dizziness occasionally along with constipation and hemorrhoids. BABY: Your baby begins to move its limbs around the 10th week. Its genitals begin to form. The baby's heart beats around 135 beats per minute, and he will begin to form urine and starts exchanging waste products with the placenta. DO: get plenty of rest and maintain good personal hygiene. DON'T: lift heavy objects. Skip the oil and spicy food. THE FOURTH MONTH MOM: You'll experience heartburn, indigestion, and constipation. The breast discomfort and darkening of the areola will continue too. BABY: The fetus will have transparent skin covered with Lanugo. The upper portion of baby's mouth is formed, and he will start to react to external stimuli. DO: take extra caution while performing daily tasks. Make a habit of sleeping on your left side for better circulation to the baby. DON'T: eat raw meat or any food containing raw eggs. THE FIFTH MONTH MOM: Your breasts will produce colostrum, the first milk. The growing baby will exert pressure on your back. Some women may experience cramping, called Braxton Hicks contractions. BABY: You'll begin to feel baby's movements. His major internal organs are maturing, and fat is being deposited beneath the skin. Baby's bone marrow produces red blood cells, and his skin will be covered by a substance called Vernix. DO: Continue your daily exercise routine and learn some breathing techniques. DON'T: stand for long periods of time. Practice safe sex to avoid contracting STDs

THE SIXTH MONTH MOM: You'll feel out of breath as your uterus rises. The baby's kick and jerks will be very profound. Avoid sharp movements as you may strain the ligaments in your uterus. The strain of carrying all that extra weight may cause a backache. BABY: The first stool, called Meconium is developing. Your baby may be able to recognize your voice. His lungs begin to produce surfactant and the baby's spinal structures, and his brain cells are maturing. DO: track the baby's kicks. Maintain correct posture to minimize the back pain. DON'T: ignore the symptoms of pregnancy-induced hypertension: abdomen pain, headache. It is not all you got to read in this book. You will have a variety of information about the mother as well as the baby. In addition, this book supplies you with extraordinary information regarding what you can do and what you can't do during pregnancy.

Maternal-Fetal Evidence Based Guidelines, Second Edition - Vincenzo Berghella 2011-11-15

Sleep and Clocks in Aging and Longevity - Anita Jagota 2023-03-06

This edited volume focuses on the interplay between sleep and circadian rhythms with health, aging and longevity. Sleep is absolutely important for human health and survival, as insufficient sleep is associated with a plethora of conditions, including the poor quality of life, onset of several diseases, and premature death. The sleep-wake cycle is an evolutionary conserved neurobiological phenomenon, and is a prominent manifestation of the biological clocks localised in the suprachiasmatic nucleus (SCN). Understanding bidirectional relationship between sleep and circadian rhythms is of utmost importance and urgency, especially in the context of modern lifestyle where sleep is often out of phase with the internal body clocks, social jetlag, artificial lights and so on. The 25 chapters by leading researchers and experts from 11 countries are arranged into seven sections: understanding sleep and clock interlink in health and longevity; sleep, aging and longevity; clock, aging and longevity; melatonin, sleep and clock; genetic regulation of sleep and clock; therapeutic interventions in sleep disorders and clock misalignment; and experimental models to study sleep and clocks in

Traditional Counselling - Hector Chiboola

Traditional counselling is an under-researched field, with inadequate scholarly documentation on the approaches, procedures and process outcomes that should motivate researchers, counselling psychologists and educationists to tap from the abundant uncharted waters. This book represents a major step towards narrowing these gaps. Its main contribution is the articulation of a theoretical framework of traditional counselling, the delineation of traditional counselling approaches and processes, and the clarification of the scope of problems apparent in the sphere of traditional counselling. Traditional counselling is rooted in traditional systems of knowledge and sociocultural values, customs and practices, is essentially community-based and multicultural in nature, and promotes a collective inclination to problem identification, resolution and management. This underscores the importance, relevance and usefulness of traditional counselling from an African perspective. The book is a thought-provoking investigation on counselling models.
