Camilla's mother seems to know more than she leads on but doesn't want to tell Camilla anything. Extine Extine is the Queen of Escana, a kingdom which she hides from the world with the power in her eyes. The problem is neither of her children are of age just yet when the queen begins to feel her powers slipping. With the kingdom at risk from being revealed to the world, the queen must turn to dark magic to reclaim her stolen eyes, no matter the cost.

With a backdrop of war and peace, this book will take you from the 1920s through the 1970s. In the middle of the Great Depression and the rebirth of a nation, the love story of Florence and Frank unfolds and carries the reader with it in both America and Europe. Follow Florence as she goes from the child sold to a plantation owner in the South as a house servant to become the colonel's wife and form her own life. Throughout her life, the music and changing times altered her and all those around her. During this one lifetime, the world experienced changes that would take music from big band to rock and roll and the information age from newspaper to the nightly news watched on a television set in your own home. This book shows the amazement of the world and the growth of one woman and all the world to a place no one thought could be possible. Enjoy, and thank you for reading.

And Her Eyes Were Stolen - Angela Coleman 2007-09

Even as a child growing up in rural Mississippi, Mary knew that she was different. She didn't look like her father or her little sister, Susie. As if bearing some grudge of her own, Mary's mother treats Mary differently too, always blaming her for every little thing and allowing her husband to verbally abuse her and punish her wrongfully. If it weren't for the support and love of her teacher and the kindly bus driver Mr. Gene, Mary would no doubt have been overwhelmed by her sad home life. But when one of her teachers learns that Mary has a talent for poetry and writing she nurtures the child's talent. Even though Mary has setbacks, her teacher keeps her working and writing and, most of all, believing in herself. When nearing the end of high school, Mary meets a rich boy named Jonathan, whose family is eminent. It is her mother who encourages her to get serious. But the boy's mother has other plans for her son, including the family law firm, and she manages to break them up. Mary's talent wins her a scholarship and with the help of some loving neighbors she gets enough aid to attend the famous University of Iowa Writing course. At Iowa, lo and behold she meets up again with Jonathan, who has bucked his family's wishes and is living his own life, which guided him to Iowa too. After a rough start and some misunderstanding the two get together, marry and Mary embarks on a successful song writing career in conjunction with her best friend and songstress, Missy.

Mercy in Her Eyes - John Kenneth Muir 2006 (Applause Books). This the first book to examine the films of the acclaimed and popular Indian-born and Harvard educated filmmaker, Mira Nair. A unique voice in cinema today, she is one of the few female directors who made it to the top of a male-dominated profession. Her films feature an incomparably sensuous visual style yet at the same time often record the injustice of the disenfranchised and the cross-pollination of East and West. Her twin themes of realism and romance make for dazzling cinema. John Kenneth Muir analyzes all of Nair's work, including: Salaam Bombay! (1988), the groundbreaking story of a young boy abandoned by his family on the streets of Bombay; Mississippi Masala (1991), an interracial small town romance between an Indian woman (Sarita Choudhury) and an African American businessman (Denzel Washington); Monsoon Wedding (2001), featuring a Bollywood carnival atmosphere, one of the most successful foreign films ever released in the United States; Hysterical Blindness (2002), the HBO film featuring Uma Thurman and Juliette Lewis, looking for love in all the wrong places; The big-budget Hollywood adaptation of the Thackery novel Vanity Fair (2004), starring Reese Witherspoon, Gabriel Byrne, and Eileen Atkins.

Jane Eyre - Charlotte Brontë 1943

In early nineteenth-century England, an orphaned young woman accepts employment as a governess and soon finds herself in love with her employer who has a terrible secret.

Close Her Eyes - Lisa Regan 2023-05-03

The young woman lay among the rocks next to the creek like a broken doll, strands of her long dark hair covering her face. Her body was the kind of cold that only the dead can be... A body lies beside Kettlewell Creek, the waters rushing and churning next to her broken form. When Detective Josie Quinn arrives at the scene, she finds few clues and a victim with no enemies.

Nineteen-year-old Sharon Eddy was cherished by her beloved grandmother, who raised her, and her death shocks the Denton community where she worked at the local animal hospital. When Josie is called to the morgue to hear the results of Sharon's autopsy, the case takes a sinister turn. She is horrified to see that a mark has been burned on to Sharon's left hip with a cattle brand: a horseshoe shot through with an arrow. Shaken and terrified, the usually cool and collected Medical Examiner Anya Feist lifts her own top to show Josie an identical mark. Ten years ago, Anya fled her hometown after her marriage to her high school sweetheart ended in terror. But Josie can find nothing to connect Anya's ex-husband Vance Hadlee to the murder. Her search of his family farm leads to more questions than answers. Then another body is found. A young woman in a red coat, lying in her final resting place, her hip bearing the same tell-tale horseshoe mark. As Josie gets closer to finding the truth, the killer creeps ever closer to home, threatening the lives of those Josie loves the most. Can she put together the pieces of this terrifying puzzle before it's too late? A completely unputdownable crime thriller from an Amazon, USA Today and Wall Street Journal bestselling author.
