The Black Wife Confidential - B. Nicole Smith 2023-06-03

The founder of the new wives' club, The FUPAs, finds out the hard way what's done in the dark will always come to light. Mrs. Felice Fee-Fee Fontenot is a potty-mouthed, self-proclaimed Christian fighting a daily mental battle—a creaky pendulum swinging between God-given virtuosity and society-pegged bitchiness. Freshly diagnosed as bipolar and pushed to the edge of sanity by her unsupportive marriage, Fee-Fee concocts the brilliant idea of starting a wives' support group, consisting of five friends that are facing the same mound of problems and hoping to salvage the crumbs of their failed romantic unions. In an effort to collectively resolve their marital woes, Felice solicits the help of her bougie best friend and social media maven, Mrs. Tabatha Upton, who has crafted a picture-perfect life one post at a time for her million-plus followers. Together, they cultivate a network of frenemies: Dr. Shelly Chambers, former college classmate, highly sought-after Houston divorce attorney, and uber-abrasive, narcissistic Nigerian queen; Mrs. Erin Randle, a hypersexual and unfaithful man devourer; Ms. Kennedy

Kenerson, an over-compromising, bottom-of-the-barrel, self-esteemed wife turned mistress; and lastly, Mrs. Jocelyn Beesly, an uncouth country bumpkin with a weakness for worthless men. All were somehow tainted by the remnants of childhood trauma, which unknowingly caused them to project their unhealed inner children with their fractured thoughts and fragile hearts into their partnerships. Yet when an old flame is rekindled, a secret life is revealed, a scorned lover desires more, and a lovechild resurfaces—all before the first FUPA meeting is even called to order, the women soon realize that what started as a wives' club was quickly turning into a flammable consortium of sorts that would lead to revelations that could cost them their friendships, the marriages they were desperate to save, and something far, far worse...their freedom!

Sobremesa - Josephine Caminos Oría 2021-05-04

"Sobremesa reads like a cross between magical realism and the food section of the New York Times. Delicioso!" —Beth Ostrosky-Stern, New York Times Bestselling Author If food is the universal language of love, sobremesa is the romance. Gather around the table with C-level career woman turned foodpreneur, Josephine Caminos Oría, as she cooks up a magical tale, told morsel by morsel, of some of her most memorable tableside chats—sobremesaa—that provided the first-generation Argentine-American the courage to leave the safe life she knew and start over from scratch. In her coming-of-age adventure, Josephine travels to her family's homeland of Argentina in search of belonging—to family, to country, to a love, and ultimately, to oneself. Steeped in the lure of Latin culture, she pieces together her mom and abuela's pasts, along with the nourishing dishes—delectably and spiritually—that formed their kitchen arsenal. But Josephine's travels from las pampas to the prairie aren't easy or conventional. She grapples with mystical encounters with the spirit world that lead her to discover a part of herself that, like sobremesa, had been lost in translation. Just as she's ready to give up on love all together, Josephine's own heart surprises her by surrendering to a forbidden, transcontinental tryst with the Argentine man of her dreams. To stay together, she must make a difficult choice: return to the safe life she knows in the States, or follow her heart and craft a completely different kind of future for herself—one she never saw coming. This otherworldly, multigenerational story of a daughter's love and familial culinary legacy serves up, in 13 courses, the timeless traditions that help Josephine navigate transformational love and loss. It's a reminder that that home really is anywhere the heart is. Sobremesa invites you to linger at the table, reveal your own hidden truths and savor the healing embrace of time-honored food and the wisdom it espouses. Foreword by Sofía Pescarmona, CEO and Owner, Lagarde Winery

Adult Conversation - Brandy Ferner 2020-05-05

April is a thoughtful yet sarcastic mother of two who tries her best to be a caring, connected mom in a middle-class culture where motherhood has become relentless. April rages at modern motherhood's impossible pressures, her husband's "Dad privilege," and her kids' incessant snack requests. She wants to enjoy motherhood, but her idealist vision and lived experience are in constant conflict with one another. Is she broken—or is motherhood? Desperate for an answer, she seeks out a therapist, and lands with an unexpected woman whose validation and wisdom gives April the clarity to reclaim herself and even start designing clothes—her pre-motherhood passion. But when the ever-elusive babysitter cancels last-minute, April finds herself back at square one. She seeks guidance, but her therapist is now dealing with her own crumbling marriage—and instead of counseling April, she convinces her to speed off to Las Vegas with her to help catch her husband cheating. With a little weed, alcohol, and topless pool hopping, plus a male stripper and some much-needed autonomy, the two find lost pieces of themselves that motherhood swallowed up. But neither one is prepared for how tested—and tempted—they will be, or for the life-altering choices their journey will force them to make. Who is guiding whom anymore?

The Power of Parent-Child Conversations - Jeff Zwiars 2021-06-15

This book focuses on how parents and other caregivers can have richer and more fruitful conversations with their children. Parents will be able to use the ideas in this book to improve conversations with their children in ways that help them (a) more effectively learn in school, (b) develop stronger and more lasting relationships in and out of school, and (c) increase their critical thinking and problem-solving abilities. Some children are more prepared for school than others. Much of this preparation comes from the types of conversations that children have and listen to at home. Many children need more practice in developing and using key conversation skills that are expected in school and life. They need more practice co-constructing ideas with other people, face to face, and they need more practice engaging in respectful collaboration and argumentation. This book helps parents to provide such practice.

You still like to play, but you also enjoy having long conversations with friends. You sometimes want to cuddle on your mom's lap, and other times you wish she would just leave you alone. All that's pretty normal, and you'll see that from the questions we're answering.

For those who are beginners to concepts like mindfulness, meditation, opposite action, positive rebellion, positive affirmations and radical acceptance, this book will provide a useful and comprehensive introduction. For those struggling from the trauma of emotionally abusive relationships, this book will guide you in recognizing the signs of abuse, creating a reverse discourse that challenges ruminations over the abuse, moving forward successfully after a break-up using no contact, and techniques on coping with trauma in constructive and meaningful ways. Each chapter of this book also provides a list of supplemental resources as well as a recommended reading list to guide you on this journey to greater self-love and self-care. Although this book is intended for everyone, its target audience is young women who are socialized to believe that their needs and wants don't matter and that their relationships with others are much more important than the relationship they have with themselves. Soul Thang - Lisa R. Dennis 2022-06-16

This soul stirring, heart moving gospel story is about a young adult lady who has a real resilient and passionate love for God and a deep-seated love for her childhood friends that lived in her neighborhood and that she went to school with to be saved from the evil temptations and the luring devices of this world system and pursue a life of promoting good and upholding righteousness through God's grace and love. In one of the scenes there are Some Churchgoers who are gathered around the front of the church just before the services starts. Only with itching ears can you wait to hear what they have to say. It's a soul culture. Another scene Friends (very special) who grew up together, and now years later are talking on the telephone about old times. They fell in love and then grew apart, but the love never faded. One has become very successful but has an emptiness inside searching for real love. Deep inside, it's hard for him to love or trust anyone. So, he calls a friend who was a beauty queen, wore the latest styles and had a new boy toy every week. She learned over the years to put up a good front, but secretly, she was trying to find a true relationship with God. She was trying to hide her emptiness until she gave her life to God and filled all the empty spaces. The result of "Soul Thang" is when prayer and faith work together souls are reached. This is what true victory looks like especially when it comes from a message of hope.
