The Reader Bernhard Schlink 2011-09-01 An exceptionally powerful novel exploring the themes of betrayal, guilt and memory against the background of the Holocaust. An international bestseller. For 15-year-old Michael Berg, a chance meeting with an older woman leads to far more than he ever imagined. The woman in question is Hanna, and before long they embark on a passionate, clandestine love affair which leaves Michael both euphoric and confused. For Hanna is not all she seems. Years later, as a law student observing a trial in Germany, Michael is shocked to realize that the person in the dock is Hanna. The woman he had loved is a criminal. Much about her behaviour during the trial does not make sense. But then suddenly, and terribly, it does - Hanna is not only obliged to answer for a horrible crime, she is also desperately concealing an even deeper secret. 'A tender, horrifying novel that shows blazingly well how the Holocaust should be dealt with in fiction. A thriller, a love story and a deeply moving examination of a German conscience' INDEPENDENT Women's Rights Law Reporter 1997

The Redemption of Love Carrie A. Miles 2006-04-01 Competing answers to dilemmas involving love, sex, marriage, and family scream to us from nearly everywhere. The Redemption of Love reveals what the Bible has to say about these issues by applying the growing economic study of religion. Using Genesis, Jesus, Paul, and the Song of Songs, Carrie Miles outlines a consistent description of biblical love throughout Scripture, asserting that it is the only effective solution in today's battle to save marriage and family. This book is a valuable tool for clergy and laypeople.

The Social Organisation and Customary Law of the Toba-Batak of Northern Sumatra J.C. Vergouwen 2013-11-11 J. c. Vergouwen's work, Het Rechtsleven der T'oba-Bataks, here presented in an English translation, was published in the autumn of 1933, a few weeks before the author's death at the early age of 44 from tuberculosis, from which he had suffered since 1930. During the time he spent in a sanatorium in Davos and later in the Netherlands, he began and completed his monograph on the customary law of the Toba-Batak. His book immediately became one of the outstanding works of Dutch scholarship on Indonesian customary law (Adat law). Jacob Cornelis Vergouwen began his career as an administrative officer in South Borneo (now Kalimantan) in 1913, after a brief practical training. In 1921 he was given the opportunity for further study at the University of Leiden where a five-year scientific training for a career as an administrative officer in the Dutch East Indies had just been instituted. On obtaining his Master's degree, he was appointed to the Tapanuli Residency, from of old, the homeland of the Toba, Mandailing, Angkola, and Dairi or Pakpak Batak. As a young official, Vergouwen had already evinced great interest in the laws and customs of the Dayak people in Borneo. His studies at the University brought him into close contact with the founder of the science of Indonesian Adat law, Professor Cornelis van Vollenhoven, one of the greatest Dutch jurists of this century.

Law and Protestantism John Witte 2002-05-16 This book investigates the relationship between the law and religious ideology in Luther's Germany.

Is it Socially Acceptable for an Older Woman to be in a Relationship With a Younger Man? TJ Clemons There are so many older men with young girls out there. This has been socially accepted for a long time. Mature women with younger men need the world to know that these type of relationship exist and flourish for many years. Even though some people look at a younger man with an older women in couples like it's a crime or it is in some way offensive. Anybody over the legal age of 18 has the right to be with any person that they have romantic feeling for. Society often discriminates against these unconventional unions. People seem to be judgmental and label the female companion in the relationship as a Sugar Mama. Beauty, love, and attraction is determined by the individuals that choose to enter into a romantic engagement. But still today there is a double standard. Older men are encouraged to trade in their aging brides for a trophy younger and beautiful female companionship. It is so common in privileged and wealthy circles that nobody really notices or points out a discrepancy. Mature women are expected to focus on their grand children and hobbies rather than their sexual needs and desires. After the age of 60 they are considered dried up and out to pasture. But based on the individual it may be time to explore ones sexual fantasies after years of domestic duties and responsibilities. And they may consider exploring their options with a young virile male counterpart without the pressure of getting pregnant or having to play the role of a nurturer. Those facts alone create the perfect storm of eroticism and sexual exploration. It is now time to get your groove back. Now that you are no longer with your significant other due to divorce, separation, or in some cases death. But that can often be more difficult than it has to be based on how you are going to be viewed in the public's eyes. Now let us examine this topic from various points of perception. Myself personally I am attracted to younger and older women. My only turnoff when it comes to getting involved with a more mature woman is if I view her as a grandmother type. Meaning if she only talks about her grandkids and can't separate her love life from her family life. Seeing her as only a granny just doesn't inspire sensual thoughts and feelings. There is nothing wrong with being a mother or a grandmother but from a relationship point of vision I want to be with someone who has a young spirit. When it is time for family events and interactions that is a more appropriate the time and place to be a granny. There is nothing like a mature sexy woman who has her confidence and the sexual energy of a prowling cougar ready to purr and pounce at a moments notice. Every man has an attraction to at least one older woman that he would entertain and enjoy sexually if given the chance. With all this being said let us begin our journey into the universe of cougars and their playful cubs. Is it love or financial dependence? Is it any of our business at all? Of course it is. If you come outside in America expect for all eyes to be on you at all times. That is just how it is so continue to live your life with that understanding and expectation.

where elders wisely use their moral authority and their control over valuable property to assure that they receive both physical and spiritual care when they need it. The care work that grandparents do for grandchildren allows labor migration and contributes to the overall well-being of the extended family. The book considers the efforts migrant workers make to build and buy houses and the ways those rooms and walls constrain social activities. It outlines the strategies elders employ to age in place, and the alternatives they face in local old folks' homes. Based on ethnographic work done over a decade, Michele Gamburd shows how elders face the challenges of a rapidly globalizing world.

Romance in Post-Socialist Chinese Television Huike Wen 2020-07-13 This book is about how the representations of romantic love in television reflect the change and the dilemma of the dominant values in post-socialist Chinese mainstream culture. These values mainly center on the impact of individualism, consumerism, capitalism, and neoliberalism, often referred to as western culture, on the perception of romantic love and self-realization in China. The book focuses on how romantic love, which plays a vital role in China's ideologically highly restricted social environment by empowering people with individual choice, change, and social mobility, must struggle and compromise with the reality, specifically the values and problems emerging in a transitional China. The book also examines how the representation of romantic love celebrates ideals—individual freedom, passion, and gender equality—and promises changes based on individual diligence and talent while simultaneously obstructing the fulfillment of these ideals.

practices of real life girls from differing social backgrounds throughout the twentieth century while a number of chapters also consider how fictional girls read attention is given to the diverse cultural representations of the girl, or shôjo, who are the objects of the reading desires of Japan's real life and fictional girls. These representations appear in various genres, including prose fiction, such as Yoshiya Nobuko's Flower Stories and Takemoto Nobara's Kamikaze Girls, and manga, such as Yoshida Akimi's The Cherry Orchard. This volume presents the work of pioneering women scholars in the field of girl studies including translations of a ground-breaking essay by Honda Masuko on reading girls and Kawasaki Kenko's response to prejudicial masculine critiques of best-selling novelist, Yoshimoto Banana. Other topics range from the reception of Anne of Green Gables in Japan to girls who write and read male homoerotic narratives.

Reclaimed Powers David Gutmann 1994 A unique feature of human development is that mothers and fathers are bound to a long period of child-rearing, during which the continuity of our species depends on the fulfilment of distinct parental roles and on the suppression of psychological potentials that conflict with those roles. But once the parental emergency is over, the author argues, men and women can assert those parts of their personalities curbed by the restrictions of raising children. It is this shift in roles - a product of evolution found throughout our species - that led David Gutmann to propose a new psychology of ageing, based not on the threat of loss but on the promise of important new pleasures and capacities.

Gender in the Legal Profession Joan Brockman 2001 An analysis of the causes and implications of the gendered structure of the legal profession in Canada and elsewhere. Images in Law William Pencak 2016-05-13 What does 'the law' look like? While numerous attempts have been made to examine law and legal action in terms of its language, little has yet been written that considers how visual images of the law influence its interpretation and execution in ways not discernible from written texts. This groundbreaking collection focuses on images in law, featuring contributions that show and discuss the perception of the legal universe on a theoretical basis or when dealing with visual semiotics (dress, ceremony, technology, etc.). Cross Generational Relationships and Cinema Joel Gwynne 2020-07-21 Depictions of cross generational relationships have always been present in popular cinema. While such relationships have historically operated within the framework of heteronormativity, and have usually explored cross generational romance in the context of older men/younger women, contemporary depictions have expanded to focus also on taboo configurations of love between older women and younger men and cross generational LGBT coupledness. Contemporary depictions have sought to complicate not only heteronormativity in cross generational relationships, but also to navigate the differences between socially acceptable love and transgressive desire. This collection focuses on the changing values and attitudes of cross generational relationships and addresses the often divisive relationship between the discourses of youth and ageing in popular culture.

How to Date a Younger Man Kendall Ryan 2020-07-21 If you accidentally bang your best friend's younger brother, here are a few important tips . . . One: Do not brag to your friend about how well-endowed her brother is. Two: Do not go back for seconds (or thirds). Three: Do not let him see your muffin top or jiggle behind. And definitely don't let him feed you cookies in bed. Cookies are bad. Remember that. Four: Act like a damn grown-up and apologize for riding him like a bull at the rodeo. And do not flirt with him when he laughs at said apology. Five: This one is crucial, so pay attention. Do not, under any circumstances, fall in love with him.
