

Sex And The City 2 Coyote Ugly

Third Party Sex Work and Pimps in the Age of Anti-trafficking Amber Horning 2017-01-03 This volume is a compilation of new original qualitative and ethnographic research on pimps and other third party facilitators of commercial sex from the developed and developing world. From African-American pimps in the United States and Eastern European migrants in Germany to Brazilian cafetões and cafetinas this volume features the lives and voices of the men and women who enable diverse and culturally distinct sex markets around the world. In scholarly, popular, and policy-making discourses, such individuals are typically viewed as larger-than-life hustlers, violent predators, and brutal exploiters. However, there is actually very little empirical research-based knowledge about how pimps and third party facilitators actually live, labor, and make meaning in their everyday lives. Nearly all previous knowledge derives from hearsay and post-hoc reporting from ex-sex-workers, customers, police and government agents, neighbors, and self-aggrandizing fictionalized memoirs. This volume is the first published compilation of empirically researched data and analysis about pimps and third parties working in the sex trade across the globe. Situated in an age of highly punitive and ubiquitous global anti-trafficking law, it challenges highly charged public policy stereotypes that conflate pimping and sex trafficking, in order to understand the lived experience of pimps and the men and women whose work they facilitate.

Toit urbain - Les défis énergétiques et écosystémiques d'un nouveau territoire Collectif 2015-09-24T00:00:00-04:00 Si le paysage urbain des toits constitue une préoccupation naissante au sein de la communauté scientifique, notamment au regard de l'impact écologique qu'entraînent ces étendues imperméabilisées, sa relation à l'énergie et à l'écosystème urbain demeure encore relativement inexplorée. Partant de l'idée que le toit détient un potentiel susceptible de faire émerger une nouvelle culture de l'énergie - tout en offrant des espaces qui proposent une qualité de vie et une qualité paysagère inédite où convergent la nature et l'habitat humain dense -, l'objectif principal de cet ouvrage est de poser les jalons d'une réflexion sur les conséquences du rôle de l'énergie et des écosystèmes sur les formes et les stratégies architecturales et aménagistes du toit. En ce sens, ce manuscrit s'organise en trois parties. La première partie expose des réflexions et prises de position sur la nécessité de mettre sur pied un développement soutenable. La deuxième partie offre un regard architectural et urbanistique sur le toit. La dernière aborde les multiples

En portant un regard plus spécifique sur les cas de Montréal, Paris et Chicago, cet ouvrage fait place à des interventions de praticiens (consultants, fonctionnaires municipaux etc.), de chercheurs, d'architectes, d'étudiants et offre une réflexion interdisciplinaire sur un territoire en devenir que certains nomment " la cinquième façade urbaine ". Cette publication rend compte d'une des étapes du projet de recherche conduit par un collectif international de chercheurs. Day Kenneth Goldsmith 2003 Poetry. "I am spending my 39th year practicing uncreativity. On Friday, September 1, 2000, I began retyping the day's NEW YORK TIMES word for word, letter for letter, from the upper left hand corner to the lower right hand corner, page by page." With these words, Kenneth Goldsmith embarked upon a project which he termed "uncreative writing", that is: uncreativity as a constraint-based process; uncreativity as a creative practice. By typing page upon page, making no distinction between article, editorial and advertisement, disregarding all typographic and graphical treatments, Goldsmith levels the daily newspaper. DAY is a monument to the ephemeral, comprised of yesterday's news, a fleeting moment concretized, captured, then reframed into the discourse of literature. "When I reach 40, I hope to have cleansed myself of all creativity"-Kenneth Goldsmith.
